Dead Hand Of Black Dragon's High Priest To Rule Japanese

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press War Editor
(Formerly an AP Correspondent in Tokyo)

The dead hand of Misuru Toyama, Japan's High Priest of Conquest, will continue to instigate and symbolize the Empire's turbulence.

When he died Wednesday night at 89, he still held Japan's passions in his tired, bony fingers, playing on them like a diabolical virtuoso.

For the past year his title was President-Emeritus of the Infamous Black Dragon Society, fountainhead of the more than 100 fanatical secret societies which were instrumental in precipitating the Pacific war. He supposedly had retired, but the personal power he created through that 43-year-old organization continued.

Unofficial "Emperor"

That power, based on ruthlessness, made him known abroad as Japan's "unofficial emperor." But Toyama slipped into the twilight of his fabulous career as an heroic Robin Hood to the Japanese. Legend gilded him as a man who distributed largesse to the poor, an esthete too tender to kill mosquitoes. His frugal living was imitated widely. His almost saint-like face, framed by a long white beard, dominated Japanese imagination.

He will live on through his rabid followers and the Japanese devotion to the dead. Well-trained lieutenants will enforce his policies.

Toyama ruled a vast, shadowy empire, composed of the 12,000 members of the Black Dragon Society and those of numerous subsidiary secret societies. Some sources estimate the total at 10,000,000 Japanese at home and abroad; all fanatics, all blindly obedient to the leader. Their handiwork is intrigue and espionage abroad; assassinations, bombings and beatings at home.

Murderous Rule

Toyama and his fanatics dreamed of world conquest. They led and bullied the people into each of the country's numerous wars; intimidated or killed opposition statesmen; crushed "threatening" trends from Liberalism to Communism. Perhaps hundreds of statesmen took orders from Toyama.

It was said in recent years that the rumor of his displeasure alone was sufficient to change government policies.

Toyama and the militarists who now rule bludgeoned their way to power together. They were interdependent, their policies were parallel, their goals identical.

He was arrested twice in his twenties, but for the past 69 years he has been free from the threat of imprisonment or police interrogation for crimes that all Japan knew bore his trademark.

Today, he is revered as a hero, because each of his policies was inflicted upon the nation in the guise of serving the throne. He never sought to displace the emperor.

$26,000 ESTATE BEQUEATHED TO THREE PERSONS

Papers in four estates were filed today at the office of Register and Recorder Winfield G. Horner, at the court house.

An application for letters of administration in the estate of the late James W. Barnitz, of New Oxford, who was secretary and treasurer of the Aero Oil company, New Oxford, at the time of his death, was made by his widow, Mrs. Marjorie G. Barnitz. The will bequeathed the entire estate, which was valued at about $18,000 in personal property and $8,000 in real estate, to Mrs. Barnitz and two daughters, Frances M. Barnitz and Mrs. Helen B. DeTar.

Letters of administration and an administration bond was filed by Frank Kimple, Orrtanna R. D., in the estate of the late Henry A. Kimple, of Franklin township.

Other Estates

E. W. Hartman, Cashtown, also filed letters of administration in the estate of the late Robert S. Hahn, Franklin township. Two sisters and one brother of the deceased were named to share in the approximately $2,250 estate.

In the fourth estate, Willis C. Wagner and Alice Roland, Gettysburg R. 4, a son and daughter of the late Michael K. Wagner of Mt. Pleasant township, filed papers as executors of the will. The estate, estimated at about $2,000 was bequeathed to the executors and to another daughter, Eva Koontz.

Killed

S. Sgt. Charles J. Gilland, 23, son of Mrs. Lewis McClain, Fairfield R. 1, who was killed in action in France September 17. Memorial services will be held for Sgt. Gilland Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Wesley Chapel, Fountaindale.

VETERAN LOCAL PASTOR MOVED TO LEMASTERS

Two pastoral changes in Adams county were among those ordered Thursday evening at the annual state conference of the United Brethren church which concluded its sessions this mborning in York.

The Rev. Dr. N. B. S. Thomas, pastor of the Memorial United Brethren and Salem United Brethren churches for the last 11 years, was ordered to the Lemasters charge in Franklin county.

Replacing the Rev. Dr. Thomas here will be the Rev. Harold V. March who comes from Shermansdale.

The Rev. Harry Fehl, Jr., pastor of the Mt. Tabor charge for the last year, has been transferred to Shermansdale.

New Mt. Taber Pastor

The new pastor for the Mt. Tabor charge will be the Rev. Charles R. Miller who has been ordered to the county from Oakville, Cumberland county.

All changes are effective at 9 o'clock this morning and the new pastors will have charge of services in their new pastorates on Sunday.

Dr. Thomas held the longest pastorate of any minister at the local charge. He said today he and his wife and daughter, Mrs. Kenneth D. Kane, whose husband is serving in the Pacific, will move to Lemasters within a few weeks.

WILLIAM G. KUHN EXPIRES TODAY

William G. Kuhn, 90, retired farmer and laborer of Wenksville, died this morning at 8:20 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Starner, Idaville. Infirmities of age caused death. Mr. Kuhn had lived at the Starner home for the last three weeks.

A native of York county, he was a son of the late David and Nancy (Wilson) Kuhn and lived most of his life in upper Adams county. He was twice married and is survived by a total of 198 descendants—nine children, 47 grandchildren and 52 great grandchildren.

His first marriage was to the late Delilah MacBeth and these children from that union survive: Mrs. Asbury Heller, Aspers R. 1; Mrs. Waybright Black, Aspers R. 1; Mrs. Alice Warren, Biglerville R. 1, and William G. Kuhn, Jr., Idaville.

Funeral on Sunday

His second wife was the late Sarah K. Keller and these children survive from that marriage: Mrs. Mary McCauslin, Aspers R. 1; A. Samuel Kuhn and Mrs. Glenn Naylor, both of Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. Paul Starner, at whose home Mr. Kuhn died, and Albert E. Kuhn, Aspers R. 1.

Funeral services from the Starner home Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with further services in the Wenksville Methodist church with the pastor, the Rev. George Harrison, officiating. Interment in the Wenksville cemetery.

Friends may call Saturday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Starner home.

Sgt. Paul L. Smith Concludes Visit Here

First Sgt. Paul L. Smith, of the regular U. S. Army, has concluded a 22-day leave enroute with his mother, Mrs. Mary J. Smith, 321 Baltimore street, and will report to the ASF Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution station, Asheville, N. C., for reassignment.

Sgt. Smith, who has been in foreign service for nearly all of his nine years in the army, spent the last two years somewhere in the Pacific. His recent visit was his first at home in five years.

Concert Dinner

All arrangements are complete for the dinner-meeting of the Gettysburg Concert association tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Hotel Gettysburg to launch the 1944 membership campaign.

Miss Beatrice Patterson, of Columbia Concerts, Inc., will address the gathering and outline details of the drive.

All workers, members of the executive committee and the board of directors of the association will attend tonight's session.

The drive will continue through next Saturday, October 14.

CPL. REINECKER TELLS OF BITTER SAIPAN FIGHTING

Three hours after he dodged shell fire of all kinds to reach the beaches of Saipan, Marine Cpl. George H. Reinecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Z. Reinecker, Aspers R. 1, was wounded by a shell fragment.

Given quick medical treatment on the scene, he later was evacuated to a hospital and now is convalescing at the Naval hospital at Oakland, Calif.

A machine gunner on an amphibian tractor, Corporal Reinecker and his comrades were moving toward the Aslito airfield in the face of a heavy enemy barrage when a shell fragment hit him in the right leg.

"We had a mighty hot time when we got ashore in the vicinity of Charan Kanoa," the Marine said. "The Japs shelled us heavily from their positions up in the hills and there were few places that could be called safe along the beach as we landed."

Fought From All Angles

"It was a little safer, maybe, after we pushed inland but those Japs were fighting with all their chips down. They fought us from pillboxes, caves and wherever else they could hide out.

"Their fanatical counter-attacks early in the battle were really intense. They seemed to have no regard at all for their lives; in fact, they seemed to want to die and take as many Marines with them as they could.

"I fought in the Marshall Islands campaign and on Roi and Namur, but never in all the time I was at any of those places did I see anything compared to what we faced on Saipan."

Former Biglerville Star

A former star athlete at Biglerville high school, Corporal Reinecker is married to the former Miss Kathryn Gulden. He joined the Marines in August, 1942, trained at Parris Island, S. C.; Camp Lejeune, N. C., and Camp Pendleton, Calif., and was with the Fleet Marine Force for 10 months before he joined the amphibious unit with which he was serving when he was wounded.

He is a former employe of the Ray Optical company in Harrisburg. His wife resides in Camp Hill.

1,160 POUNDS OF CLOTHING ARE COLLECTED

At a meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women of Gettysburg Thursday evening in the parochial school basement it was reported that 1,160 pounds of clothing were gathered during the recent campaign for clothing for the needy of Europe.

Mrs. George Groft, chairman of the local committee in charge of collections in Gettysburg, reported there were 1,486 articles donated including 174 outer coats; 197 men's and boys' articles; 696 women's articles; 317 children's articles; 90 pairs of stockings and 12 blankets and bath robes.

The clothing was packed in 35 cartons and sent to headquarters by the following men: C. E. Swisher, John Bachensky and George Groft.

Mrs. Groft today expressed her appreciation for the work of committee members and the "fine response of residents of Gettysburg."

Plan Deanery Meeting

Miss Mary Ramer, president of the council, presided at the meeting. It was reported there are now 185 names of boys and women in the service on the shrine in the church.

Plans were made for a bingo party to be held Tuesday evening, October 17, at 8 o'clock in the social rooms. The committee in charge includes Mrs. George Groft, chairman, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, Mrs. Charles Swisher, Mrs. Charles Pitzer, Mrs. Annie Cunningham, Miss Rose Stock, Mrs. Charles Cool, Mrs. M. J. Flynn, Mrs. George McKenrick and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy.

Plans were completed for chairmen and co-chairmen of standing committees to attend the Deanery meeting at St. Aloysius Catholic church, Littlestown, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Miss Mary Eberhart, deanery president, will preside.

It was decided that in the future meetings of the council will be held the first Thursday evening of each month at 7:30 o'clock.

Just arrived: Cotton Krinkle gowns, sizes 16 and 17. The Smart Shoppe, the Little Shop on Carlisle street.

SEEK CLOTHES FOR EUROPEANS

Mrs. Donald Myers, chairman of the Christian Social Education and Action committee of the Council of Church Women of Gettysburg announced today that the emergency collection of clothing for Europe adopted by the council will begin within the next week.

The council vice presidents, of "key-women" from each of the churches in Gettysburg, will set the dates for collection at their churches and they will be in charge of receiving the donations.

The clothing is to be collected to provide free distribution of usable wearing apparel to the needy men, women and children in the liberated areas of Europe.

All garments except shoes and evening clothes are needed and should be clean when brought to the churches. The committee hopes to have all collections completed before November 3, the day for observance of World Community Day.

In addition to the "key-women" in each of the church congregations, Mrs. Myers or any of her committee members may be contacted. They are Mrs. R. S. Saby, Carlisle street; Mrs. Anna Plank, East Lincoln avenue; Mrs. J. R. Larkin, North Stratton street, and Mrs. Margaret Howard, East High street.

SUV MEETING

Gettysburg camp No. 112, Sons of Union Veterans will hold its first October meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the post home, East Middle street.

ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Mrs. Grover Cluck, 114 West High street, has received word that her son, Pvt. Clarence H. Cluck, has arrived safely in French.

Killed In War

Sgt. Leroy Rentzel, 24, who was killed in action in France September 16, was born at Seven Stars, a son of the late Harvey E. and Jennie (Harner) Rentzel. He attended Arendtsville vocational high school for two years and formerly managed the Richfield service station here. He was inducted July 1, 1942, and trained at Camp Forest, Tennessee, and Camp Phillips, Kansas, before undergoing desert training at Yuma, Arizona. Following maneuvers he attended Gunnery school at Camp Cox, California. He was then transferred to Ft. Dix, N. J., and went overseas last July. He was a member of an infantry outfit and was serving under General Patton when killed.

The deceased was a member of Flohr's Lutheran church and Sunday school, and the Loyal Order of Moose, of Gettysburg.

He is survived by one brother, Ellis, Biglerville.

BLIND PASTOR WILL ADDRESS CO. INSTITUTE

Speakers and other plans for the annual Adams county teachers' institute, October 26 and 27, were announced today by County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh who is in charge of the program.

The Rev. Larman Sherwood, a blind Methodist minister and pastor of a church in the Capital District, New York, will speak Oct. 26. Addresses on October 27 will be given by Donald V. Hock, a Pennsylvania attorney and past president of the Exchange Clubs of Pennsylvania.

Morning sessions of the institute will be held in the Majestic theater while the banquet and afternoon meetings will be held in St. James Lutheran church. Devotionals during the meeting will be in charge of the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church; the Rev. Howard S. Fox, of Trinity Reformed church, and the Rev. Charles K. Gibson, of the Methodist church. Prof. and Mrs. Charles L. Yost, of Biglerville, will direct the music.

Register By Mail

Professor Slaybaugh requested supervising principals, principals and teachers to register by mail on or before October 20 so that credit records can be made up in time for the opening session of the institute. No registrations will be accepted during the sessions, he said.

Each teacher attending the institute will be paid $4 a day for attendance. Each teacher in attendance will be paid $4 a day for at school district in which he or she is employed unless a satisfactory written excuse is presented to the county superintendent.

The enrollment fees include: Local branch Pennsylvania State Educational association dues, 25 cents; Pennsylvania State Education association dues and journal, $2; education bulletin, 25 cents; National Education association dues and journal, $2; banquet ticket, $1.

Adams Apples At War Front

Apples processed at the M. E. Knouse plant, Peach Glen, are being served American troops in France and Corporal Ray W. Miller, of York Springs, a former Knouse employe, is driving one of the trucks that delivers the food to the fighting men at the front.

Corporal Miller informed his wife, Mrs. Helen Miller, that his assignment was driving truck and that most of his cargo consisted of processed apples from the Knouse plant.

LIST WAR FUND SOLICITORS FOR LOCAL CANVASS

With the announcement today of completed arrangements for the rally next Wednesday of local solicitors for the United War Fund campaign to open here Sunday, October 15, Prof. Lester O. Johnson, Gettysburg campaign chairman, listed today the names of the 76 canvassers, chiefly women, who will make the house-to-house drive in Gettysburg.

Full instructions will be given the solicitors, campaign supply kits will be distributed and the group will be shown the 10-minute film "Memo to Joe," prepared by National War Fund, Inc., to present a vivid summary of the widespread services performed "for our own and for our Allies" by the USO and the more than a score of other associated organizations. The meeting, previously listed for Tuesday, will be held at 8 o'clock.

Sunday, October 15, has been designated as War Fund Sunday and pastors throughout the county will be asked to make special pulpit appeals in behalf of the campaign for $29,959, the Adams county quota.

5 NEW MEMBERS ON FACULTY OF COLLEGE HERE

Two new instructors and three graduate-student instructors have been added to the faculty of Gettysburg college for the current year.

Dr. Myron L. Simpson, of Cumberland, Md., instructing in bacteriology in the biology department to replace Dr. Paul D. Altland, former professor of bacteriology who now is conducting research in physiology for the Navy Department at the United States Public Health Service at Bethesda, Maryland.

Mrs. Morgan L. Zarfos, who has been a physical education instructor in the York and Philadelphia areas, has assumed similar duties to replace Mrs. Margaret M. Hamilton in the department of physical education for women at the college.

The graduate students who are instructing in courses for the Air Corps reserve members include Robert W. Koons, Donald H. Roberts and Charles M. Weigle.

Alumni Serving

Doctor Simpson is a graduate of the American university, Washington, D. C., and Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. He has done graduate work at the University of Cincinnati and the Medical College of Virginia, in Richmond. Before coming to Gettysburg he had been head of the science department and director of dramatics for five years at Massanutten Military academy, Woodstock, Virginia, and spent two years as assistant in parasitology at Johns Hopkins.

Mrs. Zarfos is a graduate of Temple university, Philadelphia. Her husband, a first lieutenant in the Army Medical corps, is stationed in Texas. A graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1943, Koons now is in his middler year at the Gettysburg theological seminary. He is teaching English.

Both Roberts and Weigle, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. M. Weigle, Carlisle street, are graduates of Gettysburg in 1944. Roberts received his degree in May of this year and is teaching chemistry. Weigle graduated in September and is instructing in physics.

Yank Infantry Make Gains In Fierce Action

By JAMES M. LONG

London, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Germans, acknowledging a break-through threw their heaviest counterattack into the Ubach beach today in an effort to seal off the hole in the Siegfried line, and U. S. First Army tanks and infantry surged forward in the fifth day of fierce battle.

Flight upon flight of Allied planes, operating up to 10,000 feet, rushed into the battle, eager to take advantage of the first good weather since the start of the drive to tear at enemy armor.

In the first storming assault, the Americans were rushed from the top of a commanding height a mile east of Herbach, which they had seized yesterday in a drive a mile and a half south of Ubach. But the doughboys held on to a side of the ridge and then the planes came over and dived upon the enemy armor.

Supported by the heaviest artillery they have been able to concentrate against the Americans since the war began along the Siegfried line, the Germans made the going slow to the north, east of captured Beggendorf and Ubach.

Fight Behind Line

Sherman tanks and their infantry teams were meeting German counter-attacks headon, fanning out behind their gap in the Siegfried line's main concrete and steel defenses, and attacking hastily thrown up earthworks and enemy defenses behind huge slag piles in the mining and industrial area.

The capture of the height east of Herbach widened the breach. At Beggendorf the Americans were fighting from three to four miles inside Germany and a mile and a half from the Aachen-Gladbach road.

Admitting a breach had been made, today's German communique said: "The enemy started another attack from his breakthrough in an eastern and northeastern direction. He was, however, checked by our own counterthrusts. Forty enemy tanks have been destroyed in the course of a recent two days."

Second Breakthrough

Another breakthrough was acknowledged by the enemy in the area north of Nancy, in the Third Army sector.

To the north, the Germans declared, more Allied parachutists had been dropped in Holland to reinforce the Allied-held western loop between the Neder Rhine and the Waal west of Arnhem and Nijmegen in Holland.

On the Third Army front, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's doughboys still were fighting to root the Nazi garrison out of the underground passages and trapdoor gunposts of Fort Driant, where they were under shell and mortar fire from Germans in two flanking forts.

Allied troops crossed the Dutch frontier north of Antwerp in the neighborhood of Putte and continued to make progress north of Baarle Nassau and Poppel.

Destroy Locomotives

Stubborn German resistance from strong points is impeding Allied forces in the area of Overloon, today's communique said.

Fighters and fighterbombers and a small force of medium bombers, operating in close support of ground forces in Holland, attacked enemy troops and strong points and destroyed a number of locomotives, railway trucks and barges in Holland and Germany.

According to reports so far received, six enemy aircraft were destroyed in the air.

South of Aachen, patrol activity continues along the front, and considerable enemy artillery fire has been falling in and around Monschau.

Troops fighting in Fort Driant have been mortared and shelled by the enemy. Fighting has been in progress near Sivry, north of Nancy, where earlier an enemy counter-attack was repulsed.

British Take Rion, Second Port In Greece

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, Oct. 6 (AP)—British invasion troops in Greece, striking along the north shore of the Peloponnesus from captured Patrai, have overwhelmed the fortified port of Rion guarding the narrow entrance to the Gulf of Corinth, Allied headquarters announced today.

Enemy security battalions have surrendered at a number of other points in Greece, a communique said. Fifteen hundred prisoners were taken at Patrai alone.

Immediately after seizing Rion, seven miles up the coast from Patrai, the British turned enemy coastal guns captured there against large numbers of small craft in which the Germans were trying to flee northward across the Gulf of Corinth. An official statement said good results were obtained in this shelling.

Germans guns at Andirrion, immediately opposite Rion on the north shore of the narrow entrance to the gulf, remained silent yesterday.

Crack Troops Quit

The fall of Patrai, which had been the main enemy supply port on Greece's west coast, came after German security troops surrendered near the town, making the position of the garrison untenable. At Rion, the Germans fell back quickly.

An official report said that prior to the fall of Patrai British seaborne supplies had to be unloaded at the much less satisfactory port of Katakolon, about 50 miles to the southwest.

Despite the announcement of capture of enemy security battalions in several parts of the Peloponnesus there still was no official word on how far the British have extended their lines.

In southern Albania other British units which landed 11 days ago continued to harass German communications leading to the small port of Sarande, supply base for the Corfu island garrison. The enemy retained artillery positions along the Sarande-Delvine road.

FARM IS SOLD

Mrs. Mary A. Stevens has sold her 58-acre farm in Cumberland township to William T. Eller, Brooklyn, N. Y. Possession will be given November 7. The sale was made through C. A. Heiges.

Weather Forecast

BUSINESS CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL HARVEST FETE

Thirty-three members attended the harvest supper of the Business and Professional Women's club held at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday evening. Fall flowers, pumpkins, apples and gourds were used as centerpieces for the table decorations. The supper was in charge of the following committee: Miss Rosea Armor, Mrs. Frances Lady, Miss Nina Merrow, Mrs. Mildred Benner, Miss Margaret Benner and Miss Viola Sachs.

The club's president, Miss Roberta Bittinger, presided at the supper and the business meeting following. Group singing was led by Miss Lona Black with piano accompaniment by Miss Jean Spangler. Readings were given by Miss Gertrude Andrew and Mrs. William Swisher. Miss Esther Tipton presented a brief public affairs report on news of interest to women.

Mrs. Jessie Easterday was in charge of the devotionals at the business meeting and Miss Elizabeth Ohler and Miss Margaret Galbraith served as pages.

The club voted a contribution of $3 to the Civic Nursing association. Members were urged to attend the bandage rolling sessions held in

Dead Hand Of Black Dragon's High Priest To Rule Japanese

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press War Editor
(Formerly an AP Correspondent in Tokyo)

The dead hand of Misuru Toyama, Japan's High Priest of Conquest, will continue to instigate and symbolize the Empire's turbulence.

When he died Wednesday night at 89, he still held Japan's passions in his tired, bony fingers, playing on them like a diabolical virtuoso.

For the past year his title was President-Emeritus of the Infamous Black Dragon Society, fountainhead of the more than 100 fanatical secret societies which were instrumental in precipitating the Pacific war. He supposedly had retired, but the personal power he created through that 43-year-old organization continued.

Unofficial "Emperor"

That power, based on ruthlessness, made him known abroad as Japan's "unofficial emperor." But Toyama slipped into the twilight of his fabulous career as an heroic Robin Hood to the Japanese. Legend gilded him as a man who distributed largesse to the poor, an esthete too tender to kill mosquitoes. His frugal living was imitated widely. His almost saint-like face, framed by a long white beard, dominated Japanese imagination.

He will live on through his rabid followers and the Japanese devotion to the dead. Well-trained lieutenants will enforce his policies.

Toyama ruled a vast, shadowy empire, composed of the 12,000 members of the Black Dragon Society and those of numerous subsidiary secret societies. Some sources estimate the total at 10,000,000 Japanese at home and abroad; all fanatics, all blindly obedient to the leader. Their handiwork is intrigue and espionage abroad; assassinations, bombings and beatings at home.

Murderous Rule

Toyama and his fanatics dreamed of world conquest. They led and bullied the people into each of the country's numerous wars; intimidated or killed opposition statesmen; crushed "threatening" trends, from Liberalism to Communism. Perhaps hundreds of statesmen took orders from Toyama.

It was said in recent years that the rumor of his displeasure alone was sufficient to change government policies.

Toyama and the militarists who now rule bludgeoned their way to power together. They were interdependent, their policies were parallel, their goals identical.

He was arrested twice in his twenties, but for the past 69 years he has been free from the threat of imprisonment or police interrogation for crimes that all Japan knew bore his trademark.

Today, he is revered as a hero, because each of his policies was inflicted upon the nation in the guise of serving the throne. He never sought to displace the emperor.

$26,000 ESTATE BEQUEATHED TO THREE PERSONS

Papers in four estates were filed today at the office of Register and Recorder Winfield G. Horner, at the court house.

An application for letters of administration in the estate of the late James W. Barnitz, of New Oxford, who was secretary and treasurer of the Aero Oil company, New Oxford, at the time of his death, was made by his widow, Mrs. Marjorie G. Barnitz. The will bequeathed the entire estate, which was valued at about $18,000 in personal property and $8,000 in real estate, to Mrs. Barnitz and two daughters, Frances M. Barnitz and Mrs. Helen B. DeTar.

Letters of administration and an administration bond was filed by Frank Kimple, Orrtanna R. D., in the estate of the late Henry A. Kimple, of Franklin township.

Other Estates

E. W. Hartman, Cashtown, also filed letters of administration in the estate of the late Robert S. Hahn, Franklin township. Two sisters and one brother of the deceased were named to share in the approximately $2,250 estate.

In the fourth estate, Willis C. Wagner and Alice Roland, Gettysburg R. 4, a son and daughter of the late Michael K. Wagner of Mt. Pleasant township, filed yapers as executors of the will. The estate, estimated at about $2,000 was bequeathed to the executors and to another daughter, Eva Koontz.

VETERAN LOCAL PASTOR MOVED TO LEMASTERS

Two pastoral changes in Adams county were among those ordered Thursday evening at the annual state conference of the United Brethren church which concluded its sessions this mborning in York.

The Rev. Dr. N. B. S. Thomas, pastor of the Memorial United Brethren and Salem United Brethren churches for the last 11 years, was ordered to the Lemasters charge in Franklin county.

Replacing the Rev. Dr. Thomas here will be the Rev. Harold V. March who comes from Shermansdale.

The Rev. Harry Fehl, Jr., pastor of the Mt. Tabor charge for the last year, has been transferred to Shermansdale.

New Mt. Taber Pastor

The new pastor for the Mt. Tabor charge will be the Rev. Charles R. Miller who has been ordered to the county from Oakville, Cumberland county.

All changes are effective at 9 o'clock this morning and the new pastors will have charge of services in their new pastorates on Sunday.

Dr. Thomas held the longest pastorate of any minister at the local charge. He said today he and his wife and daughter, Mrs. Kenneth D. Kane, whose husband is serving in the Pacific, will move to Lemasters within a few weeks.

SEEK CLOTHES FOR EUROPEANS

Mrs. Donald Myers, chairman of the Christian Social Education and Action committee of the Council of Church Women of Gettysburg announced today that the emergency collection of clothing for Europe adopted by the council will begin within the next week.

The council vice presidents, of "key-women" from each of the churches in Gettysburg, will set the dates for collection at their churches and they will be in charge of receiving the donations.

The clothing is to be collected to provide free distribution of usable wearing apparel to the needy men, women and children in the liberated areas of Europe.

All garments except shoes and evening clothes are needed and should be clean when brought to the churches. The committee hopes to have all collections completed before November 3, the day for observance of World Community Day.

In addition to the "key-women" in each of the church congregations, Mrs. Myers or any of her committee members may be contacted. They are Mrs. R. S. Saby, Carlisle street; Mrs. Anna Plank, East Lincoln avenue; Mrs. J. R. Larkin, North Stratton street, and Mrs. Margaret Howard, East High street.

SUV MEETING

ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Mrs. Grover Cluck, 114 West High street, has received word that her son, Pvt. Clarence H. Cluck, has arrived safely in Franch.

CPL. REINECKER TELLS OF BITTER SAIPAN FIGHTING

Three hours after he dodged shell fire of all kinds to reach the beaches of Saipan, Marine Cpl. George H. Reinecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Z. Reinecker, Aspers R. 1, was wounded by a shell fragment.

Given quick medical treatment on the scene, he later was evacuated to a hospital and now is convalescing at the Naval hospital at Oakland, Calif.

A machine gunner on an amphibian tractor, Corporal Reinecker and his comrades were moving toward the Aslito airfield in the face of a heavy enemy barrage when a shell fragment hit him in the right leg.

"We had a mighty hot time when we got ashore in the vicinity of Charan Kanoa," the Marine said. "The Japs shelled us heavily from their positions up in the hills and there were few places that could be called safe along the beach as we landed."

Fought From All Angles

"It was a little safer, maybe, after we pushed inland but those Japs were fighting with all their chips down. They fought us from pillboxes, caves and wherever else they could hide out.

"Their fanatical counter-attacks early in the battle were really intense. They seemed to have no regard at all for their lives; in fact, they seemed to want to die and take as many Marines with them as they could.

"I fought in the Marshall Islands campaign and on Roi and Namur, but never in all the time I was at any of those places did I see anything compared to what we faced on Saipan."

Former Biglerville Star

A former star athlete at Biglerville high school, Corporal Reinecker is married to the former Miss Kathryn Gulden. He joined the Marines in August, 1942, trained at Parris Island, S. C.; Camp Lejeune, N. C., and Camp Pendleton, Calif., and was with the Fleet Marine Force for 10 months before he joined the amphibious unit with which he was serving when he was wounded.

He is a former employe of the Ray Optical company in Harrisburg. His wife resides in Camp Hill.

1,160 POUNDS OF CLOTHING ARE COLLECTED

At a meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women of Gettysburg Thursday evening in the parochial school basement it was reported that 1,160 pounds of clothing were gathered during the recent campaign for clothing for the needy of Europe.

Mrs. George Groft, chairman of the local committee in charge of collections in Gettysburg, reported there were 1,486 articles donated including 174 outer coats; 197 men's and boys' articles; 696 women's articles; 317 children's articles; 90 pairs of stockings and 12 blankets and bath robes.

The clothing was packed in 35 cartons and sent to headquarters by the following men: C. E. Swisher, John Bachensky and George Groft.

Mrs. Groft today expressed her appreciation for the work of committee members and the "fine response of residents of Gettysburg."

Plan Deanery Meeting

Miss Mary Ramer, president of the council, presided at the meeting. It was reported there are now 185 names of boys and women in the service on the shrine in the church.

Plans were made for a bingo party to be held Tuesday evening, October 17, at 8 o'clock in the social rooms. The committee in charge includes Mrs. George Groft, chairman, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, Mrs. Charles Swisher, Mrs. Charles Pitzer, Mrs. Annie Cunningham, Miss Rose Stock, Mrs. Charles Cool, Mrs. M. J. Flynn, Mrs. George McKenrick and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy.

Plans were completed for chairmen and co-chairmen of standing committees to attend the Deanery meeting at St. Aloysius Catholic church, Littlestown, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Miss Mary Eberhart, deanery president, will preside.

It was decided that in the future meetings of the council will be held the first Thursday evening of each month at 7:30 o'clock.

Just arrived: Cotton Krinkle gowns, sizes 16 and 17. The Smart Shoppe, the Little Shop on Carlisle street.

Killed In War

Sgt. Leroy Rentzel, 24, who was killed in action in France September 16, was born at Seven Stars, a son of the late Harvey E. and Jennie (Harner) Rentzel. He attended Arendtsville vocational high school for two years and formerly managed the Richfield service station here. He was inducted July 1, 1942, and trained at Camp Forest, Tennessee, and Camp Phillips, Kansas, before undergoing desert training at Yuma, Arizona. Following maneuvers he attended Gunnery school at Camp Cox, California. He was then transferred to Ft. Dix, N. J., and went overseas last July. He was a member of an infantry outfit and was serving under General Patton when killed.

The deceased was a member of Flohr's Lutheran church and Sunday school, and the Loyal Order of Moose, of Gettysburg.

He is survived by one brother, Ellis, Biglerville.

5 NEW MEMBERS ON FACULTY OF COLLEGE HERE

Two new instructors and three graduate-student instructors have been added to the faculty of Gettysburg college for the current year.

Dr. Myron L. Simpson, of Cumberland, Md., instructing in bacteriology in the biology department to replace Dr. Paul D. Altland, former professor of bacteriology who now is conducting research in physiology for the Navy Department at the United States Public Health Service at Bethesda, Maryland.

Mrs. Morgan L. Zarfos, who has been a physical education instructor in the York and Philadelphia areas, has assumed similar duties to replace Mrs. Margaret M. Hamilton in the department of physical education for women at the college.

The graduate students who are instructing in courses for the Air Corps reserve members include Robert W. Koons, Donald H. Roberts and Charles M. Weigle.

Alumni Serving

Doctor Simpson is a graduate of the American university, Washington, D. C., and Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. He has done graduate work at the University of Cincinnati and the Medical College of Virginia, in Richmond. Before coming to Gettysburg he had been head of the science department and director of dramatics for five years at Massanutten Military academy, Woodstock, Virginia, and spent two years as assistant in parasitology at Johns Hopkins.

Mrs. Zarfos is a graduate of Temple university, Philadelphia. Her husband, a first lieutenant in the Army Medical corps, is stationed in Texas. A graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1943, Koons now is in his middler year at the Gettysburg theological seminary. He is teaching English.

Both Roberts and Weigle, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. M. Weigle, Carlisle street, are graduates of Gettysburg in 1944. Roberts received his degree in May of this year and is teaching chemistry. Weigle graduated in September and is instructing in physics.

Yank Infantry Make Gains In Fierce Action

By JAMES M. LONG

London, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Germans, acknowledging a break-through threw their heaviest counterattack into the Ubach beach today in an effort to seal off the hole in the Siegfried line, and U. S. First Army tanks and infantry surged forward in the fifth day of fierce battle.

Flight upon flight of Allied planes, operating up to 10,000 feet, rushed into the battle, eager to take advantage of the first good weather since the start of the drive to tear at enemy armor.

In the first storming assault, the Americans were rushed from the top of a commanding height a mile east of Herbach, which they had seized yesterday in a drive a mile and a half south of Ubach. But the doughboys held on to a side of the ridge and then the planes came over and dived upon the enemy armor.

Supported by the heaviest artillery they have been able to concentrate against the Americans since the war began along the Siegfried line, the Germans made the going slow to the north, east of captured Beggendorf and Ubach.

Fight Behind Line

Sherman tanks and their infantry teams were meeting German counter-attacks headon, fanning out behind their gap in the Siegfried line's main concrete and steel defenses, and attacking hastily thrown up earthworks and enemy defenses behind huge slag piles in the mining and industrial area.

The capture of the height east of Herbach widened the breach. At Beggendorf the Americans were fighting from three to four miles inside Germany and a mile and a half from the Aachen-Gladbach road.

Admitting a breach had been made, today's German communique said: "The enemy started another attack from his breakthrough in an eastern and northeastern direction. He was, however, checked by our own counterthrusts. Forty enemy tanks have been destroyed in the course of a recent two days."

Second Breakthrough

Another breakthrough was acknowledged by the enemy in the area north of Nancy, in the Third Army sector.

To the north, the Germans declared, more Allied parachutists had been dropped in Holland to reinforce the Allied-held western loop between the Neder Rhine and the Waal west of Arnhem and Nijmegen in Holland.

On the Tihrd Army front, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's doughboys still were fighting to root the Nazi garrison out of the underground passages and trapdoor gunposts of Fort Driant, where they were under shell and mortar fire from Germans in two flanking forts.

Allied troops crossed the Dutch frontier north of Antwerp in the neighborhood of Putte and continued to make progress north of Baarle Nassau and Poppel.

Destroy Locomotives

Stubborn German resistance from strong points is impeding Allied forces in the area of Overloon, today's communique said.

Fighters and fighterbombers and a small force of medium bombers, operating in close support of ground forces in Holland, attacked enemy troops and strong points and destroyed a number of locomotives, railway trucks and barges in Holland and Germany.

According to reports so far received, six enemy aircraft were destroyed in the air.

South of Aachen, patrol activity continues along the front, and considerable enemy artillery fire has been falling in and around Monschau.

Troops fighting in Fort Driant have been mortared and shelled by the enemy. Fighting has been in progress near Sivry, north of Nancy, where earlier an enemy counterattack was repulsed.

British Take Rion, Second Port In Greece

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, Oct. 6 (AP)—British invasion troops in Greece, striking along the north shore of the Peloponnesus from captured Patrai, have overwhelmed the fortified port of Rion guarding the narrow entrance to the Gulf of Corinth, Allied headquarters announced today.

Enemy security battalions have surrendered at a number of other points in Greece, a communique said. Fifteen hundred prisoners were taken at Patrai alone.

Immediately after seizing Rion, seven miles up the coast from Patrai, the British turned enemy coastal guns captured there against large numbers of small craft in which the Germans were trying to flee northward across the Gulf of Corinth. An official statement said good results were obtained in this shelling.

Germans guns at Andirrion, immediately opposite Rion on the north shore of the narrow entrance to the gulf, remained silent yesterday.

Crack Troops Quit

The fall of Patrai, which had been the main enemy supply port on Greece's west coast, came after German security troops surrendered near the town, making the position of the garrison untenable. At Rion, the Germans fell back quickly.

An official report said that prior to the fall of Patrai British seaborne supplies had to be unloaded at the much less satisfactory port of Katakolon, about 50 miles to the southwest.

Despite the announcement of capture of enemy security battalions in several parts of the Peloponnesus there still was no official word on how far the British have extended their lines.

In southern Albania other British units which landed 11 days ago continued to harass German communications leading to the small port of Sarande, supply base for the Corfu island garrison. The enemy retained artillery positions along the Sarande-Delvine road.

FARM IS SOLD

Mrs. Mary A. Stevens has sold her 58-acre farm in Cumberland township to William T. Eiler, Brooklyn, N. Y. Possession will be given November 7. The sale was made through C. A. Heiges.

Dead Hand Of Black Dragon's High Priest To Rule Japanese

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press War Editor
(Formerly an AP Correspondent in Tokyo)

The dead hand of Misuru Toyama, Japan's High Priest of Conquest, will continue to instigate and symbolize the Empire's turbulence.

When he died Wednesday night at 89, he still held Japan's passions in his tired, bony fingers, playing on them like a diabolical virtuoso.

For the past year his title was President-Emeritus of the Infamous Black Dragon Society, fountainhead of the more than 100 fanatical secret societies which were instrumental in precipitating the Pacific war. He supposedly had retired, but the personal power he created through that 43-year-old organization continued.

Unofficial "Emperor"

That power, based on ruthlessness, made him known abroad as Japan's "unofficial emperor." But Toyama slipped into the twilight of his fabulous career as an heroic Robin Hood to the Japanese. Legend gilded him as a man who distributed largesse to the poor, an esthete too tender to kill mosquitoes. His frugal living was imitated widely. His almost saint-like face, framed by a long white beard, dominated Japanese imagination.

He will live on through his rabid followers and the Japanese devotion to the dead. Well-trained lieutenants will enforce his policies.

Toyama ruled a vast, shadowy empire, composed of the 12,000 members of the Black Dragon Society and those of numerous subsidiary secret societies. Some sources estimate the total at 10,000,000 Japanese at home and abroad; all fanatics, all blindly obedient to the leader. Their handiwork is intrigue and espionage abroad; assassinations, bombings and beatings at home.

Murderous Rule

Toyama and his fanatics dreamed of world conquest. They led and bullied the people into each of the country's numerous wars; intimidated or killed opposition statesmen; crushed "threatening" trends, from Liberalism to Communism. Perhaps hundreds of statesmen took orders from Toyama.

It was said in recent years that the rumor of his displeasure alone was sufficient to change government policies.

Toyama and the militarists who now rule bludgeoned their way to power together. They were interdependent, their policies were parallel, their goals identical.

He was arrested twice in his twenties, but for the past 69 years he has been free from the threat of imprisonment or police interrogation for crimes that all Japan knew bore his trademark.

Today, he is revered as a hero, because each of his policies was inflicted upon the nation in the guise of serving the throne. He never sought to displace the emperor.

$26,000 ESTATE BEQUEATHED TO THREE PERSONS

Papers in four estates were filed today at the office of Register and Recorder Winfield G. Horner, at the court house.

An application for letters of administration in the estate of the late James W. Mrs. Donald Myers, chairman of the Christian Social Education and Action committee of the Council of Church Women of Gettysburg announced today that the emergency collection of clothing for Europe adopted by the council will begin within the next week.

The council vice presidents, of "key-women" from each of the churches in Gettysburg, will set the dates for collection at their churches and they will be in charge of receiving the donations.

The clothing is to be collected to provide free distribution of usable wearing apparel to the needy men, women and children in the liberated areas of Europe.

All garments except shoes and evening clothes are needed and should be clean when brought to the churches. The committee hopes to have all collections completed before November 3, the day for observance of World Community Day.

In addition to the "key-women" in each of the church congregations, Mrs. Myers or any of her committee members may be contacted. They are Mrs. R. S. Saby, Carlisle street; Mrs. Anna Plank, East Lincoln avenue; Mrs. J. R. Larkin, North Stratton street, and Mrs. Margaret Howard, East High street.

The drive will continue through next Saturday, October 14.

CPL. REINECKER TELLS OF BITTER SAIPAN FIGHTING

Three hours after he dodged shell fire of all kinds to reach the beaches of Saipan, Marine Cpl. George H. Reinecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Z. Reinecker, Aspers R. 1, was wounded by a shell fragment.

Given quick medical treatment on the scene, he later was evacuated to a hospital and now is convalescing at the Naval hospital at Oakland, Calif.

A machine gunner on an amphibian tractor, Corporal Reinecker and his comrades were moving toward the Aslito airfield in the face of a heavy enemy barrage when a shell fragment hit him in the right leg.

"We had a mighty hot time when we got ashore in the vicinity of Charan Kanoa," the Marine said. "The Japs shelled us heavily from their positions up in the hills and there were few places that could be called safe along the beach as we landed."

Fought From All Angles

"It was a little safer, maybe, after we pushed inland but those Japs were fighting with all their chips down. They fought us from pillboxes, caves and wherever else they could hide out.

"Their fanatical counter-attacks early in the battle were really intense. They seemed to have no regard at all for their lives; in fact, they seemed to want to die and take as many Marines with them as they could.

"I fought in the Marshall Islands campaign and on Roi and Namur, but never in all the time I was at any of those places did I see anything compared to what we faced on Saipan."

Former Biglerville Star

A former star athlete at Biglerville high school, Corporal Reinecker is married to the former Miss Kathryn Gulden. He joined the Marines in August, 1942, trained at Parris Island, S. C.; Camp Lejeune, N. C., and Camp Pendleton, Calif., and was with the Fleet Marine Force for 10 months before he joined the amphibious unit with which he was serving when he was wounded.

He is a former employe of the Ray Optical company in Harrisburg. His wife resides in Camp Hill.

1,160 POUNDS OF CLOTHING ARE COLLECTED

At a meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women of Gettysburg Thursday evening in the parochial school basement it was reported that 1,160 pounds of clothing were gathered during the recent campaign for clothing for the needy of Europe.

Mrs. George Groft, chairman of the local committee in charge of collections in Gettysburg, reported there were 1,486 articles donated including 174 outer coats; 197 men's and boys' articles; 696 women's articles; 317 children's articles; 90 pairs of stockings and 12 blankets and bath robes.

The clothing was packed in 35 cartons and sent to headquarters by the following men: C. E. Swisher, John Bachensky and George Groft.

Mrs. Groft today expressed her appreciation for the work of committee members and the "fine response of residents of Gettysburg."

Plan Deanery Meeting

Miss Mary Ramer, president of the council, presided at the meeting. It was reported there are now 185 names of boys and women in the service on the shrine in the church.

Plans were made for a bingo party to be held Tuesday evening, October 17, at 8 o'clock in the social rooms. The committee in charge includes Mrs. George Groft, chairman, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, Mrs. Charles Swisher, Mrs. Charles Pitzer, Mrs. Annie Cunningham, Miss Rose Stock, Mrs. Charles Cool, Mrs. M. J. Flynn, Mrs. George McKenrick and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy.

Plans were completed for chairmen and co-chairmen of standing committees to attend the Deanery meeting at St. Aloysius Catholic church, Littlestown, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Miss Mary Eberhart, deanery president, will preside.

It was decided that in the future meetings of the council will be held the first Thursday evening of each month at 7:30 o'clock.

Just arrived: Cotton Krinkle gowns, sizes 16 and 17. The Smart Shoppe, the Little Shop on Carlisle street.

Killed In War

Sgt. Leroy Rentzel, 24, who was killed in action in France September 16, was born at Seven Stars, a son of the late Harvey E. and Jennie (Harner) Rentzel. He attended Arendtsville vocational high school for two years and formerly managed the Richfield service station here. He was inducted July 1, 1942, and trained at Camp Forest, Tennessee, and Camp Phillips, Kansas, before undergoing desert training at Yuma, Arizona. Following maneuvers he attended Gunnery school at Camp Cox, California. He was then transferred to Ft. Dix, N. J., and went overseas last July. He was a member of an infantry outfit and was serving under General Patton when killed.

The deceased was a member of Flohr's Lutheran church and Sunday school, and the Loyal Order of Moose, of Gettysburg.

He is survived by one brother, Ellis, Biglerville.

BLIND PASTOR WILL ADDRESS CO. INSTITUTE

Speakers and other plans for the annual Adams county teachers' institute, October 26 and 27, were announced today by County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh who is in charge of the program.

The Rev. Larman Sherwood, a blind Methodist minister and pastor of a church in the Capital District, New York, will speak Oct. 26. Addresses on October 27 will be given by Donald V. Hock, a Pennsylvania attorney and past president of the Exchange Clubs of Pennsylvania.

Morning sessions of the institute will be held in the Majestic theater while the banquet and afternoon meetings will be held in St. James Lutheran church. Devotionals during the meeting will be in charge of the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church; the Rev. Howard S. Fox, of Trinity Reformed church, and the Rev. Charles K. Gibson, of the Methodist church. Prof. and Mrs. Charles L. Yost, of Biglerville, will direct the music.

Register By Mail

Professor Slaybaugh requested supervising principals, principals and teachers to register by mail on or before October 20 so that credit records can be made up in time for the opening session of the institute. No registrations will be accepted during the sessions, he said.

Each teacher attending the institute will be pair $4 a day for attendance. Each teacher in attendtute will be paid $4 a day for at-school district in which he or she is employed unless a satisfactory written excuse is presented to the county superintendent.

The enrollment fees include: Local branch Pennsylvania State Educational association dues, 25 cents; Pennsylvania State Education association dues and journal, $2; education bulletin, 25 cents; National Education association dues and journal, $2; banquet ticket, $1.

5 NEW MEMBERS ON FACULTY OF COLLEGE HERE

Two new instructors and three graduate-student instructors have been added to the faculty of Gettysburg college for the current year.

Dr. Myron L. Simpson, of Cumberland, Md., instructing in bacteriology in the biology department to replace Dr. Paul D. Altland, former professor of bacteriology who now is conducting research in physiology for the Navy Department at the United States Public Health Service at Bethesda, Maryland.

Mrs. Morgan L. Zarfos, who has been a physical education instructor in the York and Philadelphia areas, has assumed similar duties to replace Mrs. Margaret M. Hamilton in the department of physical education for women at the college.

The graduate students who are instructing in courses for the Air Corps reserve members include Robert W. Koons, Donald H. Roberts and Charles M. Weigle.

Alumni Serving

Doctor Simpson is a graduate of the American university, Washington, D. C., and Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. He has done graduate work at the University of Cincinnati and the Medical College of Virginia, in Richmond. Before coming to Gettysburg he had been head of the science department and director of dramatics for five years at Massanutten Military academy, Woodstock, Virginia, and spent two years as assistant in parasitology at Johns Hopkins.

Mrs. Zarfos is a graduate of Temple university, Philadelphia. Her husband, a first lieutenant in the Army Medical corps, is stationed in Texas. A graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1943, Koons now is in his middler year at the Gettysburg theological seminary. He is teaching English.

Both Roberts and Weigle, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. M. Weigle, Carlisle street, are graduates of Gettysburg in 1944. Roberts received his degree in May of this year and is teaching chemistry. Weigle graduated in September and is instructing in physics.

Yank Infantry Make Gains In Fierce Action

By JAMES M. LONG

London, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Germans, acknowledging a break-through threw their heaviest counterattack into the Ubach beach today in an effort to seal off the hole in the Siegfried line, and U. S. First Army tanks and infantry surged forward in the fifth day of fierce battle.

Flight upon flight of Allied planes, operating up to 10,000 feet, rushed into the battle, eager to take advantage of the first good weather since the start of the drive to tear at enemy armor.

In the first storming assault, the Americans were rushed from the top of a commanding height a mile east of Herbach, which they had seized yesterday in a drive a mile and a half south of Ubach. But the doughboys held on to a side of the ridge and then the planes came over and dived upon the enemy armor.

Supported by the heaviest artillery they have been able to concentrate against the Americans since the war began along the Siegfried line, the Germans made the going slow to the north, east of captured Beggendorf and Ubach.

Fight Behind Line

Sherman tanks and their infantry teams were meeting German counter-attacks headon, fanning out behind their gap in the Siegfried line's main concrete and steel defenses, and attacking hastily thrown up earthworks and enemy defenses behind huge slag piles in the mining and industrial area.

The capture of the height east of Herbach widened the breach. At Beggendorf the Americans were fighting from three to four miles inside Germany and a mile and a half from the Aachen-Gladbach road.

Admitting a breach had been made, today's German communique said: "The enemy started another attack from his breakthrough in an eastern and northeastern direction. He was, however, checked by our own counterthrusts. Forty enemy tanks have been destroyed in the course of a recent two days."

Second Breakthrough

Another breakthrough was acknowledged by the enemy in the area north of Nancy, in the Third Army sector.

To the north, the Germans declared, more Allied parachutists had been dropped in Holland to reinforce the Allied-held western loop between the Neder Rhine and the Waal west of Arnhem and Nijmegen in Holland.

On the Tihrd Army front, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's doughboys still were fighting to root the Nazi garrison out of the underground passages and trapdoor gunposts of Fort Driant, where they were under shell and mortar fire from Germans in two flanking forts.

Allied troops crossed the Dutch frontier north of Antwerp in the neighborhood of Putte and continued to make progress north of Baarle Nassau and Poppel.

Destroy Locomotives

Stubborn German resistance from strong points is impeding Allied forces in the area of Overloon, today's communique said.

Fighters and fighterbombers and a small force of medium bombers, operating in close support of ground forces in Holland, attacked enemy troops and strong points and destroyed a number of locomotives, railway trucks and barges in Holland and Germany.

According to reports so far received, six enemy aircraft were destroyed in the air.

South of Aachen, patrol activity continues along the front, and considerable enemy artillery fire has been falling in and around Monschau.

Troops fighting in Fort Driant have been mortared and shelled by the enemy. Fighting has been in progress near Sivry, north of Nancy, where earlier an enemy counter-attack was repulsed.

British Take Rion, Second Port In Greece

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, Oct. 6 (AP)—British invasion troops in Greece, striking along the north shore of the Peloponnesus from captured Patral, have overwhelmed the fortified port of Rion guarding the narrow entrance to the Gulf of Corinth, Allied headquarters announced today.

Enemy security battalions have surrendered at a number of other points in Greece, a communique said. Fifteen hundred prisoners were taken at Patrai alone.

Immediately after seizing Rion, seven miles up the coast from Patrai, the British turned enemy coastal guns captured there against large numbers of small craft in which the Germans were trying to flee northward across the Gulf of Corinth. An official statement said good results were obtained in this shelling.

Germans guns at Andirrion, immediately opposite Rion on the north shore of the narrow entrance to the gulf, remained silent yesterday.

Crack Troops Quit

The fall of Patrai, which had been the main enemy supply port on Greece's west coast, came after German security troops surrendered near the town, making the position of the garrison untenable. At Rion, the Germans fell back quickly.

An official report said that prior to the fall of Patrai British seaborne supplies had to be unloaded at the much less satisfactory port of Katakolon, about 50 miles to the southwest.

Despite the announcement of capture of enemy security battalions in several parts of the Peloponnesus there still was no official word on how far the British have extended their lines.

In southern Albania other British units which landed 11 days ago continued to harass German communications leading to the small port of Sarande, supply base for the Corfu island garrison. The enemy retained artillery positions along the Sarande-Delvine road.

REASON ENOUGH

Philadelphia, Oct. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Francis Xavier Smith had a good reason to take a day off from her work at the Frankford arsenal—her husband, in the Seabees, and her two sons, in the Navy, came home on furloughs at the same time.

BREAKTHROUGH AT AACHEN MAY SPELL VICTORY

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The fierce battle raging in the Aachen sector of the western front, where Uncle Sam's First Army has crashed through the crust of the powerful Siegfried line, is in that critical stage where a bit of good luck might tip the scales heavily towards the Allied side.

The doughboys are continuing to widen the wedge they've driven into the west wall, which is particularly strong in this strategic zone. Our tanks have been flung into the opening in an effort to bore through to the open plain which leads to the Rhenish city of Cologne—gateway to the great Ruhr industrial region and to Berlin beyond.

The Germans are going all-out in their defense, having flung everything they can spare into this important engagement. They fully recognize that should the Allies make a clean break-through, carrying them across the Rhine, it would just about complete the hangman's noose for Hitler's neck. For this reason we may be sure that General Eisenhower had his microscope on the Aachen battle, ready to pour in reserves and exploit any profitable looking opening.

Expect Other Strikes

However, despite the potentialities of this battle, we mustn't assume that Eisenhower necessarily has picked it for the supreme effort which ultimately will open up the route through which the Allied armies will pour into the Reich. He will develop it if it looks good, but otherwise will strike in some more promising spot.

Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels yesterday declared that the Allies have opened an all-out offensive against Germany. That undoubtedly is true in the sense that the preliminary attacks are under way throughout the length of the 460-mile Allied line. But Eisenhower hasn't yet turned loose all the vast striking power at his disposal. He is in the process of stabbing at numerous points in the Siegfried line in an effort to find the soft spots, or at least the most feasible places for development, whether they be soft or not. When he finds what he wants he will hurl a great concentration of force against it for a grand break-through. The Aachen sector might provide that spot if the present drive goes well.

Race Against Time

The Allies are racing against time in an effort to smash across the Rhine before the winter weather clamps down on them. Their task is far from easy because, as Secretary of War Stimson says, there's much hard fighting to be done yet in Europe. That's true not only on the western front but in the east and in Italy.

While the German forces are heavily outnumbered in western Europe, they've managed to scrape together enough troops so that, as Secretary Stimson puts it, they have "strength for initial defense of the west wall." The Germans claim to have sixty divisions in western Europe, and I understand from informed quarters that while this figure probably is true on paper, the divisions have been so weakened by losses that their actual strength likely is nearer forty. This might mean anything up to half a million fighting men.

That isn't enough Germans to hold the line, though they may cause considerable delay. Propagandist Goebbels virtually admitted that the west wall was doomed when he threatened that the Nazis within the Reich are prepared to wage guerrilla warfare to the death. They're ready for fighting on the home soil.

ARNHEM UPSET BLOCKS ALLIED 1944 VICTORY

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—The failure of Allied airborne troops at Arnhem, in the opinion of OWI Director Elmer Davis, makes "more remote" the chances of victory in Europe this year.

Davis said yesterday the "Arnhem affair" had made out of date an Office of War Information report put out three weeks ago which predicted Germany would go down "before, or not long after, the end of 1944."

He referred to the heroic 11-day struggle to hold a bridgehead across the Rhine at Arnhem, Holland, against superior forces.

The report was not intended for publication, but it "leaked" after 8,000 copies were prepared and some 4,000 were distributed to persons in the advertising business.

War Job Best

Forecasts that 5,000,000 workers would change jobs after V-Day in Europe, and that German collapse would bring "widespread and in some quarters serious" dislocations in civilian life were made in the OWI report.

While a substantial part of the displaced workers will be absorbed in the task of re-converting industry, the survey said that "in most cases a war job will continue to be the best job for at least six months after V-E Day."

Intended to guide advertisers in planning future campaigns in behalf of the war effort, the survey said inflationary pressures would increase after V-E Day and "price controls accordingly may be continued for quite some time." The need for heavy government borrowing will continue, it said.

Probable Trends

On rationing, the survey gave these as probable trends following V-E Day:

Butter and sugar—probably will remain rationed.

Cheese, fats, milk and cream, and better grade meats—short supplies for first six months, with rationing uncertain, but plentiful thereafter.

Processed foods, fresh fruits and vegetables—adequate supplies without rationing.

Shoes—rationing will continue; other clothing will be short of civilian need.

Gasoline — Very gradual easing over several-month period.

Fuel Oil—Rationing next winter as well as this.

Find Girl Who Marred Memorial

Through the chief of police at Johnstown, Gettysburg National Park officials have located the person who wrote her name in pencil on the Eternal Light Peace Memorial on September 3. The offender is a high school freshman girl.

Because of the culprit's age, Federal authorities were reluctant to lay charges but asked the Johnstown police chief and the principal of the girl's high school to join in impressing upon her the seriousness of her offense and the trouble that might come from marring the beauty of battlefield memorials.

"The cooperation of the Johnstown school and police authorities was very effective and helpful," Dr. J. Walter Coleman, National park superintendent, said today.

The girl not only scrawled her name on the memorial but conveniently added her address, apparently unaware that she was committing an offense for which there is a heavy fine.

Presbyterians To Mark Rally Day

Rally Day will be observed in the Presbyterian Sunday school Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock when attendance awards for the year and promotion certificates will be distributed at special exercises.

Newville Home Sunday will be observed in the church with members being asked to bring foodstuffs, sick room supplies or cash for the Presbyterian Manor home at Newville.

Other church activities listed for next week include the Week-Day Bible school Tuesday afternoon; a covered dish supper meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school with a slide lecture on church school teaching technique; mid-week services at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening when the pastor, the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, will lecture on Genesis. The October meeting of the church session will be held at 8:30 p. m.

2 BURNED TO DEATH

Camden, N. J., Oct. 6 (AP) — Three-year-old Beverly Stewart and her two-year-old brother, Charles, were burned to death yesterday when fire swept the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart. A third child, 11-months-old Gwendolyn, was seriously burned.

BUYERS VACATE TENANTS

Philadelphia, Oct. 6 (AP) — The OPA area rent office reports that home buyers in this vicinity have forced 5,896 tenants to vacate living quarters in the first nine months of this year.

BULLETINS

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP) — Evidence that Japanese army doctors "are under orders to kill their own patients if their capture appears imminent" is reported by Brig. Gen. R. W. Bliss, assistant surgeon general of the army. Bliss, just back from the Pacific, also told reporters that the Japanese "have bombed their own hospitals with patients in them."

Stockholm, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported today that the last German civilians had been evacuated under cover of night from the German city of Aachen, now menaced on both north and south by U. S. troops. He asserted that reports from the front said 80 per cent of the city was in ruins.

Southeast Asia Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, Oct. 6 (AP)—Indian infantry jungle fighters were reported today to have cut across the top of the so-called "chocolate staircase" highway which leads up the mountains by many twists and turns to the Japanese northwestern Burma base of Tiddim.

Stockholm, Oct. 6 (AP) — The Germans are exerting "very strong" pressure on Tornealy, on the Finnish-Swedish border, in order to relieve the two-way threat to their forces at Kemi to the southeast, the Finnish communique said today.

Tallinn, Estonia, Oct. 5 (Delayed) (AP)—The Soviet Estonian Republic, now freed from three years of German domination, will decide for itself whether to adopt the Russian system of collectivization of agriculture, declares Arnold Veimer, president of the Council of People's Commissars.

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—A plan to keep German industry and labor producing after the war as they have under Hitler, but turning over excess output to the Allies as reparations, was advanced today by Senator Reed (R-Kans).

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie is suffering from a severe throat infection and a "slight congestion of the lungs," his physician, Dr. Benjamin Salzer, said today adding that a throat specialist and heart specialist had been called into consultation.

Moscow, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Soviet sponsored Polish committee of National Liberation expects to annex German territory to the Oder river, which flows within 31 miles of Berlin, and the Baltic port of Stettin on its west bank, the Polpress News Agency declared today.

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, stating "we can not expect any material decline in expenditures during the next several months," says achievement of the Sixth War Loan goal of $14,000,000,000 is "urgently needed."

The force of gravity at the surface of the sun is said to be 27 times greater than that at the surface of the earth.

3 Club Meetings Are Scheduled

Three club meetings were listed today on the itinerary of Miss Mildred Adams, county home economics advisor, for the coming week.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock she will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. C. Miller, New Oxford, and give a talk on nutrition. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock she will meet with a group at the home of Mrs. P. D. Butt, York Springs, while the third meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Denton Miles, Hampton, on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. There a program on adult foods will be held.

Miss Adams also will be in her office in the court house each day during the week.

"AG" TEACHERS MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Adams county agriculture teachers will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools at the court house. A discussion of the progress of the milkweed collection in the county will be undertaken in addition to the regular business.

BREAKTHROUGH AT AACHEN MAY SPELL VICTORY

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The fierce battle raging in the Aachen sector of the western front, where Uncle Sam's First Army has crashed through the crust of the powerful Siegfried line, is in that critical stage where a bit of good luck might tip the scales heavily towards the Allied side.

The dough boys are continuing to widen the wedge they've driven into the west wall, which is particularly strong in this strategic zone. Our tanks have been flung into the opening in an effort to bore through to the open plain which leads to the Rhenish city of Cologne—gateway to the great Ruhr industrial region and to Berlin beyond.

The Germans are going all-out in their defense, having flung everything they can spare into this important engagement. They fully recognize that should the Allies make a clean break-through, carrying them across the Rhine, it would just about complete the hangman's noose for Hitler's neck. For this reason we may be sure that General Eisenhower had his microscope on the Aachen battle, ready to pour in reserves and exploit any profitable looking opening.

Expect Other Strikes

However, despite the potentialities of this battle, we mustn't assume that Eisenhower necessarily has picked it for the supreme effort which ultimately will open up the route through which the Allied armies will pour into the Reich. He will develop it if it looks good, but otherwise will strike in some more promising spot.

Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels yesterday declared that the Allies have opened an all-out offensive against Germany. That undoubtedly is true in the sense that the preliminary attacks are under way throughout the length of the 460-mile Allied line. But Eisenhower hasn't yet turned loose all the vast striking power at his disposal. He is in the process of stabbing at numerous points in the Siegfried line in an effort to find the soft spots, or at least the most feasible places for development, whether they be soft or not. When he finds what he wants he will hurl a great concentration of force against it for a grand break-through. The Aachen sector might provide that spot if the present drive goes well.

Race Against Time

The Allies are racing against time in an effort to smash across the Rhine before the winter weather clamps down on them. Their task is far from easy because, as Secretary of War Stimson says, there's much hard fighting to be done yet in Europe. That's true not only on the western front but in the east and in Italy.

While the German forces are heavily outnumbered in western Europe, they've managed to scrape together enough troops so that, as Secretary Stimson puts it, they have "strength for initial defense of the west wall." The Germans claim to have sixty divisions in western Europe, and I understand from informed quarters that while this figure probably is true on paper, the divisions have been so weakened by losses that their actual strength likely is nearer forty. This might mean anything up to half a million fighting men.

That isn't enough Germans to hold the line, though they may cause considerable delay. Propagandist Goebbels virtually admitted that the west wall was doomed when he threatened that the Nazis within the Reich are prepared to wage guerrilla warfare to the death. They're ready for fighting on the home soil.

Temperance Union Meets Thursday

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. H. E. Berkey, Broadway.

Mrs. Milton Remmel, president, presided and Mrs. Berkey had charge of the devotions. The subject of the evening's discussion was "Legislation and Citizenship" and a number of articles relating to the subject were read.

The articles included "Do You Advertise," "What Did Lincoln Say About Strong Drink" "The Voice of the Church," and "How About Your Letter to Congress."

Following the business session a social hour was held. The next meeting will be held in November at the home of Mrs. Frank Grinder.

She is in the Women's Army Corps.

Miss Frazee, recently promoted to sergeant, has been at the armored school at Ft. Knox for the last year. Her father, formerly manager of the Murphy five and 10 cent store here, is stationed at Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

Sgt. Frazee's brother, Lt. Commander Murray B. Frazee, Jr., met his sister for the first time in three years when he stopped to visit his parents in Indiana en route east from submarine duty in the Pacific last week.

CRITICAL CONDITION

Walter L. Moore, 155 North Washinugton street, is reported in a critical condition at his home as the result of a stroke suffered recently.

ARNHEM UPSET BLOCKS ALLIED 1944 VICTORY

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—The failure of Allied airborne troops at Arnhem, in the opinion of OWI Director Elmer Davis, makes "more remote" the chances of victory in Europe this year.

Davis said yesterday the "Arnhem affair" had made out of date an Office of War Information report put out three weeks ago which predicted Germany would go down "before, or not long after, the end of 1944."

He referred to the heroic 11-day struggle to hold a bridgehead across the Rhine at Arnhem, Holland, against superior forces.

The report was not intended for publication, but it "leaked" after 8,000 copies were prepared and some 4,000 were distributed to persons in the advertising business.

War Job Best

Forecasts that 5,000,000 workers would change jobs after V-Day in Europe, and that German collapse would bring "widespread and in some quarters serious" dislocations in civilian life were made in the OWI report.

While a substantial part of the displaced workers will be absorbed in the task of re-converting industry, the survey said that "in most cases a war job will continue to be the best job for at least six months after V-E Day."

Intended to guide advertisers in planning future campaigns in behalf of the war effort, the survey said inflationary pressures would increase after V-E Day and "price controls accordingly may be continued for quite some time." The need for heavy government borrowing will continue, it said.

Probable Trends

On rationing, the survey gave these as probable trends following V-E Day:

Butter and sugar—probably will remain rationed.

Cheese, fats, milk and cream, and better grade meats—short supplies for first six months, with rationing uncertain, but plentiful thereafter.

Processed foods, fresh fruits and vegetables—adequate supplies without rationing.

Shoes—rationing will continue; other clothing will be short of civilian need.

Gasoline — Very gradual easing over several-month period.

Fuel Oil—Rationing next winter as well as this.

Find Girl Who Marred Memorial

Through the chief of police at Johnstown, Gettysburg National Park officials have located the person who wrote her name in pencil on the Eternal Light Peace Memorial on September 3. The offender is a high school freshman girl.

Because of the culprit's age, Federal authorities were reluctant to lay charges but asked the Johnstown police chief and the principal of the girl's high school to join in impressing upon her the seriousness of her offense and the trouble that might come from marring the beauty of battlefield memorials.

"The cooperation of the Johnstown school and police authorities was very effective and helpful," Dr. J. Walter Coleman, National park superintendent, said today.

The girl not only scrawled her name on the memorial but conveniently added her address, apparently unaware that she was committing an offense for which there is a heavy fine.

Presbyterians To Mark Rally Day

Rally Day will be observed in the Presbyterian Sunday school Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock when attendance awards for the year and promotion certificates will be distributed at special exercises.

Newville Home Sunday will be observed in the church with members being asked to bring foodstuffs, sick room supplies or cash for the Presbyterian Manor home at Newville.

Other church activities listed for next week include the Week-Day Bible school Tuesday afternoon; a covered dish supper meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school with a slide lecture on church school teaching technique; mid-week services at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening when the pastor, the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, will lecture on Genesis. The October meeting of the church session will be held at 8:30 p. m.

2 BURNED TO DEATH

Camden, N. J., Oct. 6 (AP) — Three-year-old Beverly Stewart and her two-year-old brother, Charles, were burned to death yesterday when fire swept the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart. A third child, 11-months-old Gwendolyn, was seriously burned.

Stockholm, Oct. 6 (AP) — The Germans are exerting "very strong" pressure on Tornealv, on the Finnish-Swedish border, in order to relieve the two-way threat to their forces at Kemi to the southeast, the Finnish communique said today.

Tallinn, Estonia, Oct. 5 (Delayed) (AP)—The Soviet Estonian Republic, now freed from three years of German domination, will decide for itself whether to adopt the Russian system of collectivization of agriculture, declares Arnold Veimer, president of the Council of People's Commissars.

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—A plan to keep German industry and labor producing after the war as they have under Hitler, but turning over excess output to the Allies as reparations, was advanced today by Senator Reed (R-Kans).

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie is suffering from a severe throat infection and a "slight congestion of the lungs," his physician, Dr. Benjamin Salzer, said today adding that a throat specialist and heart specialist had been called into consultation.

Moscow, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Soviet sponsored Polish committee of National Liberation expects to annex German territory to the Oder river, which flows within 31 miles of Berlin, and the Baltic port of Stettin on its west bank, the Polpress News Agency declared today.

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, stating "we can not expect any material decline in expenditures during the next several months," says achievement of the Sixth War Loan goal of $14,000,000,000 is "urgently needed."

The force of gravity at the surface of the sun is said to be 27 times greater than that at the surface of the earth.

3 Club Meetings Are Scheduled

Three club meetings were listed today on the itinerary of Miss Mildred Adams, county home economics advisor, for the coming week.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock she will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. C. Miller, New Oxford, and give a talk on nutrition. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock she will meet with a group at the home of Mrs. P. D. Butt, York Springs, while the third meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Denton Miles, Hampton, on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. There a program on adult foods will be held.

Miss Adams also will be in her office in the court house each day during the week.

"AG" TEACHERS MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Adams county agriculture teachers will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools at the court house. A discussion of the progress of the milkweed collection in the county will be undertaken in addition to the regular business.

BREAKTHROUGH AT AACHEN MAY SPELL VICTORY

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The fierce battle raging in the Aachen sector of the western front, where Uncle Sam's First Army has crashed through the crust of the powerful Siegfried line, is in that critical stage where a bit of good luck might tip the scales heavily towards the Allied side.

The dough boys are continuing to widen the wedge they've driven into the west wall, which is particularly strong in this strategic zone. Our tanks have been flung into the opening in an effort to bore through to the open plain which leads to the Rhenish city of Cologne—gateway to the great Ruhr industrial region and to Berlin beyond.

The Germans are going all-out in their defense, having flung everything they can spare into this important engagement. They fully recognize that should the Allies make a clean break-through, carrying them across the Rhine, it would just about complete the hangman's noose for Hitler's neck. For this reason we may be sure that General Eisenhower had his microscope on the Aachen battle, ready to pour in reserves and exploit any profitable looking opening.

Expect Other Strikes

However, despite the potentialities of this battle, we mustn't assume that Eisenhower necessarily has picked it for the supreme effort which ultimately will open up the route through which the Allied armies will pour into the Reich. He will develop it if it looks good, but otherwise will strike in some more promising spot.

Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels yesterday declared that the Allies have opened an all-out offensive against Germany. That undoubtedly is true in the sense that the preliminary attacks are under way throughout the length of the 460-mile Allied line. But Eisenhower hasn't yet turned loose all the vast striking power at his disposal. He is in the process of stabbing at numerous points in the Siegfried line in an effort to find the soft spots, or at least the most feasible places for development, whether they be soft or not. When he finds what he wants he will hurl a great concentration of force against it for a grand break-through. The Aachen sector might provide that spot if the present drive goes well.

Race Against Time

The Allies are racing against time in an effort to smash across the Rhine before the winter weather clamps down on them. Their task is far from easy because, as Secretary of War Stimson says, there's much hard fighting to be done yet in Europe. That's true not only on the western front but in the east and in Italy.

While the German forces are heavily outnumbered in western Europe, they've managed to scrape together enough troops so that, as Secretary Stimson puts it, they have "strength for initial defense of the west wall." The Germans claim to have sixty divisions in western Europe, and I understand from informed quarters that while this figure probably is true on paper, the divisions have been so weakened by losses that their actual strength likely is nearer forty. This might mean anything up to half a million fighting men.

That isn't enough Germans to hold the line, though they may cause considerable delay. Propagandist Goebbels virtually admitted that the west wall was doomed when he threatened that the Nazis within the Reich are prepared to wage guerrilla warfare to the death. They're ready for fighting on the home soil.

Temperance Union Meets Thursday

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. H. E. Berkey, Broadway.

Mrs. Milton Remmel, president, presided and Mrs. Berkey had charge of the devotions. The subject of the evening's discussion was "Legislation and Citizenship" and a number of articles relating to the subject were read.

The articles included "Do You Advertise," "What Did Lincoln Say About Strong Drink" "The Voice of the Church," and "How About Your Letter to Congress."

Following the business session a social hour was held. The next meeting will be held in November at the home of Mrs. Frank Grinder.

and institute dues, $1.50, a total of $7. All checks are to be made payable to Robert A. Bream, treasurer, Adams County Teachers' institute.

Does Lecture Work

The Rev. Mr. Sherwood was born without sight. He graduated from the Maryland School for the Blind and then worked his way through public high school. Following that he won high honors with the class of 1934 at Union college and obtained his master's degree two years later from the Albany State Teachers' college. He has been a leader in youth work for 14 years and carries on his lecture work in addition to his pastoral duties.

Hock is a graduate of Muhlenberg college in the class of 1932 and of the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1935. Since his graduation from the law school he has given many addresses through the Middle Atlantic states to service clubs, women's organizations, educational groups and conventions. He will speak twice at the institute October 27. His first address at 10 o'clock in the morning will be entitled "The Rebirth of a Nation," and his second talk at 3 o'clock in the afternoon will be "Aladdin Had a Lamp."

WAC Sgt Frazee Goes To Georgia

Sgt. Mary E. Frazee, daughter of Major and Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, formerly of Gettysburg, left Ft. Knox, Kentucky, Thursday for Lawson General hospital, Atlanta, Ga., where she will take a nine-month course in physio-therapy leading to a second lieutenant's commission in the Medical Corps. She is in the Women's Army Corps.

Miss Frazee, recently promoted to sergeant, has been at the armored school at Ft. Knox for the last year. Her father, formerly manager of the Murphy five and 10 cent store here, is stationed at Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

Sgt. Frazee's brother, Lt. Commander Murray B. Frazee, Jr., met his sister for the first time in three years when he stopped to visit his parents in Indiana en route east from submarine duty in the Pacific last week.

CRITICAL CONDITION

Walter L. Moore, 155 North Washington street, is reported in a critical condition at his home as the result of a stroke suffered recently.

ARNHEM UPSET BLOCKS ALLIED 1944 VICTORY

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—The failure of Allied airborne troops at Arnhem, in the opinion of OWI Director Elmer Davis, makes "more remote" the chances of victory in Europe this year.

Davis said yesterday the "Arnhem affair" had made out of date an Office of War Information report put out three weeks ago which predicted Germany would go down "before, or not long after, the end of 1944."

He referred to the heroic 11-day struggle to hold a bridgehead across the Rhine at Arnhem, Holland, against superior forces.

The report was not intended for publication, but it "leaked" after 8,000 copies were prepared and some 4,000 were distributed to persons in the advertising business.

War Job Best

Forecasts that 5,000,000 workers would change jobs after V-Day in Europe, and that German collapse would bring "widespread and in some quarters serious" dislocations in civilian life were made in the OWI report.

While a substantial part of the displaced workers will be absorbed in the task of re-converting industry, the survey said that "in most cases a war job will continue to be the best job for at least six months after V-E Day."

Intended to guide advertisers in planning future campaigns in behalf of the war effort, the survey said inflationary pressures would increase after V-E Day and "price controls accordingly may be continued for quite some time." The need for heavy government borrowing will continue, it said.

Probable Trends

On rationing, the survey gave these as probable trends following V-E Day:

Butter and sugar—probably will remain rationed.

Cheese, fats, milk and cream, and better grade meats—short supplies for first six months, with rationing uncertain, but plentiful thereafter.

Processed foods, fresh fruits and vegetables—adequate supplies without rationing.

Shoes—rationing will continue; other clothing will be short of civilian need.

Gasoline — Very gradual easing over several-month period.

Fuel Oil—Rationing next winter as well as this.

Find Girl Who Marred Memorial

Through the chief of police at Johnstown, Gettysburg National Park officials have located the person who wrote her name in pencil on the Eternal Light Peace Memorial on September 3. The offender is a high school freshman girl.

Because of the culprit's age, Federal authorities were reluctant to lay charges but asked the Johnstown police chief and the principal of the girl's high school to join in impressing upon her the seriousness of her offense and the trouble that might come from marring the beauty of battlefield memorials.

"The cooperation of the Johnstown school and police authorities was very effective and helpful," Dr. J. Walter Coleman, National park superintendent, said today.

The girl not only scrawled her name on the memorial but conveniently added her address, apparently unaware that she was committing an offense for which there is a heavy fine.

Presbyterians To Mark Rally Day

Rally Day will be observed in the Presbyterian Sunday school Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock when attendance awards for the year and promotion certificates will be distributed at special exercises.

Newville Home Sunday will be observed in the church with members being asked to bring foodstuffs, sick room supplies or cash for the Presbyterian Manor home at Newville.

Other church activities listed for next week include the Week-Day Bible school Tuesday afternoon; a covered dish supper meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school with a slide lecture on church school teaching technique; mid-week services at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening when the pastor, the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, will lecture on Genesis. The October meeting of the church session will be held at 8:30 p. m.

2 BURNED TO DEATH

Camden, N. J., Oct. 6 (AP) — Three-year-old Beverly Stewart and her two-year-old brother, Charles, were burned to death yesterday when fire swept the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart. A third child, 11-months-old Gwendolyn, was seriously burned.

BUYERS VACATE TENANTS

Philadelphia, Oct. 6 (AP) — The OPA area rent office reports that home buyers in this vicinity have forced 5,896 tenants to vacate living quarters in the first nine months of this year.

Upper Communities

Mrs. Charles Test has moved from Biglerville R. D. to the property of Miss Clara Myers on Second street, Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eckert are moving this week from the Myers property to the Mott Peters property at Guernsey.

Miss Mildred Osborn will lead the Christian Endeavor society of Trinity-Bender's Evangelical Reformed church Sunday evening. Topics which will be discussed will be "Getting Others to Work with Us" and "Putting Christ First." Special music will be presented by Miss Barbara Geiselman and Miss Patricia Raffensperger.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Warner, of Biglerville, were visitors in Hanover Wednesday.

Miss Amary Auvill, of the Biglerville high school faculty, is spending several days at her home at Moxen.

"What Keeps Our Church Going" will be discussed by Cyrus G. Bucher, leader, at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Biglerville United Brethren church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Miriam Frank, a member of the teaching staff of the Biglerville high school, is visiting in Lewisburg for several days.

Miss Christina Hoff, who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Bowers and other friends in the community, left today for a brief visiting York before returning to Santa Monica, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Taylor, Biglerville R. D., are quietly celebrating their 28th wedding anniversary today.

BULLETINS

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP) — Evidence that Japanese army doctors "are under orders to kill their own patients if their capture appears imminent" is reported by Brig. Gen. R. W. Bliss, assistant surgeon general of the army. Bliss, just back from the Pacific, also told reporters that the Japanese "have bombed their own hospitals with patients in them."

Stockholm, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported today that the last German civilians had been evacuated under cover of night from the German city of Aachen, now menaced on both north and south by U. S. troops. He asserted that reports from the front said 80 per cent of the city was in ruins.

Southeast Asia Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, Oct. 6 (AP)—Indian infantry jungle fighters were reported today to have cut across the top of the so-called "chocolate staircase" highway which leads up the mountains by many twists and turns to the Japanese northwestern Burma base of Tiddim.

Stockholm, Oct. 6 (AP) — The Germans are exerting "very strong" pressure on Tornealv, on the Finnish-Swedish border, in order to relieve the two-way threat to their forces at Kemi to the southeast, the Finnish communique said today.

Tallinn, Estonia, Oct. 5 (Delayed) (AP)—The Soviet Estonian Republic, now freed from three years of German domination, will decide for itself whether to adopt the Russian system of collectivization of agriculture, declares Arnold Veimer, president of the Council of People's Commissars.

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—A plan to keep German industry and labor producing after the war as they have under Hitler, but turning over excess output to the Allies as reparations, was advanced today by Senator Reed (R-Kans).

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie is suffering from a severe throat infection and a "slight congestion of the lungs," his physician, Dr. Benjamin Salzer, said today adding that a throat specialist and heart specialist had been called into consultation.

Moscow, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Soviet sponsored Polish committee of National Liberation expects to annex German territory to the Oder river, which flows within 31 miles of Berlin, and the Baltic port of Stettin on its west bank, the Polpress News Agency declared today.

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, stating "we can not expect any material decline in expenditures during the next several months," says achievement of the Sixth War Loan goal of $14,000,000,000 is "urgently needed."

The force of gravity at the surface of the sun is said to be 27 times greater than that at the surface of the earth.

3 Club Meetings Are Scheduled

Three club meetings were listed today on the itinerary of Miss Mildred Adams, county home economics advisor, for the coming week.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock she will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. C. Miller, New Oxford, and give a talk on nutrition. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock she will meet with a group at the home of Mrs. P. D. Butt, York Springs, while the third meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Denton Miles, Hampton, on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. There a program on adult foods will be held.

Miss Adams also will be in her office in the court house each day during the week.

"AG" TEACHERS MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Adams county agriculture teachers will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools at the court house. A discussion of the progress of the milkweed collection in the county will be undertaken in addition to the regular business.

the Red Cross rooms in the legion building Tuesday evenings.

New Members

Miss Mildred Moser and Miss Carolyn Rupp were announced as new members of the service committee and Miss Jane Wolf as an additional member of the music committee.

Forty-five members and guests attended the club's musicale and high tea held in September.

The week-end conference of the eastern Pennsylvania Business and Professional Women's clubs will be held in Reading November 4 and 5 at the Abraham Lincoln hotel. Members interested in attending the conference should notify Miss Bittinger by October 15.

Activities for the remainder of the month include: hike, wiener roast and camp fire meeting on October 12; committee night, October 19, and informal initiation and Halloween party, October 26.

PACKAGED COAL

Philadelphia, Oct. 6 (AP)—Philadelphia housewives may soon be buying coal over the counter at the corner grocery store. The Defense Plant corporation has announced plans to build a $400,000 coal package plant here, ready for production of 150,000 tons annually sometime next February. The packaged coal will be made from screenings.

BALIKPAPAN IS BLASTED AGAIN BY BIG BOMBERS

By SPENCER DAVIS

Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, Oct. 6 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today that a second crippling blow was dealt Japan's big source of aviation gasoline and lubricating oil at Balikpapan Tuesday by Liberator bombers, seven of which were lost in fierce sky battles with 40 Zeros.

At least 19 and perhaps 24 of the enemy planes were shot down during a battle of more than an hour over the Borneo base while 40 tons of concentrated explosives touched off huge blasts among refineries and storage tanks.

A spokesman said the fierce air opposition plus intense anti-aircraft fire plainly indicated how important the enemy regards preservation of installations which supply 15 per cent of the gasoline and oil used by Nippon's war machine.

Lose 7 Liberators

The loss of seven Liberators was the largest number for a single raid yet announced by this headquarters.

Three Liberators were lost while downing seven Zeros in the first mass raid on Balikpapan last Saturday.

Tokyo radio said that 40 Liberators made up the raiding party Tuesday against Balikpapan, called by MacArthur "the most lucrative, strategic target in the Pacific."

The communique also reported nine enemy fighters sunk or damaged during raids by Allied planes against the Southern Philippines, Amboina and Ceram. Yesterday's communique had listed 10 ocean-going vessels as victims of bombings.

A communique last night at Pearl Harbor by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz told of the bombing of a Japanese destroyer and large cargo ship near Iwo Jima, in the Volcano islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo. It did not claim they were sunk.

Casualty Figures

Nimitz' communique brought casualty figures in the invasion of the Palaus up to date while maintaining the ratio of more than 10 Japanese slain for every American.

From Sept. 15, opening day of the invasion, through yesterday, the total of Japanese dead was placed at 11,043 against 1,022 Americans (771 first division Marines, 251 81st division Army troops). American casualties totaled 7,147, including 6,106 wounded (4,650 Marines, 1,456 soldiers) and 280 missing (267 Marines, 13 soldiers).

ALLIES FORGE 3-MILE GAIN ON ITALIAN FRONT

By WILLIAM B. KING

Rome, Oct. 6 (AP)—American Fifth Army troops hammered out gains up to three miles yesterday over the rain-bogged, mountainous terrain on the approaches to the Po valley. They captured the road junction of Loiano, less than 14 miles south of Bologna on the main road from Florence, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Nazis threw reinforcements of experienced Austrian and German Alpine troops into the central sector adjacent to the highway and unloosed fierce artillery barrages. But on both sides of the road the Allies pushed ahead against the stiff resistance and despite the foul weather.

Headquarters reported the capture of Monzuno, three miles west of Troiano and two miles north of Monte Venere, which was taken Wednesday.

East of Loiano, American doughboys advanced to a point 2,000 yards south of Monterenzio in the muddy hills between Route 65 and Imola.

In Other Sectors

Capture of Loiano gave the Americans a position commanding the highway to the communications center of Bologna.

On their right flank, Americans and forward elements of British pushed forward and dug in on Monte Cece and Monte Della Valle, about 15 air miles from Imola, but were driven back by heavy German counterattacks. In the isolated hill country of the central sector, Indian troops of the British Eighth army pushed upon Monte Caibano and Scarzana and found them clear of enemy troops.

On the Americans' western flank South African troops smashed two counterattacks near Monte Vigese and seized Ripoli.

Despite the weather airmen bombed and strafed rail and motor traffic north of the battle area and enemy shipping in the Adriatic.

Flying Bombs End Week's Lull

London, Oct. 6 (AP)—After a week's lull, flying bombs struck parts of southern England and London during the night—launched from Heinkel aircraft ranging over the North Sea.

At least one of the Robot-carrying planes—which gave away their position by the flash of light emitted in launching the bombs—was shot down in flames by an RAF Mosquito pilot.

The attack lasted only a few minutes but covered a wide area and caused damage and casualties. Two Robots were destroyed by ack ack guns.

One bomb crashed on two cottages in a country lane, killing six persons, including three in one family.

FDR DISOWNS COMMUNISTS; ATTACKS GOP

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt, saying his Republican opponents are spreading "fear propaganda" in stating his administration is plotting to give the Communists control of the government, disowned Communistic support for his fourth term bid in a radio address last night.

Employing such spiked phrases as "rabble rousers," "political propagandists" and "bigots," Mr. Roosevelt declared:

"I have never sought, and I do not welcome the support of any person or group committed to Communism, or Fascism, or any other foreign ideology which would undermine the American system of government or the American system of free competitive enterprise and private property."

"Red Herrings"

The Democratic candidate emphasized that this "does not in the least interfere" with America's friendly relations with the Soviet Union, adding: "The kind of economy that suits the Russian people is their own affair."

He devoted a large part of his second campaign speech—designed primarily as a "get out the vote" appeal—to references of Communism in opposition speeches. He did not mention names, but said it was a "source of regret to all decent Americans that some political propagandists are dragging red herrings across the trail of this national election."

"For example," he asserted, "labor baiters and bigots and some politicians use the term 'Communism' loosely, and apply it to every progressive social measure and to the views of every foreign born citizen with whom they disagree.

"They forget that we in the United States are all descended from immigrants (all except the Indians); and there is no better proof of that fact than the heroic names on our casualty lists."

Mailing Franks

The President referred to a statement by Chairman Anderson (D-N. M.) of the House committee on campaign expenditures that 13 Republicans in Congress had recently sent free through the mails more than 3,000,000 copies of a colleague's speech "requiring more than 18 tons of scarce and expensive paper and * * * at the taxpayers' expense."

This document, Mr. Roosevelt added, "says that the 'red spectre of Communism is stalking our country from east to west, from north to south'—the charge being that the Roosevelt administration is part of a gigantic plot to sell our democracy out to the Communists."

Continuing, the President said: "This form of fear propaganda is not new among rabble rousers and fomenters of class hatred—who seek to destroy democracy itself. It was used by Mussolini's Black Shirts and by Hitler's Brown Shirts. It has been used before in this country by the Silver Shirts and others on the lunatic fringe.

"But the sound and democratic instincts of the American people rebel against its use, particularly by their own Congressmen and at the taxpayers' expense."

TWO KINDS OF PENSIONS PAID VET SURVIVORS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—The government pays two kinds of pensions to survivors of servicemen and veterans.

Group one: Pensions are paid for death in the service in line of duty or for a veteran's death—any time after his military discharge—caused by a disability connected with his military service.

This pension goes to the widow and unmarried minor children.

Parents of veterans in this group are also pensionable, if dependent, but their dependency must be proved.

Death pension rates in all these cases, paid monthly, are:

Widow without child, $50; widow with one child, $65 (with $13 for each additional child although the total monthly payment to widow and children can not exceed $100); no widow but one child, $25; no widow but two children, $38 equally divided, with $10 for each additional child; dependent mother or father, $45; or both, $25 each.

Service-Connected Death

Group two: Pensions are paid for death of a veteran—after discharge from military service—who had a service-connected disability but died of some other cause.

The veterans' administration (VA) pays all death pensions. Its interpretation of Group two is so liberal that almost any service-connected injury or disability will bring a pension to his family after his death from some cause not connected with his military service at all.

These nonservice-connected death pensions go to widows and children only. But this nonservice-connected death pension can not be paid to a widow without children—or to an orphan—whose income exceeds $1,000 yearly, or to a widow with a child or children whose income exceeds $2,500 yearly.

Pension Rates

The pension rates in group two are: Widow, $35 monthly; widow with one child, $45 and $5 for each additional child; for one orphan (no widow), $18; two orphans, $27; three orphans, $36; with additional orphans $4 each.

This seldom mentioned but is worth remembering:

The government will make a gift—called gratuity pay—to the survivors of any serviceman who dies while still in service from any cause not due to his own misconduct.

This payment is an amount equal to 6 months' pay at the rate received by the serviceman at the time of his death. It is not necessary that his death occurred in line of duty. This is paid by the War and Navy departments.

Strikes Costing 12,650 Tons Daily

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6 (AP)—The solid fuels administration estimated today that strikes at four coal mines are costing 12,650 tons of coal production daily.

The Ellsworth, Cokeburg and Marianna pits of the Bethlehem Steel company in Washington county have been shut down for a week by a walkout of 2,100 men.

Nine hundred miners remained idle at the Vesta mine of Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation, at Vestaburg because of a dispute involving the employment of a supervisory employe.

Election Fraud Testimony Given

Bloomsburg, Pa., Oct. 6 (AP)—Testifying in an election case, eight persons told Judge Samuel E. Shull that they did not vote in Conyngham Southeast District of Columbia county last year and their signatures on voting certificates were not authentic.

The testimony was received in the case of four members of the election board—John J. Padden, Anthony L. Rowan, Mrs. Anna Kripplebauer and Edward Gaughan—who are charged with conspiracy and fraud in conduct of an election.

Five of the eight witnesses said they no longer reside in the district, including the following who testified they reside in Philadelphia: Rita Gerrity, Patrick J. Gerrity, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Monahan, the fifth, Anthony B. Dougherty, gave Newark, N. J., as his address.

BOMBERS KEEP POUNDING REICH

London, Oct. 6 (AP)—Daylight bombers kept the Allies' record air offensive rolling today after the RAF hammered Saarbrucken's vital rail yards last night in support of the American ground assault on the Siegfried line.

The German radio reported Allied planes over the Reich again today in the wake of Lancasters and Halifaxes which doused explosives on the key Nazi supply depot less than 50 miles ahead of the American Third Army front. RAF Mosquitos diverted attention from the heavies with another night raid on Berlin.

As a railway point and advanced base, Saarbrucken now is of critical importance to the Germans. It is a focal point for mainlines from nearly every part of Germany. Army units are being outfitted there constantly.

The attack was described officially as "very heavy," one which "should seriously interrupt the flow of supplies to the front."

Bomber crews reported explosions and large fires that appeared to spread all over the city.

IT'S A PROBLEM

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)—The local OPA says, yes, it's true that rings shipped in here from Oklahoma are peddled at above ceiling prices. But the OPA doesn't know how to go about punishing the offender.

The maker of the rings is in the Oklahoma state penitentiary, a life termer.

BURY SMITH ON SATURDAY

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—St. Patrick's Cathedral was prepared today to receive the body of former governor Alfred E. Smith to lie in state in the Lady Chapel this afternoon and in the center aisle of the cathedral tonight.

Reversing an earlier decision, it was announced that the casket would be open through this period in response to many requests.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, who will be unable to attend the funeral at 11 a. m. (EWT) tomorrow because of a speaking engagement in Charleston, West Virginia, tomorrow night, will pay his respects sometime tonight to the man who was four times elected to the office Dewey now holds.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will attend the solemn pontifical mass of requiem. The President has designated Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Terry, commanding general of the Second Service Command, to be his personal representative at the funeral.

The Rt. Rev. Joseph P. Donahue, vicar general of the New York Archdiocese, will preach the sermon. A large part of the cathedral, probably about half, will be open to the public. The rest will be reserved for friends and business associates of the former governor and 1928 Democratic Presidential candidate who died Wednesday.

Police details numbering more than 500 men have been assigned to handle the crowds of mourners expected.

Series Briefs

By BEN T. PHLEGAR

St. Louis, Oct. 6 (AP)—Whitey Kurowski of the Cardinals and Gene Moore of the Browns have the most hits in the series, three apiece, but Emil Verban and George McQuinn have the best batting averages, each with .400. They have made two hits in five official trips to the plate.

An army sergeant drew a round of applause from the fans when he made a nice catch of a foul off Augie Bergamo's bat in the second game. But few who cheered knew the soldier was Tommy Bridges, ex-Detroit pitcher now stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.

Walker Cooper's 15 putouts in the second game established a new series record for a catcher, erasing the old mark of 14 set by Mickey Cochrane in 1929 and Gus Mancuso in 1936. However, the old record was for a nine-inning game. Yesterday's contest ran 11 innings.

Methodists Will Conduct "Crusade"

McKeesport, Pa., Oct. 6 (AP)—Five major aims of the Methodist church will be united in a single campaign — "The Crusade For Christ"—the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist church heard in a report from the board of missions and church extension yesterday.

The Rev. Homer N. Clark, who gave the report, said the campaign will include world relief and reconstruction, evangelism, the crusade of a new world order, stewardship and promotion of church and school enrollment. The financial goal will be $25,000,000.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell, retired Methodist bishop of New York and formerly of Pittsburgh, said in an address on "humanism" that the Christian religion "can lift humanism to a higher plane."

Death pension rates in all these cases, paid monthly, are:

Widow without child, $50; widow with one child, $65 (with $13 for each additional child although the total monthly payment to widow and children can not exceed $100); no widow but one child, $25; no widow but two children, $38 equally divided, with $10 for each additional child; dependent mother or father, $45; or both, $25 each.

Service-Connected Death

Group two: Pensions are paid for death of a veteran—after discharge from military service—who had a service-connected disability but died of some other cause.

The veterans' administration (VA) pays all death pensions. Its interpretation of Group two is so liberal that almost any service-connected injury or disability will bring a pension to his family after his death from some cause not connected with his military service at all.

These nonservice-connected death pensions go to widows and children only. But this nonservice-connected death pension san not be paid to a widow without children—or to an orphan—whose income exceeds $1,000 yearly, or to a widow with a child or children whose income exceeds $2,500 yearly.

Pension Rates

The pension rates in group two are: Widow, $35 monthly; widow with one child, $45 and $5 for each additional child; for one orphan (no widow), $18; two orphans, $27; three orphans, $36; with additional orphans $4 each.

This seldom mentioned but is worth remembering:

The government will make a gift—called gratuity pay—to the survivors of any serviceman who dies while still in service from any cause not due to his own misconduct.

This payment is an amount equal to 6 months' pay at the rate received by the serviceman at the time of his death. It is not necessary that his death occurred in line of duty. This is paid by the War and Navy departments.

Strikes Costing 12,650 Tons Daily

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6 (AP)—The solid fuels administration estimated today that strikes at four coal mines are costing 12,650 tons of coal production daily.

The Ellsworth, Cokeburg and Marianna pits of the Bethlehem Steel company in Washington county have been shut down for a week by a walkout of 2,100 men.

Nine hundred miners remained idle at the Vesta mine of Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation, at Vestaburg because of a dispute involving the employment of a supervisory employe.

Election Fraud Testimony Given

Bloomsburg, Pa., Oct. 6 (AP)—Testifying in an election case, eight persons told Judge Samuel E. Shull that they did not vote in Conyngham Southeast District of Columbia county last year and their signatures on voting certificates were not authentic.

The testimony was received in the case of four members of the election board—John J. Padden, Anthony L. Rowan, Mrs. Anna Krippiebauer and Edward Gaughan—who are charged with conspiracy and fraud in conduct of an election.

Five of the eight witnesses said they no longer reside in the district, including the following who testified they reside in Philadelphia; Rita Gerrity, Patrick J. Gerrity, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Monahan, the fifth, Anthony B. Dougherty, gave Newark, N. J., as his address.

BOMBERS KEEP POUNDING REICH

London, Oct. 6 (AP)—Daylight bombers kept the Allies' record air offensive rolling today after the RAF hammered Saarbrucken's vital rail yards last night in support of the American ground assault on the Siegfried line.

The German radio reported Allied planes over the Reich again today in the wake of Lancasters and Halifaxes which doused explosives on the key Nazi supply depot less than 50 miles ahead of the American Third Army front. RAF Mosquitos diverted attention from the heavies with another night raid on Berlin.

As a railway point and advanced base, Saarbrucken now is of critical importance to the Germans. It is a focal point for mainlines from nearly every part of Germany. Army units are being outfitted there constantly.

The attack was described officially as "very heavy," one which "should seriously interrupt the flow of supplies to the front."

Bomber crews reported explosions and large fires that appeared to spread all over the city.

BURY SMITH ON SATURDAY

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—St. Patrick's Cathedral was prepared today to receive the body of former governor Alfred E. Smith to lie in state in the Lady Chapel this afternoon and in the center aisle of the cathedral tonight.

Reversing an earlier decision, it was announced that the casket would be open through this period in response to many requests.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, who will be unable to attend the funeral at 11 a. m. (EWT) tomorrow because of a speaking engagement in Charleston, West Virginia, tomorrow night, will pay his respects sometime tonight to the man who was four times elected to the office Dewey now holds.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will attend the solemn pontifical mass of requiem. The President has designated Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Terry, commanding general of the Second Service Command, to be his personal representative at the funeral.

The Rt. Rev. Joseph P. Donahue, vicar general of the New York Archdiocese, will preach the sermon. A large part of the cathedral, probably about half, will be open to the public. The rest will be reserved for friends and business associates of the former governor and 1928 Democratic Presidential candidate who died Wednesday.

Police details numbering more than 500 men have been assigned to handle the crowds of mourners expected.

St. Louis, Oct. 6 (AP)—Whitey Kurowski of the Cardinals and Gene Moore of the Browns have the most hits in the series, three apiece, but Emil Verban and George McQuinn have the best batting averages, each with .400. They have made two hits in five official trips to the plate.

An army sergeant drew a round of applause from the fans when he made a nice catch of a foul off Augie Bergamo's bat in the second game. But few who cheered knew the soldier was Tommy Bridges, ex-Detroit pitcher now stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.

Walker Cooper's 15 putouts in the second game established a new series record for a catcher, erasing the old mark of 14 set by Mickey Cochrane in 1929 and Gus Mancuso in 1936. However, the old record was for a nine-inning game. Yesterday's contest ran 11 innings.

Methodists Will Conduct "Crusade"

McKeesport, Pa., Oct. 6 (AP)—Five major aims of the Methodist church will be united in a single campaign — "The Crusade For Christ"—the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist church heard in a report from the board of missions and church extension yesterday.

The Rev. Homer N. Clark, who gave the report, said the campaign will include world relief and reconstruction, evangelism, the crusade of a new world order, stewardship and promotion of church and school enrollment. The financial goal will be $25,000,000.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell, retired Methodist bishop of New York and formerly of Pittsburgh, said in an address on "humanism" that the Christian religion "can lift humanism to a higher plane."

BALIKPAPAN IS BLASTED AGAIN BY BIG BOMBERS

By SPENCER DAVIS

Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, Oct. 6 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today that a second crippling blow was dealt Japan's big source of aviation gasoline and lubricating oil at Balikpapan Tuesday by Liberator bombers, seven of which were lost in fierce sky battles with 40 Zeros.

At least 19 and perhaps 24 of the enemy planes were shot down during a battle of more than an hour over the Borneo base while 40 tons of concentrated explosives touched off huge blasts among refineries and storage tanks.

A spokesman said the fierce air opposition plus intense anti-aircraft fire plainly indicated how important the enemy regards preservation of installations which supply 15 per cent of the gasoline and oil used by Nippon's war machine.

Lose 7 Liberators

The loss of seven Liberators was the largest number for a single raid yet announced by this headquarters.

Three Liberators were lost while downing seven Zeros in the first mass raid on Balikpapan last Saturday.

Tokyo radio said that 40 Liberators made up the raiding party Tuesday against Balikpapan, called by MacArthur "the most lucrative, strategic target in the Pacific."

The communique also reported nine enemy fighters sunk or damaged during raids by Allied planes against the Southern Philippines, Amboina and Ceram. Yesterday's communique had listed 10 ocean-going vessels as victims of bombings.

A communique last night at Pearl Harbor by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz told of the bombing of a Japanese destroyer and large cargo ship near Iwo Jima, in the Volcano islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo. It did not claim they were sunk.

Casualty Figures

Nimitz' communique brought casualty figures in the invasion of the Palaus up to date while maintaining the ratio of more than 10 Japanese slain for every American.

From Sept. 15, opening day of the invasion, through yesterday, the total of Japanese dead was placed at 11,043 against 1,022 Americans (771 first division Marines, 251 81st division Army troops). American casualties totaled 7,147, including 6,106 wounded (4,650 Marines, 1,456 soldiers) and 280 missing (267 Marines, 13 soldiers).

ALLIES FORGE 3-MILE GAIN ON ITALIAN FRONT

By WILLIAM B. KING

Rome, Oct. 6 (AP)—American Fifth Army troops hammered out gains up to three miles yesterday over the rain-bogged, mountainous terrain on the approaches to the Po valley. They captured the road junction of Loiano, less than 14 miles south of Bologna on the main road from Florence, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Nazis threw reinforcements of experienced Austrian and German Alpine troops into the central sector adjacent to the highway and unloosed fierce artillery barrages. But on both sides of the road the Allies pushed ahead against the stiff resistance and despite the foul weather.

Headquarters reported the capture of Monzuno, three miles west of Troiano and two miles north of Monte Venere, which was taken Wednesday.

East of Loiano, American doughboys advanced to a point 2,000 yards south of Monterenzio in the muddy hills between Route 65 and Imola.

In Other Sectors

Capture of Loiano gave the Americans a position commanding the highway to the communications center of Bologna.

On their right flank, Americans and forward elements of British pushed forward and dug in on Monte Cece and Monte Della Valle, about 15 air miles from Imola, but were driven back by heavy German counterattacks. In the isolated hill country of the central sector, Indian troops of the British Eighth army pushed upon Monte Caibano and Scarzana and found them clear of enemy troops.

On the Americans' western flank South African troops smashed two counterattacks near Monte Vigese and seized Ripoli.

Despite the weather airmen bombed and strafed rail and motor traffic north of the battle area and enemy shipping in the Adriatic.

Flying Bombs End Week's Lull

London, Oct. 6 (AP)—After a week's lull, flying bombs struck parts of southern England and London during the night—launched from Heinkel aircraft ranging over the North Sea.

At least one of the Robot-carrying planes—which gave away their position by the flash of light emitted in launching the bombs—was shot down in flames by an RAF Mosquito pilot.

The attack lasted only a few minutes but covered a wide area and caused damage and casualties. Two Robots were destroyed by ack ack guns.

One bomb crashed on two cottages in a country lane, killing six persons, including three in one family.

FDR DISOWNS COMMUNISTS; ATTACKS GOP

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt, saying his Republican opponents are spreading "fear propaganda" in stating his administration is plotting to give the Communists control of the government, disowned Communistic support for his fourth term bid in a radio address last night.

Employing such spiked phrases as "rabble rousers," "political propagandists" and "bigots," Mr. Roosevelt declared:

"I have never sought, and I do not welcome the support of any person or group committed to Communism, or Fascism, or any other foreign ideology which would undermine the American system of government or the American system of free competitive enterprise and private property."

"Red Herrings"

The Democratic candidate emphasized that this "does not in the least interfere" with America's friendly relations with the Soviet Union, adding: "The kind of economy that suits the Russian people is their own affair."

He devoted a large part of his second campaign speech—designed primarily as a "get out the vote" appeal—to references of Communism in opposition speeches. He did not mention names, but said it was a "source of regret to all decent Americans that some political propagandists are dragging red herrings across the trail of this national election."

"For example," he asserted, "labor baiters and bigots and some politicians use the term 'Communism' loosely, and apply it to every progressive social measure and to the views of every foreign born citizen with whom they disagree.

"They forget that we in the United States are all descended from immigrants (all except the Indians); and there is no better proof of that fact than the heroic names on our casualty lists."

Mailing Franks

The President referred to a statement by Chairman Anderson (D-N. M.) of the House committee on campaign expenditures that 13 Republicans in Congress had recently sent free through the mails more than 3,000,000 copies of a colleague's speech "requiring more than 18 tons of scarce and expensive paper and * * * at the taxpayers' expense."

This document, Mr. Roosevelt added, "says that the 'red spectre of Communism is stalking our country from east to west, from north to south'—the charge being that the Roosevelt administration is part of a gigantic plot to sell our democracy out to the Communists."

Continuing, the President said: "This form of fear propaganda is not new among rabble rousers and fomenters of class hatred—who seek to destroy democracy itself. It was used by Mussolini's Black Shirts and by Hitler's Brown Shirts. It has been used before in this country by the Silver Shirts and others on the lunatic fringe.

"But the sound and democratic instincts of the American people rebel against its use, particularly by their own Congressmen and at the taxpayers' expense."

TWO KINDS OF PENSIONS PAID VET SURVIVORS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—The government pays two kinds of pensions to survivors of servicemen and veterans.

Group one: Pensions are paid for death in the service in line of duty or for a veteran's death—any time after his military discharge—caused by a disability connected with his military service.

This pension goes to the widow and unmarried minor children.

Parents of veterans in this group are also pensionable, if dependent, but their dependency must be proved.

Death pension rates in all these cases, paid monthly, are:

Widow without child, $50; widow with one child, $65 (with $13 for each additional child although the total monthly payment to widow and children can not exceed $160); no widow but one child, $25; no widow but two children, $38 equally divided, with $10 for each additional child; dependent mother or father, $45; or both, $25 each.

Service-Connected Death

Group two: Pensions are paid for death of a veteran—after discharge from military service—who had a service-connected disability but died of some other cause.

The veterans' administration (VA) pays all death pensions. Its interpretation of Group two is so liberal that almost any service-connected injury or disability will bring a pension to his family after his death from some cause not connected with his military service at all.

These nonservice-connected death pensions go to widows and children only. But this nonservice-connected death pension san not be paid to a widow without children—or to an orphan—whose income exceeds $1,000 yearly, or to a widow with a child or children whose income exceeds $2,500 yearly.

Pension Rates

The pension rates in group two are: Widow, $35 monthly; widow with one child, $45 and $5 for each additional child; for one orphan (no widow), $18; two orphans, $27; three orphans, $36; with additional orphans $4 each.

This seldom mentioned but is worth remembering:

NOTICE TO LANDOWNERS

of Adams County

THE legal way to keep hunters off your land is to give notice publicly that your land is closed to them. Usually hundreds of landowners in the county take advantage of this Gettysburg Times offer to give warning to hunters.

The Gettysburg Times will publish its annual trespass list Monday, October 16th, warning hunters to stay off lands.

This list will be published frequently throughout the hunting season.

The cost is only $1.00 for the entire season. If you want your land properly posted just drop us a card to that effect or call us on the telephone, giving name and location of your property.

The Times also can furnish trespass cards at the rate of six for twenty-five cents, or five cents each.

Just Folks

HEEDLESS

A woman's patience I
Perhaps was born to try.
Cluttered with manners sad
Which drive a woman mad.
Heedless of toil and care
I am the wife's despair!
Hear her: "For goodness' sake!
Pains will you never take?

"Was it your mother's way
Thoughtless to let you stay?
Follow you day and night
Setting your path aright:
Did she not wish you neat,
Careful of hands and feet?
Did she not once express
Scorn of your heedlessness?"

Answering her I say:
"Guess I was born this way!
P'raps by some ancient kin
Thus was I marked within;
Never hang things on hooks.
Close drawers or put back books;
Your patience oft to try
Down to the day I die."

Today's Talk

HABITUAL THOUGHTS

Our daily thoughts suggest the plane upon which we delight most to live as a human being. It is probably impossible for any of us to live out a day without unconsciously letting in thoughts into our minds that we take no pleasure in, and which we usually immediately dismiss.

All of us, however, have habitual thoughts that stream through our minds, year in and year out—clean, noble, and inspiring thoughts, upon a multitude of subjects, but which form the living life-tapestry of our minds. To this habit we should forever cling. It is impossible to associate with anyone for long without learning the habitual track over which that one's thoughts take daily travel.

These habitual thoughts of ours have their influence in selecting friends, intimate companions, the books read, the places that become most endearing, and in fact they contribute to one's personal plan and philosophy of life to a greater extent than anything else. By a man's thoughts he is known.

What is a personality but a picture of the accumulated habitual thoughts of a man or woman? They speak for him in his very face, his attitude toward life, and through both his spoken and written words.

Even one's health—and certainly one's happiness—is a product of habitual, daily thoughts. The writer, or artist, puts these thoughts into everything created. There you see him or her. No deception—but the truth, without any alloy.

By learning of a person's reading habits, or his likes and dislikes, or those friends with whom he most delights to associate, you get an immediate line upon his habitual thoughts. He examples himself. Go into any art gallery, or into any library, and there you will learn the habitual thoughts of both artist and writer. There they live in line and color, and upon the printed page.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Contrast—Island and City"

Strike Looming In Hollywood

Hollywood, Oct. 6 (AP)—The platinum plated movie industry which hasn't had a grade-A strike since 1937, was keeping its well-manicured fingers crossed today after the outbreak of a union jurisdictional squabble which, all parties agreed, could possibly tie up the whole picture making machine.

The row, which started with the screen set designers walking out yesterday when their demands for a closed shop were refused, is between two AFL groups—the screen set designers local of the painters, decorators and paperhangers of America, and the international alliance of theatrical stage employes.

At issue is jurisdiction over the set decorators, the workers responsible in part for the lavish settings in which actors and actresses emote.

60 Head of Registered Holstein Cattle, all bloodtested, most of which are certified, and many vaccinated animals.

35 Head of Milk Cows, nearly all fresh or close springers, balance in heavy production. One 5-year-old daughter of a cow that has a life-time record in 11 years—352 days, 178.076 pounds milk, 6,637.7 pounds fat and still producing. Several cows that have records of over 500 pounds fat and others between 450 and 500 pounds fat, including 20 Canadian first-calf heifers that will freshen soon, eligible to go anywhere. These heifers are sired by a son of a 900-pound cow and bred to a son of a 500-pound 2-year-old.

Several 2-year-old bred heifers, yearling and heifer calves of vaccination age, from cows with records close 500 pounds of fat. Ten bulls from calves to 18 months of age, six of which are sired by an Osborndale bull, whose five nearest dams average 971.48 pounds fat, test 4 per cent, others equally as well-bred.

The above animals are consigned from some of the best Holstein herds in the county and worthy the attention of the particular buyer.

ALLIES BLAST KITA ISLAND

(By The Associated Press)

Twelve American Liberators bombed Kit island Thursday morning in the deepest reported penetration of the Kurile islands, the Japanese Domei news agency said today.

The broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications commission, claimed that two attacking planes were shot down in "a fierce air battle."

Tiny Kita island is 310 miles northeast of Hokkaido, northernmost of the main islands of Japan. The closest previously announced approach to Japan proper by Aleutian-based bombers was in four attacks from mid-May to mid-June on Shimushiri, 400 miles northeast of Hokkaido.

Fifty medium bombers, presumably operating from a former Japanese airfield on Peleliu, raided Babelthuap, largest of the Palau islands, another Domei dispatch said.

Domei reported Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso warned a cabinet meeting that the Pacific war has "now reached a grave situation which will decide the rise or fall of Imperial Japan." This has been a stock expression of Nipponese leaders for the last six months.

Candidates Seek Industrial Votes

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6 (AP)—Pennsylvania's candidates for the U. S. senate — Republican incumbent James J. Davis and his Democratic opponent, Francis J. Myers—continued campaign tours through the western part of the state, both pleading for the heavy industrial vote.

Davis told a southside rally here last night that he opposed assessment of labor for political purposes, "just as I have opposed the use of stockholders' funds by corporations or the same purpose."

At Washington, Pa., hometown of Gov. Edward Martin, a Democratic rally heard Myers publicly ask the governor to explain how he can support Davis for re-election in view of what Myers described as "the governor's slashing attack on Davis' isolationism two years ago."

Just Folks

HEEDLESS

A woman's patience I
Perhaps was born to try.
Cluttered with manners sad
Which drive a woman mad.
Heedless of toil and care
I am the wife's despair!
Hear her: "For goodness' sake!
Pains will you never take?

"Was it your mother's way
Thoughtless to let you stay?
Follow you day and night
Setting your path aright;
Did she not wish you neat,
Careful of hands and feet?
Did she not once express
Scorn of your heedlessness?"

Answering her I say:
"Guess I was born this way!
P'raps by some ancient kin
Thus was I marked within;
Never hang things on hooks,
Close drawers or put back books;
Your patience oft to try
Down to the day I die."

Today's Talk

HABITUAL THOUGHTS

Our daily thoughts suggest the plane upon which we delight most to live as a human being. It is probably impossible for any of us to live out a day without unconsciously letting in thoughts into our minds that we take no pleasure in, and which we usually immediately dismiss.

All of us, however, have habitual thoughts that stream through our minds, year in and year out—clean, noble, and inspiring thoughts, upon a multitude of subjects, but which form the living life-tapestry of our minds. To this habit we should forever cling. It is impossible to associate with anyone for long without learning the habitual track over which that one's thoughts take daily travel.

These habitual thoughts of ours have their influence in selecting friends, intimate companions, the books read, the places that become most endearing, and in fact they contribute to one's personal plan and philosophy of life to a greater extent than anything else. By a man's thoughts he is known.

What is a personality but a picture of the accumulated habitual thoughts of a man or woman? They speak for him in his very face, his attitude toward life, and through both his spoken and written words.

Even one's health—and certainly one's happiness—is a product of habitual, daily thoughts. The writer, or artist, puts these thoughts into everything created. There you see him or her. No deception—but the truth, without any alloy.

By learning of a person's reading habits, or his likes and dislikes, or those friends with whom he most delights to associate, you get an immediate line upon his habitual thoughts. He examples himself. Go into any art gallery, or into any library, and there you will learn the habitual thoughts of both artist and writer. There they live in line and color, and upon the printed page.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Contrast—Island and City"

Strike Looming In Hollywood

Hollywood, Oct. 6 (AP)—The platinum plated movie industry, which hasn't had a grade-A strike since 1937, was keeping its well-manicured fingers crossed today after the outbreak of a union jurisdictional squabble which, all parties agreed, could possibly tie up the whole picture making business.

The row, which flared into the open yesterday when more than 200 workers participated in a walkout, is between two AFL groups—the screen set designers local of the painters, decorators and paperhangers of America, and the international alliance of theatrical stage employes.

At issue is jurisdiction over the set decorators, the workers responsible in part for the lavish settings in which actors and actresses emote.

60 Head of Registered Holstein Cattle, all bloodtested, most of which are certified, and many vaccinated animals.

35 Head of Milk Cows, nearly all fresh or close springers, balance in heavy production. One 5-year-old daughter of a cow that has a life-time record in 11 years—352 days, 178,076 pounds milk, 6,637.7 pounds fat and still producing. Several cows that have records of over 500 pounds fat and others between 450 and 500 pounds fat, including 20 Canadian first-calf heifers that will freshen soon, eligible to go anywhere. These heifers are sired by a son of a 900-pound cow and bred to a son of a 500-pound 2-year-old.

Several 2-year-old bred heifers, yearling and heifer calves of vaccination age, from cows with records close 500 pounds of fat. Ten bulls from calves to 18 months of age, six of which are sired by an Osborndale bull, whose five nearest dams average 971.48 pounds fat, test 4 per cent, others equally as well-bred.

The above animals are consigned from some of the best Holstein herds in the county and worthy the attention of the particular buyer.

Why NOT DO SOMETHING ABOUT WORMS IN YOUR POULTRY FLOCKS?

THE LABOR-SAVING FLOCK TREATMENT

Birds heavily infested with large roundworms or cecal worms simply cannot lay their best. Remove these worms with Dr. Salsbury's AVI-TON.

This flock treatment contains recognized drugs, including Phenothiazine. It is palatable — easy on the birds.

ALLIES BLAST KITA ISLAND

(By The Associated Press)

Twelve American Liberators bombed Kit island Thursday morning in the deepest reported penetration of the Kurile islands, the Japanese Domei news agency said today.

The broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications commission, claimed that two attacking planes were shot down in "a fierce air battle."

Tiny Kita island is 310 miles northeast of Hokkaido, northernmost of the main islands of Japan. The closest previously announced approach to Japan proper by Aleutian-based bombers was in four attacks from mid-May to mid-June on Shimushiri, 400 miles northeast of Hokkaido.

Fifty medium bombers, presumably operating from a former Japanese airfield on Peleliu, raided Babelthuap, largest of the Palau islands, another Domei dispatch said.

Domei reported Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso warned a cabinet meeting that the Pacific war has "now reached a grave situation which will decide the rise or fall of Imperial Japan." This has been a stock expression of Nipponese leaders for the last six months.

Candidates Seek Industrial Votes

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6 (AP)—Pennsylvania's candidates for the U. S. senate — Republican incumbent James J. Davis and his Democratic opponent, Francis J. Myers—continued campaign tours through the western part of the state, both pleading for the heavy industrial vote.

Davis told a southside rally here last night that he opposed assessment of labor for political purposes, "just as I have opposed the use of stockholders' funds by corporations or the same purpose."

At Washington, Pa., hometown of Gov. Edward Martin, a Democratic rally heard Myers publicly ask the governor to explain how he can support Davis for re-election in view of what Myers described as "the governor's slashing attack on Davis' isolationism two years ago."

Just Folks

HEEDLESS

A woman's patience I
Perhaps was born to try.
Cluttered with manners sad
Which drive a woman mad.
Heedless of toil and care
I am the wife's despair!
Hear her: "For goodness' sake!
Pains will you never take?

"Was it your mother's way
Thoughtless to let you stay?
Follow you day and night
Setting your path aright;
Did she not wish you neat,
Careful of hands and feet?
Did she not once express
Scorn of your heedlessness?"

Answering her I say:
"Guess I was born this way!
P'raps by some ancient kin
Thus was I marked within;
Never hang things on hooks,
Close drawers or put back books;
Your patience oft to try
Down to the day I die."

Today's Talk

HABITUAL THOUGHTS

Our daily thoughts suggest the plane upon which we delight most to live as a human being. It is probably impossible for any of us to live out a day without unconsciously letting in thoughts into our minds that we take no pleasure in, and which we usually immediately dismiss.

All of us, however, have habitual thoughts that stream through our minds, year in and year out—clean, noble, and inspiring thoughts, upon a multitude of subjects, but which form the living life-tapestry of our minds. To this habit we should forever cling. It is impossible to associate with anyone for long without learning the habitual track over which that one's thoughts take daily travel.

These habitual thoughts of ours have their influence in selecting friends, intimate companions, the books read, the places that become most endearing, and in fact they contribute to one's personal plan and philosophy of life to a greater extent than anything else. By a man's thoughts he is known.

What is a personality but a picture of the accumulated habitual thoughts of a man or woman? They speak for him in his very face, his attitude toward life, and through both his spoken and written words.

Even one's health—and certainly one's happiness—is a product of habitual, daily thoughts. The writer, or artist, puts these thoughts into everything created. There you see him or her. No deception—but the truth, without any alloy.

By learning of a person's reading habits, or his likes and dislikes, or those friends with whom he most delights to associate, you get an immediate line upon his habitual thoughts. He examples himself. Go into any art gallery, or into any library, and there you will learn the habitual thoughts of both artist and writer. There they live in line and color, and upon the printed page.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Contrast—Island and City"

Strike Looming In Hollywood

Hollywood, Oct. 6 (AP)—The platinum plated movie industry, which hasn't had a grade-A strike since 1937, was keeping its well-manicured fingers crossed today after the outbreak of a union jurisdictional squabble which, all parties agreed, could possibly tie up the whole picture making business.

The row, which flared into the open yesterday when more than 200 workers participated in a walkout, is between two AFL groups—the screen set designers local of the painters, decorators and paperhangers of America, and the international alliance of theatrical stage employes.

At issue is jurisdiction over the set decorators, the workers responsible in part for the lavish settings in which actors and actresses emote.

ALLIES BLAST KITA ISLAND

(By The Associated Press)

Twelve American Liberators bombed Kit island Thursday morning in the deepest reported penetration of the Kurile islands, the Japanese Domei news agency said today.

The broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications commission, claimed that two attacking planes were shot down in "a fierce air battle."

Tiny Kita island is 310 miles northeast of Hokkaido, northernmost of the main islands of Japan. The closest previously announced approach to Japan proper by Aleutian-based bombers was in four attacks from mid-May to mid-June on Shimushiri, 400 miles northeast of Hokkaido.

Fifty medium bombers, presumably operating from a former Japanese airfield on Peleliu, raided Babelthuap, largest of the Palau islands, another Domei dispatch said.

Domei reported Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso warned a cabinet meeting that the Pacific war has "now reached a grave situation which will decide the rise or fall of Imperial Japan." This has been a stock expression of Nipponese leaders for the last six months.

will be held on the T. W. McCleary farm, located 1 mile west of Chambersburg on Route 30, then 4 miles south on Route 995, on

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1944

60 Head of Registered Holstein Cattle, all bloodtested, most of which are certified, and many vaccinated animals.

35 Head of Milk Cows, nearly all fresh or close springers, balance in heavy production. One 5-year-old daughter of a cow that has a life-time record in 11 years—352 days, 178,076 pounds milk, 6,637.7 pounds fat and still producing. Several cows that have records of over 500 pounds fat and others between 450 and 500 pounds fat, including 20 Canadian first-calf heifers that will freshen soon, eligible to go anywhere. These heifers are sired by a son of a 900-pound cow and bred to a son of a 500-pound 2-year-old.

Several 2-year-old bred heifers, yearling and heifer calves of vaccination age, from cows with records close 500 pounds of fat. Ten bulls from calves to 18 months of age, six of which are sired by an Osborndale bull, whose five nearest dams average 971.48 pounds fat, test 4 per cent, others equally as well-bred.

The above animals are consigned from some of the best Holstein herds in the county and worthy the attention of the particular buyer.

Candidates Seek Industrial Votes

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6 (AP)—Pennsylvania's candidates for the U. S. senate — Republican incumbent James J. Davis and his Democratic opponent, Francis J. Myers—continued campaign tours through the western part of the state, both pleading for the heavy industrial vote.

Davis told a southside rally here last night that he opposed assessment of labor for political purposes, "just as I have opposed the use of stockholders' funds by corporations or the same purpose."

At Washington, Pa., hometown of Gov. Edward Martin, a Democratic rally heard Myers publicly ask the governor to explain how he can support Davis for re-election in view of what Myers described as "the governor's slashing attack on Davis' isolationism two years ago."

ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION VIII OF THE ORDINANCE ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE GRADING, GUTTERING CURBING AND REPAIRING OF THE SIDE OR FOOT-WALKS," ORDAINED AND APPROVED AUGUST 4, 1905, BY PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION OF THE COST OF WORK AND MATERIAL WITH TEN PER CENTUM ADDED FROM THE OWNER WHEN GRADING, PAVING, CURBING, GUTTERING AND/OR REPAIRING OF SIDE OR FOOT-WALKS IS DONE BY THE BOROUGH UPON THE NEGLECT OF THE OWNER TO COMPLY WITH NOTICES TO PERFORM SUCH WORK.

Be it erected and ordained by the Burgess and the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, and it hereby is enacted and ordained by authority of the same, that Section VIII of the ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance Regulating the Grading, Guttering, Curbing and Repairing of the Side or Foot-walks" approved Aug. 4, 1905, Foot-walks", approved August 4, 1905, which reads as follows:

"On failure of any such owner to grade, pave, curb and gutter in accordance with the requirements of this ordinance, after thirty (30) days' notice given by the Council, or make the necessary repairs or proper grade after fifteen (15) days' notice given as aforesaid, the Highway Committee shall proceed to cause such grading, paving, curbing, guttering and repairing as may be necessary to be done, and the Borough Attorney shall at once collect the cost of the work and material, with ten per centum added thereto, from such owner, as claims are by law recoverable."

Be and the same hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Upon the neglect of any owner of lots to grade, pave, curb, or gutter any side or foot-walks after thirty days' notice given by direction of the Borough Council or to make the necessary repairs to any side or foot-walks after fifteen days' notice by the Borough Council, the Highway Committee of the Borough Council shall cause such grading, paving, curbing, guttering and repairing to be done at the cost of such owner, and such cost thereof and ten per centum additional, together with all charges and expenses, shall be collected from such owner through the filing of a municipal claim therefor or an action in assumpsit as provided for by law."

Ordained and enacted into an ordinance this — day of October, 1944.

H. M. OYLER,
President.

Attest:
Anna B. Dracha, Secretary
Approved this 5th day of October, 1944.
FRED G. PFEFFER,
Burgess.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg in its annual budget for the year 1944, failed to anticipate necessary expenditures for the resurfacing of highways at points where excavations are made by public utilities and others under and pursuant to digging permits, and

Whereas, in estimating revenues to the Borough the Council failed to take into consideration fees for permits for such excavations, and

Whereas, an unusual and unexpectedly large number of such excavations are being made during the current year resulting in unanticipated receipts from such fees of approximately $4,000.00 and the necessity for spending approximately that amount for such resurfacing.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Burgess and the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg that as a result of the foregoing facts an emergency exists, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that such sums as have been or may be received for said permits be and the same hereby are appropriated for the use of the Highway Committee in the work of resurfacing highways in addition to the funds allocated for the use of said committee in said budget.

Adopted this 2nd day of October 1944
H. M. OYLER
President.

Chapter 26

When Thorny came in with Susan and Julie there was no display of dramatics. Erich was sitting there across the Constable's littered desk in the sharp glare of a naked electric light bulb suspended from the ceiling and shaded by a disc of yellow cardboard. The color was drained from his face. His eyes glossed by a diaphanous film, his clothes hung on him dripping, his hair was mussed, his face grimy. The brief smile that he turned on them was grim but courageous.

Julie walked over and put her hand on his shoulder. It was a simple gesture but it seemed to transfer some of her strength to him. His face perceptibly brightened.

The Constable dragged up some old straight-backed chairs and formed them into a semicircle. When everyone was seated he said, "Now, start from the beginning and tell us exactly what happened."

Erich spoke unhesitatingly and looked the Constable coolly in the eye.

"I worked late at the factory," he said. "When I got home around twelve I put my car in the garage and decided to walk down to the boathouse. I had painted my rowboat with a new waterproof paint. I've been experimenting with and was anxious to know how long it took to dry."

The Constable nodded sagely.

"Then I started down the driveway and took the cut-off to the old road that leads from the lake to the highway."

Erich continued: "While I was walking along I heard a car coming pretty fast but I couldn't see any headlights. It came around a bend in the road and I jumped out of the way. When the driver saw me he turned on a powerful spotlight and blinded me so I couldn't see what kind of a car it was or anyone in it."

"A spotlight, eh?" the Constable mused. "Well I reckon half the cars in town have spotlights since Lockhart had that special sale on them at the hardware store." He gestured to Erich to continue.

"When I got down to the boathouse my boat was gone.

"Out across the lake I saw the boat. Or at least part of it. It was about half submerged and wasn't more than a hundred yards from shore. I waded out to it and found the dead man tied to the seat."

"Seemed kinda funny to me," the Constable said, "that you wouldn't stop to take off your clothes before you jumped into the lake. Why were you in such a big hurry?"

Erich flushed a little. "Because the boat was sinking and I knew it was going to be hard enough to drag it in half filled with water without letting it sink completely."

"This man you found in the boat. You didn't recognize him?"

"No."

"What did he look like?"

"Man about sixty. Thin, white hair, small moustache poorly dressed."

"Did you look for papers of any kind on him that might identify him?"

"Yes, but whoever killed him had taken care of that. His wallet was gone, if he carried one, and there wasn't a thing in his pockets."

"Is that all?"

"That's all. As soon as I had pulled the boat into shore I came right down here to make a report."

The Constable made a few notes on a scratch pad. Before he was finished the door opened and Jed Black, the undertaker came in. "What's all the excitement?"

"Tell you about it on the way," the Constable said quickly. "Right now we're picking up the coroner and going to the Scarbrough boathouse for a body."

The Constable took his hat off the corner rack. "You folks can stay here if you care to. We'll be back in a few minutes and maybe some of you can help identify the dead man."

After the door had closed Thorny said, "Well, I'll be damned. Seems like just when things begin to come our way a little something always has to happen."

Susan moved over next to Erich. He took her hand. "Don't worry, Julie," he said. "We'll get this straightened out."

Susan felt like crying. She struggled against it.

Julie said, "I hope I'm wrong but I think I know who the murdered man is."

"You do!" Thorny cried.

"A couple of weeks ago Susan and Erich found some short cigarette butts down by the boathouse. We examined them and each one had a small hole in it. As though it had been smoked short by the use of a toothpick." Julie hesitated and looked momentarily around the room. "I happened to remember then that the old night watchman at father's factory used to do that."

Thorny cried, "You didn't say anything to me!"

"We thought you had enough to worry about," Julie said.

"I sure hope you're wrong," Thorny said heavily. "You know how people here jump to conclusions. They'd say Erich killed the night watchman because he knew your father was guilty of Corboy's death."

"That's what worries me," Julie said.

"Don't say anything about your suspicions," Thorny warned.

They heard the squeal of brakes as the ambulance stopped at the Black Undertaking Parlor across the street.

"I'm going over and see what they found out," Thorny said.

A few minutes later he was back with the Constable at his side. From the doorway the Constable said cheerfully, "Well, Black identified the dead man all right. Used to work with him at the Scarbrough factory. He was the night watchman there."

ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION VIII OF THE ORDINANCE ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE GRADING, GUTTERING CURBING AND REPAIRING OF THE SIDE OR FOOT-WALKS," ORDAINED AND APPROVED AUGUST 4, 1905, BY PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION OF THE COST OF WORK AND MATERIAL WITH TEN PER CENTUM ADDED FROM THE OWNER WHEN GRADING, PAVING, CURBING, GUTTERING AND/OR REPAIRING OF SIDE OR FOOT-WALKS IS DONE BY THE BOROUGH UPON THE NEGLECT OF THE OWNER TO COMPLY WITH NOTICES TO PERFORM SUCH WORK.

Be it enacted and ordained by the Burgess and the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, and it hereby is enacted and ordained by authority of the same that Section VIII of the ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance Regulating the Grading, GGuttering, Curbing and Repairing of the Side or Foot-walks" approved Aug. 4, 1905, Foot-walks" approved August 4, 1905, which reads as follows:

"On failure of any such owner to grade, pave, curb and gutter in accordance with the requirements of this ordinance, after thirty (30) days' notice given by the Council, or make the necessary repairs or proper grade after fifteen (15) days' notice given as aforesaid, the Highway Committee shall proceed to cause such grading, paving, curbing, guttering and repairing as may be necessary to be done, and the Borough Attorney shall at once collect the cost of the work and material, with ten per centum added thereto, from such owner, as claims are by law recoverable."

Be and the same hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Upon the neglect of any owner of lots to grade, pave, curb, or gutter any side or foot-walks after thirty days' notice given by direction of the Borough Council or to make the necessary repairs to any side or foot-walks after fifteen days' notice by the Borough Council, the Highway Committee of the Borough Council shall cause such grading, paving, curbing, guttering and repairing to be done at the cost of such owner, and such cost thereof and ten per centum additional, together with all charges and expenses, shall be collected from such owner through the filing of a municipal claim therefor or an action in assumpsit as provided for by law."

Ordained and enacted into an ordinance this — day of October, 1944.

H. M. OYLER,
President.

Attest:
Anna B. Dracha, Secretary
Approved this 5th day of October, 1944.
FRED G. PFEIFFER,

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg in its annual budget for the year 1944, failed to anticipate necessary expenditures for the resurfacing of highways at points where excavations are made by public utilities and others under and pursuant to digging permits, and

Whereas, in estimating revenues to the Borough the Council failed to take into consideration fees for permits for such excavations, and

Whereas, an unusual and unexpectedly large number of such excavations are being made during the current year resulting unanticipated receipts from such fees of approximately $4,000.00 and the necessity for spending approximately that amount for such resurfacing.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Burgess and the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg that as a result of the foregoing facts an emergency exists, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that such sums as have been or may be received for said permits be and the same hereby are appropriated for the use of the Highway Committee in the work of resurfacing highways in addition to the funds allocated for the use of said committee in said budget.

Adopted this 2nd day of October, 1944.

H. M. OYLER,
President.

Attest:
Anna B. Dracha, Secretary.
Approved this 5th day of October, 1944.
FRED G. PFEFFER,
Burgess.

Chapter 26

When Thorny came in with Susan and Julie there was no display of dramatics. Erich was sitting there across the Constable's littered desk in the sharp glare of a naked electric light bulb suspended from the ceiling and shaded by a disc of yellow cardboard. The color was drained from his face. His eyes glossed by a diaphanous film, his clothes hung on him dripping, his hair was mussed, his face grimy. The brief smile that he turned on them was grim but courageous.

Julie walked over and put her hand on his shoulder. It was a simple gesture but it seemed to transfer some of her strength to him. His face perceptibly brightened.

The Constable dragged up some old straight-backed chairs and formed them into a semicircle. When everyone was seated he said, "Now, start from the beginning and tell us exactly what happened."

Erich spoke unhesitatingly and looked the Constable coolly in the eye.

"I worked late at the factory," he said. "When I got home around twelve I put my car in the garage and decided to walk down to the boathouse. I had painted my rowboat with a new waterproof paint I've been experimenting with and was anxious to know how long it took to dry."

The Constable nodded sagely.

"Then I started down the driveway and took the cut-off to the old road that leads from the lake to the highway."

Erich continued: "While I was walking along I heard a car coming pretty fast but I couldn't see any headlights. It came around a bend in the road and I jumped out of the way. When the driver saw me he turned on a powerful spotlight and blinded me so I couldn't see what kind of a car it was or anyone in it."

"A spotlight, eh?" the Constable mused. "Well, I reckon half the cars in town have spotlights since Lockhart had that special sale on them at the hardware store." He gestured to Erich to continue.

"When I got down to the boathouse my boat was gone.

"Out across the lake I saw the boat. Or at least part of it. It was about half submerged and wasn't more than a hundred yards from shore. I waded out to it and found the dead man tied to the seat."

"Seemed kinda funny to me," the Constable said, "that you wouldn't stop to take off your clothes before you jumped into the lake. Why were you in such a big hurry?"

Erich flushed a little. "Because the boat was sinking and I knew it was going to be hard enough to drag it in half filled with water without letting it sink completely."

"This man you found in the boat. You didn't recognize him?"

"No."

"What did he look like?"

"Man about sixty. Thin, white hair, small moustache poorly dressed."

"Did you look for papers of any kind on him that might identify him?"

"Yes, but whoever killed him had taken care of that. His wallet was gone, if he carried one, and there wasn't a thing in his pockets."

"Is that all?"

"That's all. As soon as I had pulled the boat into shore I came right down here to make a report."

The Constable made a few notes on a scratch pad. Before he was finished the door opened and Jed Black, the undertaker came in. "What's all the excitement?"

"Tell you about it on the way," the Constable said quickly. "Right now we're picking up the coroner and going to the Scarbrough boathouse for a body."

The Constable took his hat off the corner rack. "You folks can stay here if you care to. We'll be back in a few minutes and maybe some of you can help identify the dead man."

After the door had closed Thorny said, "Well, I'll be damned. Seems like just when things begin to come our way a little something always has to happen."

Susan moved over next to Erich. He took her hand. "Don't worry, Julie," he said, "We'll get this straightened out."

Susan felt like crying. She struggled against it.

Julie said, "I hope I'm wrong but I think I know who the murdered man is."

"You do!" Thorny cried.

"A couple of weeks ago Susan and Erich found some short cigarette butts down by the boathouse. We examined them and each one had a small hole in it. As though it had been smoked short by the use of a toothpick." Julie hesitated and looked momentarily around the room. "I happened to remember then that the old night watchman at father's factory used to do that."

Thorny cried, "You didn't say anything to me!"

"We thought you had enough to worry about," Julie said.

"I sure hope you're wrong," Thorny said heavily. "You know how people here jump to conclusions. They'd say Erich killed the night watchman because he knew your father was guilty of Corboy's death."

"That's what worries me," Julie said.

"Don't say anything about your suspicions," Thorny warned.

They heard the squeal of brakes as the ambulance stopped at the Black Undertaking Parlor across the street.

"I'm going over and see what they found out," Thorny said.

A few minutes later he was back with the Constable at his side. From the doorway the Constable said cheerfully, "Well, Black identified the dead man all right. Used to work with him at the Scarbrough factory. He was the night watchman there. . . ."

ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION VIII OF THE ORDINANCE ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE GRADING, GUTTERING CURBING AND REPAIRING OF THE SIDE OR FOOT-WALKS," ORDAINED AND APPROVED AUGUST 4, 1905, BY PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION OF THE COST OF WORK AND MATERIAL WITH TEN PER CENTUM ADDED FROM THE OWNER WHEN GRADING, PAVING, CURBING, GUTTERING AND/OR REPAIRING OF SIDE OR FOOT-WALKS IS DONE BY THE BOROUGH UPON THE NEGLECT OF THE OWNER TO COMPLY WITH NOTICES TO PERFORM SUCH WORK.

Be it enacted and ordained by the Burgess and the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, and it hereby is enacted and ordained by authority of the same that Section VIII of the ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance Regulating the Grading, GGuttering, Curbing and Repairing of the Side or Foot-walks" approved Aug. 4, 1905, Foot-walks" approved August 4, 1905, which reads as follows:

"On failure of any such owner to grade, pave, curb and gutter in accordance with the requirements of this ordinance, after thirty (30) days' notice given by the Council, or make the necessary repairs or proper grade after fifteen (15) days' notice given as aforesaid, the Highway Committee shall proceed to cause such grading, paving, curbing, guttering and repairing as may be necessary to be done, and the Borough Attorney shall at once collect the cost of the work and material, with ten per centum added thereto, from such owner, as claims are by law recoverable."

Be and the same hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Upon the neglect of any owner of lots to grade, pave, curb, or gutter any side or foot-walks after thirty days' notice given by direction of the Borough Council or to make the necessary repairs to any side or foot-walks after fifteen days' notice by the Borough Council, the Highway Committee of the Borough Council shall cause such grading, paving, curbing, guttering and repairing to be done at the cost of such owner, and such cost thereof and ten per centum additional, together with all charges and expenses, shall be collected from such owner through the filing of a municipal claim therefor or an action in assumpsit as provided for by law."

Ordained and enacted into an ordinance this — day of October, 1944.

H. M. OYLER,
President.

Attest:
Anna B. Dracha, Secretary
Approved this 5th day of October, 1944.
FRED G. PFEFFER,
Burgess.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg in its annual budget for the year 1944, failed to anticipate necessary expenditures for the resurfacing of highways at points where excavations are made by public utilities and others under and pursuant to digging permits, and

Whereas, in estimating revenues to the Borough the Council failed to take into consideration fees for permits for such excavations, and

Whereas, an unusual and unexpectedly large number of such excavations are being made during the current year resulting unanticipated receipts from such fees of approximately $4,000.00 and the necessity for spending approximately that amount for such resurfacing,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Burgess and the Borough Council of the Borough of Gettysburg that as a result of the foregoing facts an emergency exists, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that such sums as have been or may be received for said permits be and the same hereby are appropriated for the use of the Highway Committee in the work of resurfacing highways in addition to the funds allocated for the use of said committee in said budget.

Adopted this 2nd day of October, 1944.

H. M. OYLER,
President.

Attest:
Anna B. Dracha, Secretary.
Approved this 5th day of October, 1944.

Chapter 26

When Thorny came in with Susan and Julie there was no display of dramatics. Erich was sitting there across the Constable's littered desk in the sharp glare of a naked electric light bulb suspended from the ceiling and shaded by a disc of yellow cardboard. The color was drained from his face. His eyes glossed by a diaphanous film, his clothes hung on him dripping, his hair was mussed, his face grimy. The brief smile that he turned on them was grim but courageous.

Julie walked over and put her hand on his shoulder. It was a simple gesture but it seemed to transfer some of her strength to him. His face perceptibly brightened.

The Constable dragged up some old straight-backed chairs and formed them into a semicircle. When everyone was seated he said, "Now, start from the beginning and tell us exactly what happened."

Erich spoke unhesitatingly and looked the Constable coolly in the eye.

"I worked late at the factory," he said. "When I got home around twelve I put my car in the garage and decided to walk down to the boathouse. I had painted my rowboat with a new waterproof paint I've been experimenting with and was anxious to know how long it took to dry."

The Constable nodded sagely.

"Then I started down the driveway and took the cut-off to the old road that leads from the lake to the highway."

Erich continued: "While I was walking along I heard a car coming pretty fast but I couldn't see any headlights. It came around a bend in the road and I jumped out of the way. When the driver saw me he turned on a powerful spotlight and blinded me so I couldn't see what kind of a car it was or anyone in it."

"A spotlight, eh?" the Constable mused. "Well, I reckon half the cars in town have spotlights since Lockhart had that special sale on them at the hardware store." He gestured to Erich to continue.

"When I got down to the boathouse my boat was gone.

"Out across the lake I saw the boat. Or at least part of it. It was about half submerged and wasn't more than a hundred yards from shore. I waded out to it and found the dead man tied to the seat."

"Seemed kinda funny to me," the Constable said, "that you wouldn't stop to take off your clothes before you jumped into the lake. Why were you in such a big hurry?"

Erich flushed a little. "Because the boat was sinking and I knew it was going to be hard enough to drag it in half filled with water without letting it sink completely."

"This man you found in the boat. You didn't recognize him?"

"No."

"What did he look like?"

"Man about sixty. Thin, white hair, small moustache poorly dressed."

"Did you look for papers of any kind on him that might identify him?"

"Yes, but whoever killed him had taken care of that. His wallet was gone, if he carried one, and there wasn't a thing in his pockets."

"Is that all?"

"That's all. As soon as I had pulled the boat into shore I came right down here to make a report."

The Constable made a few notes on a scratch pad. Before he was finished the door opened and Jed Black, the undertaker came in. "What's all the excitement?"

"Tell you about it on the way," the Constable said quickly. "Right now we're picking up the coroner and going to the Scarbrough boathouse for a body."

The Constable took his hat off the corner rack. "You folks can stay here if you care to. We'll be back in a few minutes and maybe some of you can help identify the dead man."

After the door had closed Thorny said, "Well, I'll be damned. Seems like just when things begin to come our way a little something always has to happen."

LIVE POULTRY—Receipts light. Market firm, except small Leghorn fowl. Wholesale selling prices (including commissions) in Baltimore.

ROASTERS, FRYERS & BROILERS—Rocks and crosses, 32-33cents; Leghorns as to size 20-23c, few higher.

FOWL—Colored, 28—29½c Leghorns, 18—20c, some large higher.

CATTLE—Steers and cows were predominant in the cattle receipts at the close of the week. Good steers were again scarce, common and medium grades comprising 90 per cent of the steer receipts. Outlet for steers was very narrow, creating a slow steady market; however, all other slaughter classes were active and fully steady with Wednesday.

In the steer division there was a truck lot of choice strictly dryfed steers around 895 lbs. that brought $17.50, the day's top; a few small lots and individual steers sold at $15.50—16. Bulk of the low-good grassers, $14.50—15; medium to good $11.50—14; largely, $11.50—13.50; common weighty steers, $9—11.

The heifer supply was common and medium grassy offerings that sold at $10—13. Common and medium beef cows, $8.50—12; fat dairy-bred offerings stopping around $10.50; conners and cutters, $5.50—8; shelly canners down to $5 and less.

There were a few beef bulls at $11—12; top sausage bulls, $10.50; bulk of the light and medium weights, $7—9.50. Country buyers created an active market for the available stocker and feeder supply at prices that were steady to strong and in some instances 25c higher. Medium and good weighty feeder steers $10—12.50; with lightweights from $7—9.50. Compared with week ago—All slaughter classes, as well as stockers and feeders, fully steady.

CALVES—Vealers active and steady with Wednesday. Mixed lots of good and choice 120—250 lbs. $15 to mainly $16; common and medium, $9.50—14.50; culls around $8; extreme lightweights down to $5. Weighty slaughter calves fairly active, increased demand responsible for the better action at steady prices; medium and good 300—450 lb. slaughter calves, $10—12.50. Compared with week ago—Vealers and weighty slaughter calves unchanged.

HOGS—Demand again exceeded the day's hog receipts, market active. Prices steady with Wednesday due to ceiling limitations. Good and choice 160-240 lbs. barrows and gilts, $15.05—15.30; latter the ceiling. Comparable grades from 120-130 lbs., $13.75—14; 130—140 lbs., $14.25—14.50; 140-160 lbs., $14.75—15; 241-300 lbs., $14.30—14.55. Good smooth sows up to 400 lbs., $13.60—14.10; over 400 lbs., considerably lower. Compared with week ago—Barrows, gilts and sows steady.

SHEEP—Fat wooled lambs and slaughter ewes active and steady with Wednesday. Practical top on lambs, $16; good and choice wooled lambs, 70 lbs and up, $15.50—16; common and medium, $10.50—13.50; culls downward to $5 but most sales around $8.50. Fat lightweight shorn slaughter ewes, $5 down with the low on cull grade around $1.50. Compared with week ago—Fat wooled lambs and slaughter ewes unchanged.

CARDS CAPTURE OVERTIME TILT TO EVEN SERIES

By JACK HAND

St. Louis, Oct. 6 (AP)—Encouraged by the phenomenal blitzing of young Sylvester "Blix" Donnelly, Manager Billy Southworth of the Cardinals put the finger on another freshman righthander today when he named Teddy Wilks to oppose 26-year-old Jack Kramer of the Browns in the third game of the world series that is knotted at one game each.

Billy the Kid gambled heavily yesterday and won on Donnelly, a minor league no-hit maestro who had a mediocre 2-1 victory record all season. It was the four relief innings the Olivia, Minn. rookie threw and a cat-like play on a last inning bunt that were largely responsible for the Red Birds' 3-2 triumph in the 11-frame nerve-wringer before 35,076.

Thrilling Second Game

On the strength of Wilks' past performance chart and evidence that the Cards were beginning to look more like their mid-summer selves, the National leaguers were re-established as favorites at 9 to 20 in the series and 3 to 5 for today's game. Fair weather and continued 80-degree temperature were predicted.

Kramer, a former Seabee who was out of the game all of 1942 and most of last year, finished his first complete big league campaign with a 17-13 mark, sweeping his last four outings in the heat of the race and winding up with a 4-1 victory over the Yankees a week ago.

Fans will long remember yesterday's thriller and it will provide fuel for many hot stove league sessions, when the Brownie defense cracked wide open in the third and fourth innings, it looked like "no contest" but Vern Stephens' over-the-head catch on Whitey Kurowski's foul line fly to start an eighth inning double play was out of this world.

Ken O'Dea actually won the game for the National leaguers from reliefer Bob Muncrief with his pinch single to right in the 11th scoring Ray Sanders who had singled and been bunted over to second by Kurowski but you never would know it today.

Two Errors Help

Before Donnelly came on the scene, the Cards had hopped into the lead in the third when pitcher Nels Potter fumbled Max Lanier's pop bunt and threw wild past first for two errors after Emil Verban had singled. That set the stake for Verban to score on Augie Bergamo's infield out. Again in the fourth the Red Birds rang the bell when they loaded the bases on Ray Sanders' walk. Kurowski's single and an error by Mark Christman on Marty Marion's hopper. Sanders came in on Verban's fly to Chet Laabs.

Lanier had allowed only Gene Moore's fifth inning infield single until the seventh when the Browns tied it up. Frank Muncusco's pinch single scored Red Hayworth after the carrot-topped catcher had converted Moore's second one-bagger with a double that hit the top of the left field wall.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP)—Joan Herald, 12, waited two years for a letter from Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell. When the reply came from China he apologized for the delay. He said he had been busy.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Clear dope from the Big Muddy: . . . You couldn't blame Mort Cooper much for being discouraged about the lack of runs in October—for his side . . . Big Mort has started four world series games and only once have the Cards given him any runs . . . They were blanked for the eight innings he pitched in the 1942 series opener, shut out again in last year's finale and didn't score Wednesday until Cooper had left at the end of the seventh . . . Service men will get plenty of information on the world series besides what they hear in the broadcasts. Sgt. Charles Kiley is there for Stars and Stripes in London and Paris; Sgts. Bob Myers and Bob Broeg for Leatherneck, the Marine paper, and Sgt. John Derr for the C. B. I. "Roundup" . . . Southwestern scribes report there's a boom in Oklahoma for a football game between Tulsa U. and the Norman Navy Zoomers, who have Len Eshmont, Emil Sitko and a few other good ones.

WHO SAID SHORTAGE?

When Macomb, Ills., high school authorities decided they needed a new athletic field this year, the lack of manpower, equipment and materials apparently had them stopped . . . but someone remembered that 18 miles away at Camp Ellis, a practical training program was being outlined for some Army engineers . . . The Army and civilians got together and concluded that the engineers could get two weeks of good training by providing Macomb with a field that will include facilities for night football, baseball and track.

PIGSKIN PICKINS

Cornell vs. Yale
The Elis will, I think.
Turn the big Red pink.
California vs. U. S. C.
Why put this one up to me?
I can't see S. C. don't U. C.?
Notre Dame vs. Tulane
Don't ever predict that Notre Dame
Will be stopped by too little or Tulane.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Prexy Harry Parr of the Maryland Jockey club is such a strong supporter of the Baltimore Orioles that when Johnny Podgajny did some fancy hurling in a recent play-off game, Parr said he would name a race at Pimlico after him . . . Madison Square Garden has just declared a dividend of 25c a share—or about what some of those summer fights there were worth . . . Jesse Owens, who was reported from Europe as being in the Army in Europe and getting ready to run in a meet in Paris, turned up at last Saturday's Ohio State-Missouri game to report that he has been working in a Detroit automobile plant for two years . . . after seeing 15 of his Bainbridge Navy footballers transferred in ten days. Coach Lt. Joe Maniaci threatened to change his team's name from "Commodores" to the "Expendables."

IRISH, DUKE AND DARTMOUTH PICKED TO WIN

By FRITZ HOWELL

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—His pigskin prognosticating percentage upset by last week's upsets, Boss Orlo Robertson shuns gridiron guessing this week to attend the World series while turning over to us his chore of putting the finger on the football favorites.

Here's how they look from here:

Tulane-Notre Dame — Maybe someone will stop Bob Kelly and the rest of the Irish, but not this week, Notre Dame.

Duke-North Carolina Navy—The Blue Devils on the rebound after Saturday's upset by Penn, Duke.

Dartmouth-Pennsylvania — Those Penn freshman backs and that 202-pound line look good, but Dartmouth gets the nod—a hesitant one.

Holy Cross-Temple (Friday)—Rated off its 6-6 tie with Dartmouth, it looks like—Holy Cross.

Iowa-Ohio State—Ohio.

Cornell-Yale—Cornell.

Texas Christian-Arkansas—Texas Christian.

Great Lakes-Northwestern—Great Lakes.

Marquette-Wisconsin — Wisconsin.

Michigan-Minnesota — Minnesota.

Purdue-Illinois—Illinois.

Wake Forest-Maryland — Wake Forest.

Brown-Army—Army.

A fast once-over: Columbia over Syracuse, Navy over Penn State, Harvard over Boston college, West Virginia over Virginia, Sampson Naval over Villanova, Pittsburgh over Bethany, Lafayette over N.Y.U.

CANNERS MEET ENOLA ELEVEN

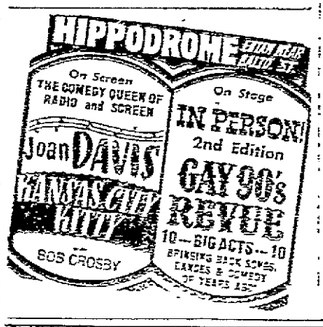

Biglerville high's football team will go after its second straight victory Saturday afternoon when it clashes with Enola high in a Lower Susquehanna conference game at Enola.

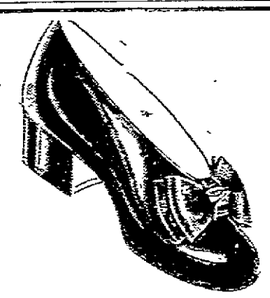

Coach "Hen" Bream has been handicapped this week with inclement weather while most of the squad have been helping with farm work prior to reporting for the afternoon drills which necessitated cutting down on the amount of strenuous work during drills.

The lineup for the Canners will probably be the same that won over Elizabethtown in the season's opener last Saturday. Jim Hykes, tackle, is a doubtful starter due to a knee injury. In the event he does not start either VanDyke or Rice will take over.

Included in the starting lineup will probably be: Dixon and Ebbert, ends; Hykes and Jester, tackles; Miller and C. Brough, guards; Heller, center; Bucher, quarterback; Ogden and Utz, halfbacks, and Pitzer, fullback.

Thursday's drill was primarily one of polishing up on the offense while this afternoon's workout was scheduled to be given over to defensive tactics to be used Saturday.

THE American Bankers Association conducted a nation-wide survey among 32,000 farmers in 1,400 counties, including every state, to find what factors — other than money itself — farmers want when they borrow. Here are the things that American farmers want — that you undoubtedly want — when you make a short-term loan:

PROMPT SERVICE • FREEDOM FROM RED TAPE • LOW COST
FRIENDSHIP WITH LENDER • KEYED TO LOCAL FARM NEEDS
PERSONAL INTEREST • CONFIDENTIAL • CONVENIENT LOCATION
CONVENIENT REPAYMENT PLAN • STRAIGHT BUSINESS DEAL
OTHER FINANCIAL SERVICES AVAILABLE

Your Bank is best equipped to give you what you want and need when you borrow. In a series of advertisements that will be published from time to time in the weeks ahead, we shall take up these various points separately.

CARDS CAPTURE OVERTIME TILT TO EVEN SERIES

By JACK HAND

St. Louis, Oct. 6 (AP)—Encouraged by the phenomenal blitzing of young Sylvester "Blix" Donnelly, Manager Billy Southworth of the Cardinals put the finger on another freshman righthander today when he named Teddy Wilks to oppose 26-year-old Jack Kramer of the Browns in the third game of the world series that is knotted at one game each.

Billy the Kid gambled heavily yesterday and won on Donnelly, a minor league no-hit maestro who had a mediocre 2-1 victory record all season. It was the four relief innings the Olivia, Minn. rookie threw and a cat-like play on a last inning bunt that were largely responsible for the Red Birds' 3-2 triumph in the 11-frame nerve-wringer before 35,076.

Thrilling Second Game

On the strength of Wilks' past performance chart and evidence that the Cards were beginning to look more like their mid-summer selves, the National leaguers were re-established as favorites at 9 to 20 in the series and 3 to 5 for today's game. Fair weather and continued 80-degree temperature were predicted.

Kramer, a former Seabee who was out of the game all of 1942 and most of last year, finished his first complete big league campaign with a 17-13 mark, sweeping his last four outings in the heat of the race and winding up with a 4-1 victory over the Yankees a week ago.

Fans will long remember yesterday's thriller and it will provide fuel for many hot stove league sessions, when the Brownie defense cracked wide open in the third and fourth innings, it looked like "no contest" but Vern Stephens' over-the-head catch on Whitey Kurowski's foul line fly to start an eighth inning double play was out of this world.

Ken O'Dea actually won the game for the National leaguers from a reliefer Bob Muncrief with his pinch single to right in the 11th scoring Ray Sanders who had singled and been bunted over to second by Kurowski but you never would know it today.

Two Errors Help

Before Donnelly came on the scene, the Cards had hopped into the lead in the third when pitcher Nels Potter fumbled Max Lanier's pop bunt and threw wild past first for two errors after Emil Verban had singled. That set the stake for Verban to score on Augie Bergamo's infield out. Again in the fourth the Red Birds rang the bell when they loaded the bases on Ray Sanders' walk, Kurowski's single and an error by Mark Christman on Marty Marion's hopper. Sanders came in on Verban's fly to Chet Laabs.

Lanier had allowed only Gene Moore's fifth inning infield single until the seventh when the Browns tied it up. Frank Muncusco's pinch single scored Red Hayworth after the carrot-topped catcher had converted Moore's second one-bagger with a double that hit the top of the left field wall.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP)—Joan Herald, 12, waited two years for a letter from Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell. When the reply came from China he apologized for the delay. He said he had been busy.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Clear dope from the Big Muddy: . . . You couldn't blame Mort Cooper much for being discouraged about the lack of runs in October—for his side . . . Big Mort has started four world series games and only once have the Cards given him any runs . . . They were blanked for the eight innings he pitched in the 1942 series opener, shut out again in last year's finale and didn't score Wednesday until Cooper had left at the end of the seventh . . . Service men will get plenty of information on the world series besides what they hear in the broadcasts. Sgt. Charles Kiley is there for Stars and Stripes in London and Paris; Sgts. Bob Myers and Bob Broeg for Leatherneck, the Marine paper, and Sgt. John Derr for the C. B. I. "Roundup" . . . Southwestern scribes report there's a boom in Oklahoma for a football game between Tulsa U. and the Norman Navy Zoomers, who have Len Eshmont, Emil Sitko and a few other good ones.

WHO SAID SHORTAGE?

When Macomb, Ills., high school authorities decided they needed a new athletic field this year, the lack of manpower, equipment and materials apparently had them stopped . . . but someone remembered that 18 miles away at Camp Ellis, a practical training program was being outlined for some Army engineers . . . The Army and civilians got together and concluded that the engineers could get two weeks of good training by providing Macomb with a field that will include facilities for night football, baseball and track.

Turn the big Red pink.

California vs. U. S. C.
Why put this one up to me?
I can't see S. C., don't U. C.?

Notre Dame vs. Tulane
Don't ever predict that Notre Dame
Will be stopped by too little or Tulane.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Prexy Harry Parr of the Maryland Jockey club is such a strong supporter of the Baltimore Orioles that when Johnny Podgajny did some fancy hurling in a recent playoff game, Parr said he would name a race at Pimlico after him . . . Madison Square Garden has just declared a dividend of 25c a share—or about what some of those summer fights there were worth . . . Jesse Owens, who was reported from Europe as being in the Army in Europe and getting ready to run in a meet in Paris, turned up at last Saturday's Ohio State-Missouri game to report that he has been working in a Detroit automobile plant for two years . . . after seeing 15 of his Bainbridge Navy footballers transferred in ten days, Coach Lt. Joe Maniaci threatened to change his team's name from "Commodores" to the "Expendables."

IRISH, DUKE AND DARTMOUTH PICKED TO WIN

By FRITZ HOWELL

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—His pigskin prognosticating percentage upset by last week's upsets, Boss Orlo Robertson shuns gridiron guessing this week to attend the World series while turning over to us his chore of putting the finger on the football favorites.

Here's how they look from here:

Tulane-Notre Dame — Maybe someone will stop Bob Kelly and the rest of the Irish, but not this week. Notre Dame.

Duke-North Carolina Navy—The Blue Devils on the rebound after Saturday's upset by Penn. Duke.

Dartmouth-Pennsylvania — Those Penn freshman backs and that 202-pound line look good, but Dartmouth gets the nod—a hesitant one.

Holy Cross-Temple (Friday)—Rated off its 6-6 tie with Dartmouth, it looks like—Holy Cross.

Iowa-Ohio State—Ohio.

Cornell-Yale—Cornell.

Texas Christian-Arkansas—Texas Christian.

Great Lakes-Northwestern—Great Lakes.

Marquette-Wisconsin — Wisconsin.

Michigan-Minnesota — Minnesota.

Purdue-Illinois—Illinois.

Wake Forest-Marylond — Wake Forest.

Brown-Army—Army.

A fast once-over: Columbia over Syracuse, Navy over Penn State, Harvard over Boston college, West Virginia over Virginia, Sampson Naval over Villanova, Pittsburgh over Bethany, Lafayette over N.Y.U.

CANNERS MEET ENOLA ELEVEN

Biglerville high's football team will go after its second straight victory Saturday afternoon when it clashes with Enola high in a Lower Susquehanna conference game at Enola.

Coach "Hen" Bream has been handicapped this week with inclement weather while most of the squad have been helping with farm work prior to reporting for the aftrenoon drills which necessitated cutting down on the amount of strenuous work during drills.

The lineup for the Canners will probably be the same that won over Elizabethtown in the season's opener last Saturday. Jim Hykes, tackle, is a doubtful starter due to a knee injury. In the event he does not start either VanDyke or Rice will take over.

Included in the starting lineup will probably be: Dixon and Ebbert, ends; Hykes and Jester, tackles; Miller and C. Brough, guards; Heller, center; Bucher, quarterback; Ogden and Utz, halfbacks, and Pitzer, fullback.

Thursday's drill was primarily one of polishing up on the offense while this afternoon's workout was scheduled to be given over to defensive tactics to be used Saturday.

THE American Bankers Association conducted a nation-wide survey among 32,000 farmers in 1,400 counties, including every state, to find what factors — other than money itself — farmers want when they borrow. Here are the things that American farmers want — that you undoubtedly want — when you make a short-term loan:

PROMPT SERVICE • FREEDOM FROM RED TAPE • LOW COST
FRIENDSHIP WITH LENDER • KEYED TO LOCAL FARM NEEDS
PERSONAL INTEREST • CONFIDENTIAL • CONVENIENT LOCATION
CONVENIENT REPAYMENT PLAN • STRAIGHT BUSINESS DEAL
OTHER FINANCIAL SERVICES AVAILABLE

Your Bank is best equipped to give you what you want and need when you borrow. In a series of advertisements that will be published from time to time in the weeks ahead, we shall take up these various points separately.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP)—Joan Herald, 12, waited two years for a letter from Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell. When the reply came from China he apologized for the delay. He said he had been busy.

CARDS CAPTURE OVERTIME TILT TO EVEN SERIES

By JACK HAND

St. Louis, Oct. 6 (AP)—Encouraged by the phenomenal blitzing of young Sylvester "Blix" Donnelly, Manager Billy Southworth of the Cardinals put the finger on another freshman righthander today when he named Teddy Wilks to oppose 26-year-old Jack Kramer of the Browns in the third game of the world series that is knotted at one game each.

Billy the Kid gambled heavily yesterday and won on Donnelly, a minor league no-hit maestro who had a mediocre 2-1 victory record all season. It was the four relief innings the Olivia, Minn. rookie threw and a cat-like play on a last inning bunt that were largely responsible for the Red Birds' 3-2 triumph in the 11-frame nerve-wringer before 35,076.

Thrilling Second Game

On the strength of Wilks' past performance chart and evidence that the Cards were beginning to look more like their mid-summer selves, the National leaguers were re-established as favorites at 9 to 20 in the series and 3 to 5 for today's game. Fair weather and continued 80-degree temperature were predicted.

Kramer, a former Seabee who was out of the game all of 1942 and most of last year, finished his first complete big league campaign with a 17-13 mark, sweeping his last four outings in the heat of the race and winding up with a 4-1 victory over the Yankees a week ago.

Fans will long remember yesterday's thriller and it will provide fuel for many hot stove league sessions, when the Brownie defense cracked wide open in the third and fourth innings, it looked like "no contest" but Vern Stephens' over-the-head catch on Whitey Kurowski's foul line fly to start an eighth inning double play was out of this world.

Ken O'Dea actually won the game for the National leaguers from reliefer Bob Muncrief with his pinch single to right in the 11th scoring Ray Sanders who had singled and been bunted over to second by Kurowski but you never would know it today.

Two Errors Help

Before Donnelly came on the scene, the Cards had hopped into the lead in the third when pitcher Nels Potter fumbled Max Lanier's pop bunt and threw wild past first for two errors after Emil Verban had singled. That set the stake for Verban to score on Augie Bergamo's infield out. Again in the fourth the Red Birds rang the bell when they loaded the bases on Ray Sanders' walk, Kurowski's single and an error by Mark Christman on Marty Marion's hopper. Sanders came in on Verban's fly to Chet Laabs.

Lanier had allowed only Gene Moore's fifth inning infield single until the seventh when the Browns tied it up. Frank Muncusco's pinch single scored Red Hayworth after the carrot-topped catcher had converted Moore's second one-bagger with a double that hit the top of the left field wall.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Clear dope from the Big Muddy: . . . You couldn't blame Mort Cooper much for being discouraged about the lack of runs in October—for his side . . . Big Mort has started four world series games and only once have the Cards given him any runs . . . They were blanked for the eight innings he pitched in the 1942 series opener, shut out again in last year's finale and didn't score Wednesday until Cooper had left at the end of the seventh . . . Service men will get plenty of information on the world series besides what they hear in the broadcasts. Sgt. Charles Kiley is there for Stars and Stripes in London and Paris; Sgts. Bob Myers and Bob Broeg for Leatherneck, the Marine paper, and Sgt. John Derr for the C. B. I. "Roundup" . . . Southwestern scribes report there's a boom in Oklahoma for a football game between Tulsa U. and the Norman Navy Zoomers, who have Len Eshmont, Emil Sitko and a few other good ones.

WHO SAID SHORTAGE?

When Macomb, Ills., high school authorities decided they needed a new athletic field this year, the lack of manpower, equipment and materials apparently had them stopped . . . but someone remembered that 18 miles away at Camp Ellis, a practical training program was being outlined for some Army engineers . . . The Army and civilians got together and concluded that the engineers could get two weeks of good training by providing Macomb with a field that will include facilities for night football, baseball and track.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Prexy Harry Parr of the Maryland Jockey club is such a strong supporter of the Baltimore Orioles that when Johnny Podgajny did some fancy hurling in a recent playoff game, Parr said he would name a race at Pimlico after him . . . Madison Square Garden has just declared a dividend of 25c a share—or about what some of those summer fights there were worth . . . Jesse Owens, who was reported from Europe as being in the Army in Europe and getting ready to run in a meet in Paris, turned up at last Saturday's Ohio State-Missouri game to report that he has been working in a Detroit automobile plant for two years . . . after seeing 15 of his Bainbridge Navy footballers transferred in ten days, Coach Lt. Joe Maniaci threatened to change his team's name from "Commodores" to the "Expendables."

IRISH, DUKE AND DARTMOUTH PICKED TO WIN

By FRITZ HOWELL

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—His pigskin prognosticating percentage upset by last week's upsets, Boss Orlo Robertson shuns gridiron guessing this week to attend the World series while turning over to us his chore of putting the finger on the football favorites.

Here's how they look from here:

Tulane-Notre Dame — Maybe someone will stop Bob Kelly and the rest of the Irish, but not this week. Notre Dame.

Duke-North Carolina Navy—The Blue Devils on the rebound after Saturday's upset by Penn. Duke.

Dartmouth-Pennsylvania — Those Penn freshman backs and that 202-pound line look good, but Dartmouth gets the nod—a hesitant one.

Holy Cross-Temple (Friday)—Rated off its 6-6 tie with Dartmouth, it looks like—Holy Cross.

Iowa-Ohio State—Ohio.

Cornell-Yale—Cornell.

Texas Christian-Arkansas—Texas Christian.

Great Lakes-Northwestern—Great Lakes.

Marquette-Wisconsin — Wisconsin.

Michigan-Minnesota — Minnesota.

Purdue-Illinois—Illinois.

Wake Forest-Marylond — Wake Forest.

Brown-Army—Army.

A fast once-over: Columbia over Syracuse, Navy over Penn State, Harvard over Boston college, West Virginia over Virginia, Sampson Naval over Villanova, Pittsburgh over Bethany, Lafayette over N.Y.U.

CANNERS MEET ENOLA ELEVEN

Biglerville high's football team will go after its second straight victory Saturday afternoon when it clashes with Enola high in a Lower Susquehanna conference game at Enola.

Coach "Hen" Bream has been handicapped this week with inclement weather while most of the squad have been helping with farm work prior to reporting for the aftrenoon drills which necessitated cutting down on the amount of strenuous work during drills.

The lineup for the Canners will probably be the same that won over Elizabethtown in the season's opener last Saturday. Jim Hykes, tackle, is a doubtful starter due to a knee injury. In the event he does not start either VanDyke or Rice will take over.

Included in the starting lineup will probably be: Dixon and Ebbert, ends; Hykes and Jester, tackles; Miller and C. Brough, guards; Heller, center; Bucher, quarterback; Ogden and Utz, halfbacks, and Pitzer, fullback.

Thursday's drill was primarily one of polishing up on the offense while this afternoon's workout was scheduled to be given over to defensive tactics to be used Saturday.

PFC. N. E. CAREY IS MISSING IN ACTION ABROAD

Pfc. Newell E. Carey, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carey, Gettysburg R. 3, near Seven Stars, was the third countian serving in the 80th Division under General Patton to go on the casualty list over the week-end.

A War department telegram delivered to his parents Monday stated that he is reported missing in action in France. No date was given. He served in the infantry.

Pfc. Carey entered service in July, 1942, went overseas in mid-July, 1944 and had been in action for several weeks, letters to his parents stated.

He was unmarried and had attended the Franklin township consolidated school at Cashtown. For several months before his induction, he was employed at the naval depot at Mechanicsburg. The last letter was received from him last Thursday.

Brother In France

He has a brother, Pfc. Ralph A. Carey, serving in the infantry in France, and another brother, Pfc. Clyde Carey, who is a patient in Walter Reed hospital at Washington, D. C. Clyde was injured during a six-month stay in England and was returned to this country. Clyde and Ralph had met in England.

The other 80th Division casualties over the week-end were Sgt. Leroy Rentzel, killed in France September 16, and S. Sgt. Charles Gilland, killed in France September 17.

Sergeant Rentzel, brother of Ellis Rentzel, Biglerville, had attended Arendtsville high school and was employed by the Blue Ridge Oil company and at the Mechanicsburg Naval depot before induction in July, 1942. He went to England in July.

Another casualty reported Monday in this area was Sgt. Earl Thomas Rosensteel, 25, Emmitsburg, machine gunner, who is reported seriously wounded in action in France. He is the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Emmitsburg. He had been in France since D-Day and had been in England for two years before that. He entered service April, 1941.

PVT. GRIMES IS KILLED IN ITALY SEPTEMBER 13

Pvt. William J. Grimes, 20, was killed in action in Italy September 13, according to a telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grimes Thurmont last Thursday evening from the War department.

Pvt. Grimes was married September 4, 1943, to the former Helen Marshall, of Fairfield.

In service for two years, Pvt. Grimes had been overseas since last April. He belonged to an infantry outfit and trained at Camp McCain, Miss.; Camp Forrest, Tenn., North Carolina and was stationed at Ft. Meade, Md., before going overseas.

In addition to his wife and parents he is survived by an infant daughter, Judy, Fairfield, and three sisters residing in Thurmont.

MORTAR PIECE STRIKES FACE

In an article appearing in Thursday's issue of The Philadelphia Inquirer, Cy Peterman, war correspondent, reveals how Col. Ludwig I. Keller, son of Albert Keller, Gettysburg R. 4, was recently wounded.

Keller is a member of a tank crew now serving at the Siegfried line. The crew has already had two of their tanks destroyed in action and are now operating a third tank which has been named Dolores III.

It was in the destruction of the first tank, Dolores I, that Cpl. Keller received a mortar shell splinter between his eyes and he now wears both a scar and the Purple Heart, according to Peterman. The action took place at Mortain.

Dolores II was destroyed along the Siefried line. A shell went through the tank without exploding and the crew escaped.

The tanks were named after Miss Dolores Stockton, East Riverton, N. J., who is described as a girl friend of Sgt. Anthony Maffeo, Pittsburgh, a member of the tank crew.

Countian Promoted To Sergeant In India

Robert M. Musselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Musselman, Fairfield, has been promoted to the grade of Sergeant in the Army of the United States, according to a recent announcement from the headquarters of Brigadier General Frederick McCabe, Commanding General, Ramgarh Training Center in Bihar Province, India.

Sgt. Musselman entered the Army January 1, 1943. His recent promotion "is due to his excellent work at this post, where U. S.-equipped Chinese troops are given intensive training in American combat methods before going into battle against the Japanese in the China-Burma India theater. He has been on overseas service in the C. B. I. theater since August 8, 1943," the announcement said.

2 POLIO CASES CLOSE SCHOOLS IN LITTLESTOWN

Public and parochial schools in Littlestown were closed Monday afternoon by health authorities after two case of infantile paralysis were diagnosed Sunday and Monday morning.

Victims of the disease are Jane Miller, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Miller, 568 South Queen street, a pupil in the public grade schools and Robert Lee Crouse, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Crouse, 302 North Queen street, a Littlestown high school pupil.

Neither of the cases, first to occur in Adams county since September 8, is reported to be serious to date. Each patient has a weakness or slight paralysis of one leg.

Schools Closed Indefinitely

With the closing of the schools, it was announced that all of the previous health regulations covering persons 18 years of age and under are being placed back in force in Littlestown. The control measures were taken by Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director, in conference with Littlestown borough health authorities. Doctor Crist said children under 18 are being barred from farm work while the regulations are in force.

Sunday evening, after the Miller child's case was diagnosed, it was announced that the grade school would close for one week while a thorough cleaning of the grade school building was conducted. But with development of the new case at noon Monday, health authorities said all schools in the borough will be closed "until further notice."

Each of the Littlestown victims has been ill for several days. The Crouse boy has a sister in high school. Jane Miller is an only child. Both are confined to their homes and their attending physician indicated there are no plans at present for moving them to hospitals.

Schools in other parts of the county are not effected.

PUSH WAR FUND PREPARATIONS

War Fund campaign leaders for Adams county continued Tuesday evening their preparations for the opening of the house-to-house canvass for contributions which opens October 15.

Dean W. E. Tilberg, USO chairman for Adams county, appeared before a group of War Fund solicitors in Littlestown at St. Paul's Lutheran church with the War Fund chairman for that community, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, presiding.

Dean Tilberg spoke briefly of the scope of the services performed by the USO and the more than a score of other associated agencies assisting Allied war prisoners, merchant seamen, needy civilians and the men in uniform in all parts of the world. He also showed the motion picture "Memo to Joe," a War Fund film. Elmer Schriver operated the projecting machine.

Paul A. Kinsey, War Fund campaign chairman for the county appeared Tuesday evening before the members of the Upper Adams county Lions club to present a War Fund appeal. Later in the evening he conferred with War Fund special gift committee members at Biglerville.

IN SPECIAL WAC UNIT

GEORGE P. BLACK RETIRES NOV. 1 AT POSTOFFICE

George P. Black, assistant postmaster in Gettysburg for the last 25 years and an employe of the Gettysburg post office for the last 40 years, has presented his resignation as assistant postmaster to the Postoffice department at Washington. The resignation will be effective on Nov. 1,—40 years and one month after his appointment as clerk in 1904.

Mr. Black, who resides in Gettysburg is a native of Cumberland township. He attended township schools and private normal schools in Littlestown and Hanover during the summers of three years of his school teaching experience. He started teaching school in the fall of 1894 in Valley Grove school of Union township. He taught there three years and then returned to Cumberland township for five years of teaching. After his marriage to the former Verna A. Weikert of Cumberland township, they moved to Mt. Joy township where Mr. Black taught school for two years. He had started the third year when he resigned to take up his duties as clerk at the local post office October 1, 1904.

GEORGE P. BLACK

Held 150 Exams

He was assigned early to the money order and registry division and served there until he was made assistant postmaster. January 1, 1919. He served as secretary of the local Civil Service board from January, 1905, to January, 1940, and estimates that during that time he held nearly 150 civil service examinations of many types for the entire county.

Mr. Black has been a member at large in the United National association of Post Office Clerks from the local office for a number of years and is a member of the National Postal Supervisors' association.

He is a veteran of eight years of service as a member of the Gettysburg school board. He served as a director from 1919 to 1928 and then continued as secretary of the Gettysburg school district until July 1, 1934.

The retiring postal official is a member of three branches of the Masons, Gettysburg, the Blue lodge, Royal Arch chapter and Commandery No. 79. He is a past commander of the Gettysburg of the Sons of Union Veterans.

No Successor Named

A member of St. James Lutheran church since moving to Gettysburg in 1904, he has held all church council offices at various times and served as superintendent of the Sunday school for four years. He also was assistant superintendent and Sunday school chorister. On three occasions Mr. Black has been a Synod delegate to national conventions of theUnited Lutheran Church in America.

He has served for a number of years as a member of the board of trustees of the Tressler orphans' home at Loysville and was its treasurer for several years.

Mr. Black has not announced any definite plans for the period after his retirement.

The position of assistant postmaster will be filled by appointment by Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler. Mr. Oyler said Monday he is not ready to announce Mr. Black's successor.

KEAGY TRACTS SOLD

Dorothy May Keagy and John W. Keagy offered two tracts Saturday situated in Conewago township, on the Oxford road. One property, improved with a two and one-half story frame dwelling, at the corner of Linden avenue, was purchased by Elgin Sanders for $3,500. Mr. Sanders occupies the dwelling. Several unimproved building lots went to M. D. Crouse, who conducts a service station on the opposite side of the street, for $500.

Gettysburg-Emmitsburg Crew Flies "Mason And Dixon" Fort

Part of the crew of the Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress, "Mason and Dixon" includes: First Lieutenants Raymond W. Spahr, navigator (left) and Harvey W. Dickert, pilot (right), both of Gettysburg, and their co-pilot, First Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, of Emmitsburg.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England (By Mail) — Two Eighth Air Force lieutenants from Gettysburg, Penna., and a third, from neighboring Emmitsburg, Md., found themselves in a combat crew assigned to the same B-17 Flying Fortress, which by further odd coincidence bears the name, "Mason and Dixon."

The Gettysburg men are the pilot, First Lieutenant Harvey W. Dickert, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dickert, of 70 West Stevens street, and the navigator, First Lieutenant Raymond W. Spahr, 21, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spahr, of 168 York street. Their neighbor from Emmitsburg is the co-pilot, First Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Keilholtz, who now live at Rocky Ridge, Maryland.

Since, in their heavy bombardment group commanded by Lt. Colonel Thomas S. Jeffrey, of Arvonia, Virginia, assignment of planes is according to the plane's serial numbers and not by the names adorning the noses of the Fortresses it was a matter of fate that they took over the "Mason and Dixon" which was named for and by the pilot and co-pilot, respectively named Mason and Dishion, who first flew the 25-ton bomber.

GHS Classmates

When the three flyers saw their fortress for the first time and noticed the name inscribed with a fine flourish on the nose, pilot Dickert was moved to observe:

"Say, the Mason-Dixon line runs just south of where I live."

"Me too," commented Lt. Spahr.

"That so?" interpolated Lt. Keilholtz, "well it runs just north of where I live."

So they got together.

Dickert and Spahr, it turned out, grew up together in Gettysburg and graduated in the same class from Gettysburg high school in 1940. Then Spahr had entered Gettysburg college, in the old home town while Dickert had gone to work as a land surveyor.

Can't Beat 'Em

They had gotten together and followed parallel careers in the Army Air Forces before their arrival at their bomber base, a unit of the famed 3rd Bombardment Division which received a presidential citation for the historic England to Africa shuttle-bombing of Messerschmitt aircraft factories at Regensburg, Germany, a year ago, but they did not know that they were destined to fly in the same bomber. Lt. Keilholtz, the same age as the two friends from Gettysburg, had graduated from Emmitsburg high school in 1940.

The three officers compared notes on the past, the present and came up with a unanimous prediction for the future.

"With both sides of the Mason-Dixon line pulling together, we ought to do all right," they chorused, "sure is a combination you can't beat."

FIRE DESTROYS FRAME GARAGE; LOSS IS $2,000

Fire destroyed a frame garage building Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock on the S. F. "Pappy" Swope property, Roseland park, about two miles south of Gettysburg along West Confederate avenue.

The blaze was discovered by a boy living on a neighboring farm and the youth ran to the Swope house where he awakened Harold E. Swope, the only person on the premises. Swope tried to call the Gettysburg firemen, but the telephone line was busy and it was "about five minutes" before he could get through, he reported.

The firemen were unable to save any of the burning structure or any of the goods in it, but they did prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings. In addition to the house there are a number of tourist cabins, a refreshment stand and a shed near the burned garage.

$2,000 Loss

"Pappy" Swope's father, Samuel E. Swope, lives across the road from the tourist camp, and he helped his son, Harold, carry buckets of water from the wells on the two properties to the burning garage and the other buildings.

Damage to the garage and the furniture, wagon, tools and hay which were stored there, was estimated at $2,000. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined although both S. F. Swope and several firemen said they believed it was caused by a short circuit in the electric wires in the building.

The structure had been converted from a barn into a garage a number of years ago. It was approximately 30 by 20 feet.

SGT. C. KENNEDY IS GIVEN MEDAL

A Ninth Air Force Bomber Base, France. (By Mail)—A Colonel pinned a medal on a Pennsylvania soldier at ceremonies held at this Ninth Air Force Marauder base in France.

For the Pennsylvanian, Technical Sergeant Claude W. Kennedy, son of Mrs. Mary Kennedy, Gettysburg R. 4, it was a reward for the many hours he spent in his well-worn, oil-spotted coveralls to keep his plane flying.

The medal Colonel H. L. Mace Marauder combat wing commander, pinned on Sergeant Kennedy was the Bronze Star Medal, one of the army's newest awards and often called the Junior Legion of Merit. The citation read "for distinguished and meritorious service in direct support of military operations against the enemy."

105 Bombing Missions

Behind that citation were "long hours, working in rain and mud to keep a bomber ready for battle; using ingenuity to keep a plane flying when personnel and equipment were scarce."

Not once since Sergeant Kennedy became crew chief of the Marauder "Ollie L" has the medium bomber in Colonel Grover Brown's Tiger Stripe Marauder group failed mechanically to reach an enemy target on its 105 bombing missions.

AT GREAT LAKES

Harry Richard Moser, 18, Gettysburg, is receiving his initial Naval indoctrination at the Framing center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Emmitsburg Man Wounded

Sgt. Earl Thomas Rosensteel, 25, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Emmitsburg R. 1, was seriously wounded in action in France, a War Department telegram to his parents disclosed Monday.

The telegram disclosed no other details but said other word will be forthcoming. Sergeant Rosensteel, who had been in France since D-Day, June 6, is a graduate of Emmitsburg high school and was employed in Frederick before his induction into the Army. He entered service in April, 1941, and had been in England for two years before invading France.

The Rosensteels live outside of Emmitsburg on the Emmitsburg-Frederick road near Mount St. Mary's college.

CAPT. J. MILLER HOME FROM 20 MONTHS ABROAD

Captain John B. Miller, son of the late Mrs. Margaret E. Miller, Steinwehr avenue, and Gettysburg high school and Gettysburg College star athlete, returned from the wars Saturday on a brief leave en route to Miami Beach, Florida for reassignment.

Captain Miller starred on the high school football and basketball teams and captained the football team in 1923. He starred in football at college and captained the Bullets in 1928.

After graduating from college in 1929 he became assistant football coach and mathematics instructor at Sunbury for two years. He then became head coach at Bellefonte high where he remained until 1942 when he entered service. He took a seven-weeks' training course at Miami Beach and was commissioned a First Lieutenant October 1, 1942. He was sent direct to Australia and remained in the south Pacific theatre of war for more than 20 months.

In Two Campaigns

Captain Miller wears the Paupan and New Guinea campaign ribbons. He was promoted to Captain a year ago.

The local officer serves with the Army Airways Communications squadron whose duties include the building and operating of control towers, operating radio range and other communications activities of the Air Forces.

With the exception of several attacks of malaria and other tropical diseases and experiencing numerous bombing raids Captain Miller escaped unscathed.

Mrs. Miller, the former Miss Elizabeth Musser, Bellefonte, and their daughter, Pamela Anna, aged 3 years, reside in Bellefonte.

Parents Receive Purple Heart Medal

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Moose, Gardners, recently received the Purple Heart medal awarded to their son, Pfc. Donald I. Moose, who was wounded on the Anzio beachhead in Italy. The medal was sent through the Red Cross.

Pfc. Moose is now in action in France. He has been overseas since September, 1943, and is serving with an infantry outfit.

PFC. DALE CLUCK SERIOUSLY HURT

Pfc. Dale S. Cluck, 22, a veteran of the Cherbourg and Normandy campaigns, was seriously wounded in action in France September 21, according to a telegram received this morning by his sister, Mrs. Paul Ketterman, Gettysburg.

Pfc. Cluck, who resided at the Ketterman home before he entered service, November 17, 1942, has been in action in France since mid-June. He went to England late in March of this year and crossed the channel between the 10th and 21st of June. He saw action in the battle for the Normandy peninsula with General Omar Bradley's forces. He is an infantryman.

Except to indicate that Cluck has been hospitalized, this morning's telegram disclosed no details.

He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David H. Cluck, of Gettysburg. He had been employed at farm work and had worked for a time at the local furniture factories. Before induction he had been working at Camp Ritchie, Maryland.

He trained at Camp Blanding, Florida; went to Tennessee and Arizona on maneuvers, and then was sent to Camp Phillips, Kansas. Mrs. Ketterman received an undated letter Monday from her brother. It was written in France and said he was all right at that time.

HOSPITAL PATIENT

Mrs. Anna Ebersole, Gettysburg R. 2, has been admitted to the Waynesboro hospital.

Wounded Soldier Returns To U. S.

S. Sgt. Faber C. Overbaugh, 29-year-old son of Clair Overbaugh, Carlisle street, New Oxford, who was struck in the left leg by shrapnel while in action in France on June 16, is back in the United States. He arrived on September 12 and is confined to the U. S. Army hospital, Butler, Pa.

Staff Sergeant Overbaugh was visited recently by his father, his brothers, Delbert and Eugene, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hamberger.

SGT. GOLDEN HAS RECEIVED PURPLE HEART

Escaping with minor injuries in the crash of a Liberator bomber three miles from its base in Italy, S. Sgt. Ray E. Golden, husband of Mrs. Helen Golden, Gettysburg, has been warded the Purple Heart medal, he disclosed in a recent letter to his wife.

He serves with the 15th Air Force, in Italy and was on his fiftieth and last mission when the crash occurred.

He told of the incident in these words: "We started to take off one morning on my 50th mission and my last one when No. 3 engine cut out after we were 60 feet off the ground.

"Well, we came down again since we couldn't gain altitude with a full bomb load. We made a crash landing in a field about three miles from the base. We sure did smash that plane all to pieces but I got out with only a couple of scratches and a few bruises. Two of the fellows were killed and another had two broken arms but I crawled out and walked away from the plane. I was sure lucky."

Golden is a ball turret gunner on his Liberator and holds the Air Medal. He formerly was employed as a moulder at the Gettysburg furniture factory.

He is the father of two sons, Richard and Ray, Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Golden, Gettysburg R. 3.

SERVICES HELD ON SUNDAY FOR PFC. FEESER

A memorial service for Pfc. Archie H. Feeser, 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Peeser, Littlstown R. 2, was held at Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The church was crowded for the service.

Feeser was killed in action July 12 while fighting on Saipan.

The Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor, delivered a sermon on "The Light Shines Through."

The service opened with the playing of taps by Paul Snyder, bugler for the John W. Ocker Post, No. 321, American Legion, Littlestown.

A procession, including the pastor, members of the American Legion with the American flag and Legion flag, and members of the family of the deceased, filed into the chapel preceding the opening of the service.

Profusion Of Flowers

The order of the service included the following: Invocation by the pastor; "Lead Kindly Light," church choir, scripture reading, including portions of John 14, I Corinthians 15 and I Thessalonians 4; prayer; "It is Well With Thy Soul," choir; resume of Pfc. Feeser's life by the pastor; "Rock of Ages," choir; sermon, by the pastor, committal service; "Immortal Love," choir, prayer by the congregation in memory of Glenn A. Snyder, Richard M. Palmer, and Archie H. Feeser, members of the congregation who have lost their lives in service, prayer for the 40 service personnel of the congregation now in the service, and prayer in behalf of all men and girls of the nation in service; prayer, benediction and taps.

A profusion of flowers banked the altar upon which was a picture of Pfc. Feeser.

Two brothers of the slain soldier, Col. Harry D. Feeser, Gardner Field, Calif., and Pvt. John F. Feeser, Jr., Ft. McClellan, Ala., were given special leaves to attend the service.

COUNTIAN DECORATED

Corporal Robert E. Arbogast, of Littlestown, recently was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in combat with the 85th "Custer" Infantry division on the Fifth Army front in Italy. He is the son of Mrs. Edith M. Arbogast of 515 Queen street.

BOROUGH WILL IMPOSE LIENS FOR NEW WALKS

With the burgess and borough engineer absent on account of illness and with a bare quorum of council members in attendance, the borough council, Monday evening, at its October session filled a vacancy on the local board of health; adopted an ordinance to facilitate collection of costs from property owners for pavements laid at borough expense and passed a resolution covering "emergency" expenditures in the borough highway department.

Other routine matters were handled at the 30-minute session which was one of the shortest in many months. President H. M. Oyler presided.

Lester S. Scott, East Middle street, was named to the borough board of health to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. E. D. Hudson, Sr.

Council adopted unanimously a resolution declaring that an emergency exists in the borough by reason of the unanticipated spending of $4,000 in replacing street sections where openings had been made by the Gettysburg Gas company.

To Use Permit Fees

It was pointed out that the expense is offset by digging permits which reimburse the borough for the replacement costs. The permit fees under Monday's resolution, are apropriated to the use of the borough highway committee in the work of resurfacing highways, in addition to the fund allocated in the 1944 budget.

A borough paving ordinance passed in 1905 was amended by council to simplify and make less costly the procedure for collecting the cost of pavement building from property owners in instances where borough notices are ignored and the work done at borough expense. Previously a suit had to be entered. Now the costs may be collected by the filing of a municipal lien or an assumpsit action. The ordinance calls for the collection of costs "plus 10 per cent" by the borough.

A report sent to council by Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, a patient in the Warner hospital, on highway work done during the last month, was read by Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore.

Continue Patching

On his recommendation council ordered two truckloads of tar to continue patching and surface treatment work on Stratton street, Washington street, north of the railroad, Water, and Stevens streets and on Broadway.

Council corrected minutes of the last meeting by eliminating a reference, made by one councilman, to the pavement grading project along the north side of the first block of Chambersburg street as a "dead issue." Council made it clear that the project will be carried through to completion when an agreement can be reached with the property owners involved on the question of damages.

Councilman Harry E. Koch told council that as a member of the sewer committee he wished to be placed on record as favoring continuation of the $1,000 limit on Tiber improvements this year. He referred to the friendly disagreement last month between the other members of the sewer committee on the question of Tiber work.

Mr. Koch also asked and received a council order for cleaning the channel of the small stream west of Stemmeon avenue.

The monthly report of the treasurer, Mr. Basehore, was received showing a balance of $26,711 in the general fund at the end of last month with receipts amounting to $663, and expenditures of $3,345.

Councilmen L. D. Sneider, Harry J. Trostle, Harry E. Koch and J. D. Kendlehart attended with President Oyler, Treasurer Basehore, Solicitor E. V. Bullen and the secretary, Mrs. Anna Dreher.

Sgt. Paul Newman Now At Asheville

S. Sgt. Paul G. Newman, Jr., of Gettysburg, has arrived at the Asheville, North Carolina, Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution Station where he is awaiting reassignment to duty.

Sgt. Newman recently returned from duty in Italy. He has been awarded the Purple Heart, Good Conduct medal, Pre-Pearl Harbor award and Combat Infantry Badge. He wears the Italian and Lorraine campaign ribbons.

His wife is remaining with him while he is stationed at Asheville.

ACCEPTS POSITION

Miss Corine Heiges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Heiges, of Gettysburg, has accepted the position of secretary to Dr. Edward Meisenhelter at the West Side Sanitarium at York.

PFC. N. E. CAREY IS MISSING IN ACTION ABROAD

Pfc. Newell E. Carey, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carey, Gettysburg R. 3, near Seven Stars, was the third countian serving in the 80th Division under General Patton to go on the casualty list over the week-end.

A War department telegram delivered to his parents Monday stated that he is reported missing in action in France. No date was given. He served in the infantry.

Pfc. Carey entered service in July, 1942, went overseas in mid-July, 1944 and had been in action for several weeks, letters to his parents stated.

He was unmarried and had attended the Franklin township consolidated school at Cashtown. For several months before his induction, he was employed at the naval depot at Mechanicsburg. The last letter was received from him last Thursday.

Brother In France

He has a brother, Pfc. Ralph A. Carey, serving in the infantry in France, and another brother, Pfc. Clyde Carey, who is a patient in Walter Reed hospital at Washington, D. C. Clyde was injured during a six-month stay in England and was returned to this country. Clyde and Ralph had met in England.

The other 80th Division casualties over the week-end were Sgt. Leroy Rentzel, killed in France September 16, and S. Sgt. Charles Gilland, killed in France September 17.

Sergeant Rentzel, brother of Ellis Rentzel, Biglerville, had attended Arendtsville high school and was employed by the Blue Ridge Oil company and at the Mechanicsburg Naval depot before induction in July, 1942. He went to England in July.

Another casualty reported Monday in this area was Sgt. Earl Thomas Rosensteel, 25, Emmitsburg, machine gunner, who is reported seriously wounded in action in France. He is the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Emmitsburg. He had been in France since D-Day and had been in England for two years before that. He entered service April, 1941.

PVT. GRIMES IS KILLED IN ITALY SEPTEMBER 13

Pvt. William J. Grimes, 20, was killed in action in Italy September 13, according to a telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grimes Thurmont last Thursday evening from the War department.

Pvt. Grimes was married September 4, 1943, to the former Helen Marshall, of Fairfield.

In service for two years, Pvt. Grimes had been overseas since last April. He belonged to an infantry outfit and trained at Camp McCain, Miss.; Camp Forrest, Tenn., North Carolina and was stationed at Ft. Meade, Md., before going overseas.

In addition to his wife and parents he is survived by an infant daughter, Judy, Fairfield, and three sisters residing in Thurmont.

MORTAR PIECE STRIKES FACE

In an article appearing in Thursday's issue of The Philadelphia Inquirer, Cy Peterman, war correspondent, reveals how Col. Ludwig I. Keller, son of Albert Keller, Gettysburg R. 4, was recently wounded.

Keller is a member of a tank crew now serving at the Siegfried line. The crew has already had two of their tanks destroyed in action and are now operating a third tank which has been named Dolores III.

It was in the destruction of the first tank, Dolores 1, that Cpl. Keller received a mortar shell splinter between his eyes and he now wears both a scar and the Purple Heart, according to Peterman. The action took place at Mortain.

Dolores II was destroyed along the Siefried line. A shell went through the tank without exploding and the crew escaped.

The tanks were named after Miss Dolores Stockton, East Riverton, N. J., who is described as a girl friend of Sgt. Anthony Maffeo, Pittsburgh, a member of the tank crew.

Countian Promoted To Sergeant In India

Robert M. Musselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Musselman, Fairfield, has been promoted to the grade of Sergeant in the Army of the United States, according to a recent announcement from the headquarters of Brigadier General Frederick McCabe, Commanding General, Ramgarh Training Center in Bihar Province, India.

Sgt. Musselman entered the Army January 1, 1943. His recent promotion "is due to his excellent work at this post, where U. S.-equipped Chinese troops are given intensive training in American combat methods before going into battle against the Japanese in the China-Burma India theater. He has been on overseas service in the C. B. I. theatef since August 8, 1943," the announcement said.

2 POLIO CASES CLOSE SCHOOLS IN LITTLESTOWN

Public and parochial schools in Littlestown were closed Monday afternoon by health authorities after two case of infantile paralysis were diagnosed Sunday and Monday morning.

Victims of the disease are Jane Miller, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Miller, 568 South Queen street, a pupil in the public grade schools and Robert Lee Crouse, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Crouse, 302 North Queen street, a Littlestown high school pupil.

Neither of the cases, first to occur in Adams county since September 8, is reported to be serious to date. Each patient has a weakness or slight paralysis of one leg.

Schools Closed Indefinitely

With the closing of the schools, it was announced that all of the previous health regulations covering persons 18 years of age and under are being placed back in force in Littlestown. The control measures were taken by Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director, in conference with Littlestown borough health authorities. Doctor Crist said children under 18 are being barred from farm work while the regulations are in force.

Sunday evening, after the Miller child's case was diagnosed, it was announced that the grade school would close for one week while a thorough cleaning of the grade school building was conducted. But with development of the new case at noon Monday, health authorities said all schools in the borough will be closed "until further notice."

Each of the Littlestown victims has been ill for several days. The Crouse boy has a sister in high school. Jane Miller is an only child. Both are confined to their homes and their attending physician indicated there are no plans at present for moving them to hospitals.

Schools in other parts of the county are not effected.

PUSH WAR FUND PREPARATIONS

War Fund campaign leaders for Adams county continued Tuesday evening their preparations for the opening of the house-to-house canvass for contributions which opens October 15.

Dean W. E. Tilberg, USO chairman for Adams county, appeared before a group of War Fund solicitors in Littlestown at St. Paul's Lutheran church with the War Fund chairman for that community, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, presiding.

Dean Tilberg spoke briefly of the scope of the services performed by the USO and the more than a score of other associated agencies assisting Allied war prisoners, merchant seamen, needy civilians and the men in uniform in all parts of the world. He also showed the motion picture "Memo to Joe," a War Fund film. Elmer Schriver operated the projecting machine.

Paul A. Kinsey, War Fund campaign chairman for the county appeared Tuesday evening before the members of the Upper Adams county Lions club to present a War Fund appeal. Later in the evening he conferred with War Fund special gift committee members at Biglerville.

IN SPECIAL WAC UNIT

Edna R. Hinkle, of Gettysburg, is among the Pennsylvania women assigned to the Twenty-ninth Honorary Women's Army Corps division, to be made up also of women from Maryland and Virginia. The special WAC unit will bear the name of the Twenty-ninth division through basic training.

GEORGE P. BLACK RETIRES NOV. 1 AT POSTOFFICE

George P. Black, assistant postmaster in Gettysburg for the last 25 years and an employe of the Gettysburg post office for the last 40 years, has presented his resignation as assistant postmaster to the Postoffice department at Washington. The resignation will be effective on Nov. 1,—40 years and one month after his appointment as clerk in 1904.

Mr. Black, who resides in Gettysburg is a native of Cumberland townshp. He attended township schools and private normal schools in Littlestown and Hanover during the summers of three years of his school teaching experience. He started teaching school in the fall of 1894 in Valley Grove school of Union township. He taught there three years and then returned to Cumberland township for five years of teaching. After his marriage to the former Verna A. Weikert of Cumberland township, they moved to Mt. Joy township where Mr. Black taught school for two years. He had started the third year when he resigned to take up his duties as clerk at the local post office October 1, 1904.

Held 150 Exams

He was assigned early to the money order and registry division and served there until he was made assistant postmaster, January 1, 1919. He served as secretary of the local Civil Service board from January, 1906, to January, 1940, and estimates that during that time he held nearly 150 civil service examinations of many types for the entire county.

Mr. Black has been a member at large in the United National association of Post Office Clerks from the local office for a number of years and is a member of the National Postal Supervisors' association.

He is a veteran of eight years of service as a member of the Gettysburg school board. He served as a director from 1919 to 1928 and then continued as secretary of the Gettysburg school district until July 1, 1934.

The retiring postal official is a member of three branches of the Masons, Gettysburg, the Blue lodge, Royal Arch chapter and Commandery No. 79. He is a past commander f the Gettysburg of the Sons of Union Veterans.

No Successor Named

A member of St. James Lutheran church since moving to Gettysburg in 1904, he has held all church council offices at various times and served as superintendent of the Sunday school for four years. He also was assistant superintendent and Sunday school chorister. On three occasions Mr. Black has been a Synod delegate to national conventions of theUnited Lutheran Church in America.

He has served for a number of years as a member of the board of trustees of the Tressler orphans' home at Loysville and was its treasurer for several years.

Mr. Black has not announced any definite plans for the period after his retirement.

The position of assistant postmaster will be filled by appointment by Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler. Mr. Oyler said Monday he is not ready to announce Mr. Black's successor.

KEAGY TRACTS SOLD

Dorothy May Keagy and John W. Keagy offered two tracts Saturday situated in Conewago township, on the Oxford road. One property, improved with a two and one-half story frame dwelling, at the corner of Linden avenue, was purchased by Elgin Sanders for $3,500. Mr. Sanders occupies the dwelling. Several unimproved building lots went to M. D. Crouse, who conducts a service station on the opposite side of the street, for $500.

Gettysburg-Emmitsburg Crew Flies "Mason And Dixon" Fort

Part of the crew of the Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress, "Mason and Dixon" includes: First Lieutenants Raymond W. Spahr, navigator (left) and Harvey W. Dickert, pilot (right), both of Gettysburg, and their co-pilot, First Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, of Emmitsburg.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England (By Mail) — Two Eighth Air Force lieutenants from Gettysburg, Penna., and a third, from neighboring Emmitsburg, Md., found themselves in a combat crew assigned to the same B-17 Flying Fortress, which by further odd coincidence bears the name, "Mason and Dixon."

The Gettysburg men are the pilot, First Lieutenant Harvey W. Dickert, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dickert, of 70 West Stevens street, and the navigator, First Lieutenant Raymond W. Spahr, 21, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spahr, of 168 York street. Their neighbor from Emmitsburg is the co-pilot, First Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Keilholtz, who now live at Rocky Ridge, Maryland.

Since, in their heavy bombardment group commanded by Lt. Colonel Thomas S. Jeffrey, of Arvonia, Virginia, assignment of planes is according to the plane's serial numbers and not by the names adorning the noses of the Fortresses it was a matter of fate that they took over the "Mason and Dixon" which was named for and by the pilot and co-pilot, respectively named Mason and Dishion, who first flew the 25-ton bomber.

GHS Classmates

When the three flyers saw their fortress for the first time and noticed the name inscribed with a fine flourish on the nose, pilot Dickert was moved to observe:

"Say, the Mason-Dixon line runs just south of where I live."

"Me too," commented Lt. Spahr.

"That so?" interpolated Lt. Keilholtz, "well it runs just north of where I live."

So they got together.

Dickert and Spahr, it turned out, grew up together in Gettysburg and graduated in the same class from Gettysburg high school in 1940. Then Spahr had entered Gettysburg college, in the old home town while Dickert had gone to work as a land surveyor.

Can't Beat 'Em

They had gotten together and followed parallel careers in the Army Air Forces before their arrival at their bomber base, a unit of the famed 3rd Bombardment Division which received a presidential citation for the historic England to Africa shuttle-bombing of Messerschmitt aircraft factories at Regensburg, Germany, a year ago, but they did not know that they were destined to fly in the same bomber. Lt. Keilholtz, the same age as the two friends from Gettysburg, had graduated from Emmitsburg high school in 1940.

The three officers compared notes on the past, the present and came up with a unanimous prediction for the future.

"With both sides of the Mason-Dixon line pulling together, we ought to do all right," they chorused, "sure is a combination you can't beat."

FIRE DESTROYS FRAME GARAGE; LOSS IS $2,000

Fire destroyed a frame garage building Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock on the S. F. "Pappy" Swope property, Roseland park, about two miles south of Gettysburg along West Confederate avenue.

The blaze was discovered by a boy living on a neighboring farm and the youth ran to the Swope house where he awakened Harold E. Swope, the only person on the premises. Swope tried to call the Gettysburg firemen, but the telephone line was busy and it was "about five minutes" before he could get through, he reported.

The firemen were unable to save any of the burning structure or any of the goods in it, but they did prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings. In addition to the house there are a number of tourist cabins, a refreshment stand and a shed near the burned garage.

$2,000 Loss

"Pappy" Swope's father, Samuel E. Swope, lives across the road from the tourist camp, and he helped his son, Harold, carry buckets of water from the wells on the two properties to the burning garage and the other buildings.

Damage to the garage and the furniture, wagon, tools and hay which were stored there, was estimated at $2,000. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined although both S. F. Swope and several firemen said they believed it was caused by a short circuit in the electric wires in the building.

The structure had been converted from a barn into a garage a number of years ago. It was approximately 30 by 20 feet.

SGT. C. KENNEDY IS GIVEN MEDAL

A Ninth Air Force Bomber Base, France, (By Mail)—A Colonel pinned a medal on a Pennsylvania soldier at ceremonies held at this Ninth Air Force Marauder base in France.

For the Pennsylvanian, Technical Sergeant Claude W. Kennedy, son of Mrs. Mary Kennedy, Gettysburg R. 4, it was a reward for the many hours he spent in his well-worn, oil-spotted coveralls to keep his plane flying.

The medal Colonel H. L. Mace Marauder combat wing commander, pinned on Sergeant Kennedy was the Bronze Star Medal, one of the army's newest awards and often called the Junior Legion of Merit. The citation read "for distinguished and meritorious service in direct support of military operations against the enemy."

105 Bombing Missions

Behind that citation were "long hours, working in rain and mud to keep a bomber ready for battle; using ingenuity to keep a plane flying when personnel and equipment were scarce."

Not once since Sergeant Kennedy became crew chief of the Marauder "Ollie L" has the medium bomber in Colonel Grover Brown's Tiger Stripe Marauder group failed mechanically to reach an enemy target on its 105 bombing missions.

AT GREAT LAKES

Harry Richard Moser, 18, Gettysburg, is receiving his initial Naval indoctrination at the Framing center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Emmitsburg Man Wounded

Sgt. Earl Thomas Rosensteel, 25, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Emmitsburg R. 1, was seriously wounded in action in France, a War Department telegram to his parents disclosed Monday.

The telegram disclosed no other details but said other word will be forthcoming. Sergeant Rosensteel, who had been in France since D-Day, June 6, is a graduate of Emmitsburg high school and was employed in Frederick before his induction into the Army. He entered service in April, 1941, and had been in England for two years before invading France.

The Rosensteels live outside of Emmitsburg on the Emmitsburg-Frederick road near Mount St. Mary's college.

CAPT. J. MILLER HOME FROM 20 MONTHS ABROAD

Captain John B. Miller, son of the late Mrs. Margaret E. Miller, Steinwehr avenue, and Gettysburg high school and Gettysburg College star athlete, returned from the wars Saturday on a brief leave en route to Miami Beach, Florida for reassignment.

Captain Miller starred on the high school football and basketball teams and captained the football team in 1923. He starred in football at college and captained the Bullets in 1928.

After graduating from college in 1929 he became assistant football coach and mathematics instructor at Sunbury for two years. He then became head coach at Bellefonte high where he remained until 1942 when he entered service. He took a seven-weeks' training course at Miami Beach and was commissioned a First Lieutenant October 1, 1942. He was sent direct to Australia and remained in the south Pacific theatre of war for more than 20 months.

In Two Campaigns

Captain Miller wears the Paupan and New Guinea campaign ribbons. He was promoted to Captain a year ago.

The local officer serves with the Army Airways Communications squadron whose duties include the building and operating of control towers, operating radio range and other communications activities of the Air Forces.

With the exception of several attacks of malaria and other tropical diseases and experiencing numerous bombing raids Captain Miller escaped unscathed.

Mrs. Miller, the former Miss Elizabeth Musser, Bellefonte, and their daughter, Pamela Anna, aged 3 years, reside in Bellefonte.

Parents Receive Purple Heart Medal

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Moose, Gardners, recently received the Purple Heart medal awarded to their son, Pfc. Donald I. Moose, who was wounded on the Anzio beachhead in Italy. The medal was sent through the Red Cross.

Pfc. Moose is now in action in France. He has been overseas since September, 1943, and is serving with an infantry outfit.

PFC. DALE CLUCK SERIOUSLY HURT

Pfc. Dale S. Cluck, 22, a veteran of the Cherbourg and Normandy campaigns, was seriously wounded in action in France September 21, according to a telegram received this morning by his sister, Mrs. Paul Ketterman, Gettysburg.

Pfc. Cluck, who resided at the Ketterman home before he entered service, November 17, 1942, has been in action in France since mid-June. He went to England late in March of this year and crossed the channel between the 10th and 21st of June. He saw action in the battle for the Normandy peninsula with General Omar Bradley's forces. He is an infantryman.

Except to indicate that Cluck has been hospitalized, this morning's telegram disclosed no details.

He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David H. Cluck, of Gettysburg. He had been employed at farm work and had worked for a time at the local furniture factories. Before induction he had been working at Camp Ritchie, Maryland.

He trained at Camp Blanding, Florida; went to Tennessee and Arizona on maneuvers, and then was sent to Camp Phillips, Kansas. Mrs. Ketterman received an undated letter Monday from her brother. It was written in France and said he was all right at that time.

HOSPITAL PATIENT

Mrs. Anna Ebersole, Gettysburg R. 2, has been admitted to the Waynesboro hospital.

Wounded Soldier Returns To U. S.

S. Sgt. Faber C. Overbaugh, 29-year-old son of Clair Overbaugh, Carlisle street, New Oxford, who was struck in the left leg by shrapnel while in action in France on June 16, is back in the United States. He arrived on September 12 and is confined to the U. S. Army hospital, Butler, Pa.

Staff Sergeant Overbaugh was visited recently by his father, his brothers, Delbert and Eugene, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hamberger.

SGT. GOLDEN HAS RECEIVED PURPLE HEART

Escaping with minor injuries in the crash of a Liberator bomber three miles from its base in Italy, S. Sgt. Ray E. Golden, husband of Mrs. Helen Golden, Gettysburg, has been warded the Purple Heart medal, he disclosed in a recent letter to his wife.

He serves with the 15th Air Force, in Italy and was on his fiftieth and last mission when the crash occurred.

He told of the incident in these words: "We started to take off one morning on my 50th mission and my last one when No. 3 engine cut out after we were 60 feet off the ground.

"Well, we came down again since we couldn't gain altitude with a full bomb load. We made a crash landing in a field about three miles from the base. We sure did smash that plane all to pieces but I got out with only a couple of scratches and a few bruises. Two of the fellows were killed and another had two broken arms but I crawled out and walked away from the plane. I was sure lucky."

Golden is a ball turret gunner on his Liberator and holds the Air Medal. He formerly was employed as a moulder at the Gettysburg furniture factory.

He is the father of two sons, Richard and Ray, Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Golden, Gettysburg R. 3.

SERVICES HELD ON SUNDAY FOR PFC. FEESER

A memorial service for Pfc. Archie H. Feeser, 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Feeser, Littlstown R. 2, was held at Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The church was crowded for the service.

Feeser was killed in action July 12 while fighting on Saipan.

The Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor, delivered a sermon on "The Light Shines Through."

The service opened with the playing of taps by Paul Snyder, bugler for the John W. Ocker Post, No. 321, American Legion, Littlestown.

Profusion Of Flowers

The order of the service included the following: Invocation by the pastor; "Lead Kindly Light," church choir; scripture reading, including portions of John 14, I Corinthians 15 and I Thessalonians 4; prayer "It is Well With Thy Soul," choir; resume of Pfc. Feeser's life by the pastor; "Rock of Ages," choir; sermon, by the pastor; committal service; "Immortal Love," choir; prayer by the congregation in memory of Glenn A. Snyder, Richard M. Palmer, and Archie H. Feeser, members of the congregation who have lost their lives in service; prayer for the 40 service personnel of the congregation now in the service, and prayer in behalf of all boys and girls of the nation in service; prayer, benediction and taps.

A profusion of flowers banked the altar upon which was a picture of Pfc. Feeser.

Two brothers of the slain soldier, Cpl. Harry D. Feeser, Gardner Field, Calif., and Pvt. John F. Feeser, Jr., Ft. McClellan, Ala., were given special leaves to attend the service.

COUNTIAN DECORATED

Corporal Robert E. Arbogast, of Littlestown, recently was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in combat with the 85th "Custer" Infantry division on the Fifth Army front in Italy. He is the son of Mrs. Edith M. Arbogast of 515 Queen street.

BOROUGH WILL IMPOSE LIENS FOR NEW WALKS

With the burgess and borough engineer absent on account of illness and with a bare quorum of council members in attendance, the borough council, Monday evening, at its October session filled a vacancy on the local board of health; adopted an ordinance to facilitate collection of costs from property owners for pavements laid at borough expense, and passed a resolution covering "emergency" expenditures in the borough highway department.

Other routine matters were handled at the 30-minute session which was one of the shortest in many months. President H. M. Oyler presided.

Lester S. Scott, East Middle street, was named to the borough board of health to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. E. D. Hudson, Sr.

Council adopted unanimously a resolution declaring that an emergency exists in the borough by reason of the unanticipated spending of $4,000 in replacing street sections where openings had been made by the Gettysburg Gas company.

To Use Permit Fees

It was pointed out that the expense is offset by digging permits which reimburse the borough for the replacement costs. The permit fees under Monday's resolution, are apropriated to the use of the borough highway committee in the work of resurfacing highways, in addition to the fund allocated in the 1944 budget.

A borough paving ordinance passed in 1905 was amended by council to simplify and make less costly the procedure for collecting the cost of pavement building from property owners in instances where borough notices are ignored and the work done at borough expense. Previously a suit had to be entered. Now the costs may be collected by the filing of a municipal lien or an assumpsit action. The ordinance calls for the collection of costs "plus 10 per cent" by the borough.

A report sent to council by Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, a patient in the Warner hospital, on highway work done during the last month, was read by Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore.

Continue Patching

On his recommendation council ordered two truckloads of tar to continue patching and surface treatment work on Stratton street, Washington street, north of the railroad, Water, and Stevens streets and on Broadway.

Council corrected minutes of the last meeting by eliminating a reference, made by one councilman, to the pavement grading project along the north side of the first block of Chambersburg street as a "dead issue." Council made it clear that the project will be carried through to completion when an agreement can be reached with the property owners involved on the question of damages.

Councilman Harry E. Koch told council that as a member of the sewer committee he wished to be placed on record as favoring continuation of the $1,000 limit on Tiber improvements this year. He referred to the friendly disagreement last month between the other members of the sewer committee on the question of Tiber work.

Mr. Koch also asked and received a council order for cleaning the channel of the small stream west of Steinwehr avenue.

The monthly report of the treasurer, Mr. Basehore, was received showing a balance of $36,711 in the general fund at the end of last month with receipts amounting to $863, and expenditures of $3,348.

Councilmen L. D. Shealer, Harry J. Troxell, Harry E. Koch and J. D. Kendlehart attended with President Oyler; Treasurer Basehore, Solicitor E. V. Bulleit and the secretary, Mrs. Anna Dracha.

Sgt. Paul Newman Now At Asheville

S. Sgt. Paul G. Newman, Jr., of Gettysburg, has arrived at the Asheville, North Carolina Army Ground and Service Force Redistribution Station where he is awaiting reassignment to duty.

Sgt. Newman recently returned from duty in Italy. He has been awarded the Purple Heart, Good Conduct medal, Pre-Pearl Harbor award and Combat Infantry badge. He wears the Italian and Larietta campaign ribbons.

His wife is remaining with him while he is stationed at Asheville.

PFC. N. E. CAREY IS MISSING IN ACTION ABROAD

Pfc. Newell E. Carey, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carey, Gettysburg R. 3, near Seven Stars, was the third countian serving in the 80th Division under General Patton to go on the casualty list over the week-end.

A War department telegram delivered to his parents Monday stated that he is reported missing in action in France. No date was given. He served in the infantry.

Pfc. Carey entered service in July, 1942, went overseas in mid-July, 1944 and had been in action for several weeks, letters to his parents stated.

He was unmarried and had attended the Franklin township consolidated school at Cashtown. For several months before his induction, he was employed at the naval depot at Mechanicsburg. The last letter was received from him last Thursday.

Brother In France

He has a brother, Pfc. Ralph A. Carey, serving in the infantry in France, and another brother, Pfc. Clyde Carey, who is a patient in Walter Reed hospital at Washington, D. C. Clyde was injured during a six-month stay in England and was returned to this country. Clyde and Ralph had met in England.

The other 80th Division casualties over the week-end were Sgt. Leroy Rentzel, killed in France September 16, and S. Sgt. Charles Gilland, killed in France September 17.

Sergeant Rentzel, brother of Ellis Rentzel, Biglerville, had attended Arendtsville high school and was employed by the Blue Ridge Oil company and at the Mechanicsburg Naval depot before induction in July, 1942. He went to England in July.

Another casualty reported Monday in this area was Sgt. Earl Thomas Rosensteel, 25, Emmitsburg, machine gunner, who is reported seriously wounded in action in France. He is the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Emmitsburg. He had been in France since D-Day and had been in England for two years before that. He entered service April, 1941.

PVT. GRIMES IS KILLED IN ITALY SEPTEMBER 13

Pvt. William J. Grimes, 20, was killed in action in Italy September 13, according to a telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grimes Thurmont last Thursday evening from the War department.

Pvt. Grimes was married September 4, 1943, to the former Helen Marshall, of Fairfield.

In service for two years, Pvt. Grimes had been overseas since last April. He belonged to an infantry outfit and trained at Camp McCain, Miss.; Camp Forrest, Tenn., North Carolina and was stationed at Ft. Meade, Md., before going overseas.

In addition to his wife and parents he is survived by an infant daughter, Judy, Fairfield, and three sisters residing in Thurmont.

MORTAR PIECE STRIKES FACE

In an article appearing in Thursday's issue of The Philadelphia Inquirer, Cy Peterman, war correspondent, reveals how Col. Ludwig I. Keller, son of Albert Keller, Gettysburg R. 4, was recently wounded.

Keller is a member of a tank crew now serving at the Siegfried line. The crew has already had two of their tanks destroyed in action and are now operating a third tank which has been named Dolores III.

It was in the destruction of the first tank, Dolores 1, that Cpl. Keller received a mortar shell splinter between his eyes and he now wears both a scar and the Purple Heart, according to Peterman. The action took place at Mortain.

Dolores II was destroyed along the Siefried line. A shell went through the tank without exploding and the crew escaped.

The tanks were named after Miss Dolores Stockton, East Riverton, N. J., who is described as a girl friend of Sgt. Anthony Maffeo, Pittsburgh, a member of the tank crew.

Countian Promoted To Sergeant In India

Robert M. Musselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Musselman, Fairfield, has been promoted to the grade of Sergeant in the Army of the United States, according to a recent announcement from the headquarters of Brigadier General Frederick McCabe, Commanding General, Ramgarh Training Center in Bihar Province, India.

Sgt. Musselman entered the Army January 1, 1943. His recent promotion "is due to his excellent work at this post, where U. S.-equipped Chinese troops are given intensive training in American combat methods before going into battle against the Japanese in the China-Burma India theater. He has been on overseas service in the C. B. I. theater since August 8, 1943," the announcement said.

2 POLIO CASES CLOSE SCHOOLS IN LITTLESTOWN

Public and parochial schools in Littlestown were closed Monday afternoon by health authorities after two case of infantile paralysis were diagnosed Sunday and Monday morning.

Victims of the disease are Jane Miller, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Miller, 568 South Queen street, a pupil in the public grade schools and Robert Lee Crouse, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Crouse, 302 North Queen street, a Littlestown high school pupil.

Neither of the cases, first to occur in Adams county since September 8, is reported to be serious to date. Each patient has a weakness or slight paralysis of one leg.

Schools Closed Indefinitely

With the closing of the schools, it was announced that all of the previous health regulations covering persons 18 years of age and under are being placed back in force in Littlestown. The control measures were taken by Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director, in conference with Littlestown borough health authorities. Doctor Crist said children under 18 are being barred from farm work while the regulations are in force.

Sunday evening, after the Miller child's case was diagnosed, it was announced that the grade school would close for one week while a thorough cleaning of the grade school building was conducted. But with development of the new case at noon Monday, health authorities said all schools in the borough will be closed "until further notice."

Each of the Littlestown victims has been ill for several days. The Crouse boy has a sister in high school. Jane Miller is an only child. Both are confined to their homes and their attending physician indicated there are no plans at present for moving them to hospitals.

Schools in other parts of the county are not effected.

PUSH WAR FUND PREPARATIONS

War Fund campaign leaders for Adams county continued Tuesday evening their preparations for the opening of the house-to-house canvass for contributions which opens October 15.

Dean W. E. Tilberg, USO chairman for Adams county, appeared before a group of War Fund solicitors in Littlestown at St. Paul's Lutheran church with the War Fund chairman for that community, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, presiding.

Dean Tilberg spoke briefly of the scope of the services performed by the USO and the more than a score of other associated agencies assisting Allied war prisoners, merchant seamen, needy civilians and the men in uniform in all parts of the world. He also showed the motion picture "Memo to Joe," a War Fund film. Elmer Schriver operated the projecting machine.

Paul A. Kinsey, War Fund campaign chairman for the county appeared Tuesday evening before the members of the Upper Adams county Lions club to present a War Fund appeal. Later in the evening he conferred with War Fund special gift committee members at Biglerville.

IN SPECIAL WAC UNIT

Edna R. Hinkle, of Gettysburg, is among the Pennsylvania women assigned to the Twenty-ninth Honorary Women's Army Corps division, to be made up also of women from Maryland and Virginia. The special WAC unit will bear the name of the Twenty-ninth division through basic training.

GEORGE P. BLACK RETIRES NOV. 1 AT POSTOFFICE

George P. Black, assistant postmaster in Gettysburg for the last 25 years and an employe of the Gettysburg post office for the last 40 years, has presented his resignation as assistant postmaster to the Postoffice department at Washington. The resignation will be effective on Nov. 1,—40 years and one month after his appointment as clerk in 1904.

Mr. Black, who resides in Gettysburg is a native of Cumberland township. He attended township schools and private normal schools in Littlestown and Hanover during the summers of three years of his school teaching experience. He started teaching school in the fall of 1894 in Valley Grove school of Union township. He taught there three years and then returned to Cumberland township for five years of teaching. After his marriage to the former Verna A. Weikert of Cumberland township, they moved to Mt. Joy township where Mr. Black taught school for two years. He had started the third year when he resigned to take up his duties as clerk at the local post office October 1, 1904.

Held 150 Exams

He was assigned early to the money order and registry division and served there until he was made assistant postmaster, January 1, 1919. He served as secretary of the local Civil Service board from January, 1906, to January, 1940, and estimates that during that time he held nearly 150 civil service examinations of many types for the entire county.

Mr. Black has been a member at large in the United National association of Post Office Clerks from the local office for a number of years and is a member of the National Postal Supervisors' association.

He is a veteran of eight years of service as a member of the Gettysburg school board. He served as a director from 1919 to 1928 and then continued as secretary of the Gettysburg school district until July 1, 1934.

The retiring postal official is a member of three branches of the Masons, Gettysburg, the Blue lodge, Royal Arch chapter and Commandery No. 79. He is a past commander f the Gettysburg of the Sons of Union Veterans.

No Successor Named

A member of St. James Lutheran church since moving to Gettysburg in 1904, he has held all church council offices at various times and served as superintendent of the Sunday school for four years. He also was assistant superintendent and Sunday school chorister. On three occasions Mr. Black has been a Synod delegate to national conventions of theUnited Lutheran Church in America.

He has served for a number of years as a member of the board of trustees of the Tressler orphans' home at Loysville and was its treasurer for several years.

Mr. Black has not announced any definite plans for the period after his retirement.

The position of assistant postmaster will be filled by appointment by Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler. Mr. Oyler said Monday he is not ready to announce Mr. Black's successor.

KEAGY TRACTS SOLD

Dorothy May Keagy and John W. Keagy offered two tracts Saturday situated in Conewago township, on the Oxford road. One property, improved with a two and one-half story frame dwelling, at the corner of Linden avenue, was purchased by Elgin Sanders for $3,500. Mr. Sanders occupies the dwelling. Several unimproved building lots went to M. D. Crouse, who conducts a service station on the opposite side of the street, for $500.

Gettysburg-Emmitsburg Crew Flies "Mason And Dixon" Fort

Part of the crew of the Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress, "Mason and Dixon" includes: First Lieutenants Raymond W. Spahr, navigator (left) and Harvey W. Dickert, pilot (right), both of Gettysburg, and their co-pilot, First Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, of Emmitsburg.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England (By Mail) — Two Eighth Air Force lieutenants from Gettysburg, Penna., and a third, from neighboring Emmitsburg, Md., found themselves in a combat crew assigned to the same B-17 Flying Fortress, which by further odd coincidence bears the name, "Mason and Dixon."

The Gettysburg men are the pilot, First Lieutenant Harvey W. Dickert, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dickert, of 70 West Stevens street, and the navigator, First Lieutenant Raymond W. Spahr, 21, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spahr, of 168 York street. Their neighbor from Emmitsburg is the co-pilot, First Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Keilholtz, who now live at Rocky Ridge, Maryland.

Since, in their heavy bombardment group commanded by Lt. Colonel Thomas S. Jeffrey, of Arvonia, Virginia, assignment of planes is according to the plane's serial numbers and not by the names adorning the noses of the Fortresses it was a matter of fate that they took over the "Mason and Dixon" which was named for and by the pilot and co-pilot, respectively named Mason and Dishion, who first flew the 25-ton bomber.

GHS Classmates

When the three flyers saw their fortress for the first time and noticed the name inscribed with a fine flourish on the nose, pilot Dickert was moved to observe:

"Say, the Mason-Dixon line runs just south of where I live."

"Me too," commented Lt. Spahr.

"That so?" interpolated Lt. Keilholtz, "well it runs just north of where I live."

So they got together.

Dickert and Spahr, it turned out, grew up together in Gettysburg and graduated in the same class from Gettysburg high school in 1940. Then Spahr had entered Gettysburg college, in the old home town while Dickert had gone to work as a land surveyor.

Can't Beat 'Em

They had gotten together and followed parallel careers in the Army Air Forces before their arrival at their bomber base, a unit of the famed 3rd Bombardment Division which received a presidential citation for the historic England to Africa shuttle-bombing of Messerschmitt aircraft factories at Regensburg, Germany, a year ago, but they did not know that they were destined to fly in the same bomber. Lt. Keilholtz, the same age as the two friends from Gettysburg, had graduated from Emmitsburg high school in 1940.

The three officers compared notes on the past, the present and came up with a unanimous prediction for the future.

"With both sides of the Mason-Dixon line pulling together, we ought to do all right," they chorused, "sure is a combination you can't beat."

FIRE DESTROYS FRAME GARAGE; LOSS IS $2,000

Fire destroyed a frame garage building Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock on the S. F. "Pappy" Swope property, Roseland park, about two miles south of Gettysburg along West Confederate avenue.

The blaze was discovered by a boy living on a neighboring farm and the youth ran to the Swope house where he awakened Harold E. Swope, the only person on the premises. Swope tried to call the Gettysburg firemen, but the telephone line was busy and it was "about five minutes" before he could get through, he reported.

The firemen were unable to save any of the burning structure or any of the goods in it, but they did prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings. In addition to the house there are a number of tourist cabins, a refreshment stand and a shed near the burned garage.

$2,000 Loss

"Pappy" Swope's father, Samuel E. Swope, lives across the road from the tourist camp, and he helped his son, Harold, carry buckets of water from the wells on the two properties to the burning garage and the other buildings.

Damage to the garage and the furniture, wagon, tools and hay which were stored there, was estimated at $2,000. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined although both S. F. Swope and several firemen said they believed it was caused by a short circuit in the electric wires in the building.

The structure had been converted from a barn into a garage a number of years ago. It was approximately 30 by 20 feet.

SGT. C. KENNEDY IS GIVEN MEDAL

A Ninth Air Force Bomber Base, France, (By Mail)—A Colonel pinned a medal on a Pennsylvania soldier at ceremonies held at this Ninth Air Force Marauder base in France.

For the Pennsylvanian, Technical Sergeant Claude W. Kennedy, son of Mrs. Mary Kennedy, Gettysburg R. 4, it was a reward for the many hours he spent in his well-worn, oil-spotted coveralls to keep his plane flying.

The medal Colonel H. L. Mace Marauder combat wing commander, pinned on Sergeant Kennedy was the Bronze Star Medal, one of the army's newest awards and often called the Junior Legion of Merit. The citation read "for distinguished and meritorious service in direct support of military operations against the enemy."

105 Bombing Missions

Behind that citation were "long hours, working in rain and mud to keep a bomber ready for battle; using ingenuity to keep a plane flying when personnel and equipment were scarce."

Not once since Sergeant Kennedy became crew chief of the Marauder "Ollie L" has the medium bomber in Colonel Grover Brown's Tiger Stripe Marauder group failed mechanically to reach an enemy target on its 105 bombing missions.

AT GREAT LAKES

Harry Richard Moser, 18, Gettysburg, is receiving his initial Naval indoctrination at the Framing center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Emmitsburg Man Wounded

Sgt. Earl Thomas Rosensteel, 25, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Emmitsburg R. 1, was seriously wounded in action in France, a War Department telegram to his parents disclosed Monday.

The telegram disclosed no other details but said other word will be forthcoming. Sergeant Rosensteel, who had been in France since D-Day, June 6, is a graduate of Emmitsburg high school and was employed in Frederick before his induction into the Army. He entered service in April, 1941, and had been in England for two years before invading France.

The Rosensteels live outside of Emmitsburg on the Emmitsburg-Frederick road near Mount St. Mary's college.

CAPT. J. MILLER HOME FROM 20 MONTHS ABROAD

Captain John B. Miller, son of the late Mrs. Margaret E. Miller, Steinwehr avenue, and Gettysburg high school and Gettysburg College star athlete, returned from the wars Saturday on a brief leave en route to Miami Beach, Florida for reassignment.

Captain Miller starred on the high school football and basketball teams and captained the football team in 1923. He starred in football at college and captained the Bullets in 1928.

After graduating from college in 1929 he became assistant football coach and mathematics instructor at Sunbury for two years. He then became head coach at Bellefonte high where he remained until 1942 when he entered service. He took a seven-weeks' training course at Miami Beach and was commissioned a First Lieutenant October 1, 1942. He was sent direct to Australia and remained in the south Pacific theatre of war for more than 20 months.

In Two Campaigns

Captain Miller wears the Paupan and New Guinea campaign ribbons. He was promoted to Captain a year ago.

The local officer serves with the Army Airways Communications squadron whose duties include the building and operating of control towers, operating radio range and other communications activities of the Air Forces.

With the exception of several attacks of malaria and other tropical diseases and experiencing numerous bombing raids Captain Miller escaped unscathed.

Mrs. Miller, the former Miss Elizabeth Musser, Bellefonte, and their daughter, Pamela Anna, aged 3 years, reside in Bellefonte.

Parents Receive Purple Heart Medal

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Moose, Gardners, recently received the Purple Heart medal awarded to their son, Pfc. Donald I. Moose, who was wounded on the Anzio beachhead in Italy. The medal was sent through the Red Cross.

Pfc. Moose is now in action in France. He has been overseas since September, 1943, and is serving with an infantry outfit.

PFC. DALE CLUCK SERIOUSLY HURT

Pfc. Dale S. Cluck, 22, a veteran of the Cherbourg and Normandy campaigns, was seriously wounded in action in France September 21, according to a telegram received this morning by his sister, Mrs. Paul Ketterman, Gettysburg.

Pfc. Cluck, who resided at the Ketterman home before he entered service, November 17, 1942, has been in action in France since mid-June. He went to England late in March of this year and crossed the channel between the 10th and 21st of June. He saw action in the battle for the Normandy peninsula with General Omar Bradley's forces. He is an infantryman.

Except to indicate that Cluck has been hospitalized, this morning's telegram disclosed no details.

He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David H. Cluck, of Gettysburg. He had been employed at farm work and had worked for a time at the local furniture factories. Before induction he had been working at Camp Ritchie, Maryland.

He trained at Camp Blanding, Florida; went to Tennessee and Arizona on maneuvers, and then was sent to Camp Phillips, Kansas. Mrs. Ketterman received an undated letter Monday from her brother. It was written in France and said he was all right at that time.

HOSPITAL PATIENT

Mrs. Anna Ebersole, Gettysburg R. 2, has been admitted to the Waynesboro hospital.

Wounded Soldier Returns To U. S.

S. Sgt. Faber C. Overbaugh, 29-year-old son of Clair Overbaugh, Carlisle street, New Oxford, who was struck in the left leg by shrapnel while in action in France on June 16, is back in the United States. He arrived on September 12 and is confined to the U. S. Army hospital, Butler, Pa.

Staff Sergeant Overbaugh was visited recently by his father, his brothers, Delbert and Eugene, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hamberger.

SGT. GOLDEN HAS RECEIVED PURPLE HEART

Escaping with minor injuries in the crash of a Liberator bomber three miles from its base in Italy, S. Sgt. Ray E. Golden, husband of Mrs. Helen Golden, Gettysburg, has been warded the Purple Heart medal, he disclosed in a recent letter to his wife.

He serves with the 15th Air Force, in Italy and was on his fiftieth and last mission when the crash occurred.

He told of the incident in these words: "We started to take off one morning on my 50th mission and my last one when No. 3 engine cut out after we were 60 feet off the ground.

"Well, we came down again since we couldn't gain altitude with a full bomb load. We made a crash landing in a field about three miles from the base. We sure did smash that plane all to pieces but I got out with only a couple of scratches and a few bruises. Two of the fellows were killed and another had two broken arms but I crawled out and walked away from the plane. I was sure lucky."

Golden is a ball turret gunner on his Liberator and holds the Air Medal. He formerly was employed as a moulder at the Gettysburg furniture factory.

He is the father of two sons, Richard and Ray, Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Golden, Gettysburg R. 3.

SERVICES HELD ON SUNDAY FOR PFC. FEESER

A memorial service for Pfc. Archie H. Feeser, 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Feeser, Littlstown R. 2, was held at Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The church was crowded for the service.

Feeser was killed in action July 12 while fighting on Saipan.

The Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor, delivered a sermon on "The Light Shines Through."

The service opened with the playing of taps by Paul Snyder, bugler for the John W. Ocker Post, No. 321, American Legion, Littlestown.

Profusion Of Flowers

The order of the service included the following: Invocation by the pastor; "Lead Kindly Light," church choir; scripture reading, including portions of John 14, I Corinthians 15 and I Thessalonians 4; prayer "It is Well With Thy Soul," choir; resume of Pfc. Feeser's life by the pastor; "Rock of Ages," choir; sermon, by the pastor; committal service; "Immortal Love," choir; prayer by the congregation in memory of Glenn A. Snyder, Richard M. Palmer, and Archie H. Feeser, members of the congregation who have lost their lives in service; prayer for the 40 service personnel of the congregation now in the service, and prayer in behalf of all boys and girls of the nation in service; prayer, benediction and taps.

A profusion of flowers banked the altar upon which was a picture of Pfc. Feeser.

Two brothers of the slain soldier, Cpl. Harry D. Feeser, Gardner Field, Calif., and Pvt. John F. Feeser, Jr., Ft. McClellan, Ala., were given special leaves to attend the service.

COUNTIAN DECORATED

Corporal Robert E. Arbogast, of Littlestown, recently was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in combat with the 85th "Custer" Infantry division on the Fifth Army front in Italy. He is the son of Mrs. Edith M. Arbogast of 515 Queen street.

BOROUGH WILL IMPOSE LIENS FOR NEW WALKS

With the burgess and borough engineer absent on account of illness and with a bare quorum of council members in attendance, the borough council, Monday evening, at its October session filled a vacancy on the local board of health; adopted an ordinance to facilitate collection of costs from property owners for pavements laid at borough expense, and passed a resolution covering "emergency" expenditures in the borough highway department.

Other routine matters were handled at the 30-minute session which was one of the shortest in many months. President H. M. Oyler presided.

Lester S. Scott, East Middle street, was named to the borough board of health to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. E. D. Hudson, Sr.

Council adopted unanimously a resolution declaring that an emergency exists in the borough by reason of the unanticipated spending of $4,000 in replacing street sections where openings had been made by the Gettysburg Gas company.

To Use Permit Fees

It was pointed out that the expense is offset by digging permits which reimburse the borough for the replacement costs. The permit fees under Monday's resolution, are apropriated to the use of the borough highway committee in the work of resurfacing highways, in addition to the fund allocated in the 1944 budget.

A borough paving ordinance passed in 1905 was amended by council to simplify and make less costly the procedure for collecting the cost of pavement building from property owners in instances where borough notices are ignored and the work done at borough expense. Previously a suit had to be entered. Now the costs may be collected by the filing of a municipal lien or an assumpsit action. The ordinance calls for the collection of costs "plus 10 per cent" by the borough.

A report sent to council by Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, a patient in the Warner hospital, on highway work done during the last month, was read by Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore.

Continue Patching

On his recommendation council ordered two truckloads of tar to continue patching and surface treatment work on Stratton street, Washington street, north of the railroad. Water, and Stevens streets and on Broadway.

Council corrected minutes of the last meeting by eliminating a reference, made by one councilman, to the pavement grading project along the nortn side of the first block of Chambersburg street as a "dead issue." Council made it clear that the project will be carried through to completion when an agreement can be reached with the property owners involved on the question of damages.

Councilman Harry E. Koch told council that as a member of the sewer committee he wished to be placed on record as favoring continuation of the $1,000 limit on Tiber improvements this year. He referred to the friendly disagreement last month between the other members of the sewer committee on the question of Tiber work.

Mr. Koch also asked and received a council order for cleaning the channel of the small stream west of Steinwehr avenue.

The monthly report of the treasurer, Mr. Basehore, was received showing a balance of $36,711 in the general fund at the end of last month with receipts amounting to $863, and expenditures of $3,348.

Councilmen L. D. Shealer, Harry J. Troxell, Harry E. Koch and J. D. Kendlehart attended with President Oyler; Treasurer Basehore, Solicitor E. V. Bulleit and the secretary, Mrs. Anna Dracha.

Sgt. Paul Newman Now At Asheville

S. Sgt. Paul G. Newman, Jr., of Gettysburg, has arrived at the Asheville, North Carolina Army Ground and Service Force Redistribution Station where he is awaiting reassignment to duty.

Sgt. Newman recently returned from duty in Italy. He has been awarded the Purple Heart, Good Conduct medal, Pre-Pearl Harbor award and Combat Infantry badge. He wears the Italian and Larietta campaign ribbons.

His wife is remaining with him while he is stationed at Asheville.

BOARD ADJUSTS SCHOOL PLANS

Meeting in special session Monday night at the office of County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh, the Adams county board of school directors discussed and approved a number of resolutions regarding the suspension of school for school-age workers for farm work; the suspension of school because of the nine-day period missed during the polio ban; and the vacation periods throughout the school year.

The text of the resolutions will not be announced until later in the week when a letter will be mailed by Superintendent Slaybaugh to all county teachers and school secretaries. Included in the letter will be instructions concerning the make-up of the school registers for the first month of school.

The resolutions were adopted by the board in order to simplify the accounting of tuition payments and to adjust the school year to losses in school days because of the working time of the pupils and the polio ban.

Vacation periods were fixed for October 26 and 27, the dates of the annual teacher institute; the Thursday and Friday of the Thanksgiving week-end; the last week in December and Good Friday.

The county board also recommended that local boards grant all teachers permission to attend the afternoon sessions of the nineteenth annual convention of the Southern Convention district of the Pennsylvania State Education Association to be held October 20 at the Carlisle high school, Carlisle. G. W. Lefever, principal of Gettysburg high school, is the president of the Southern Convention district. Other county teachers who are officers are Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent, president of the county superintendents' department; and William S. Whitely, principal of the Arendtsville vocational school, president of the commercial round table group.

ARNOLD JOINS KNOUSE FIRM

M. E. Knouse, president of the Knouse corporation, Peach Glen, announced that Ralph E. Arnold, formerly of Biglerville, and more recently of Washington, will soon assume the position of vice president in charge of production and purchases for the Knouse firm.

Mr. Arnold came to Adams county in August 1929 from Elgin, Ill., to join the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, remaining with that concern until August, 1941, when he resigned as vice president, director and purchasing agent. He joined the War Production staff in January, 1942, as a consultant on canned foods in the Food Division. In May he became administrator of Canning Machinery Preference Rating Order, P-115. In November of that year Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Section of the Food Division of the WPB and remained in that capacity until the War Food Administration was created, which eliminated the Food Division of the WPB.

Resigns U. S. Post

WFA was created in January, 1943, and Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Division of the Food Distribution Administration and remained in that position until the Office of Materials and Facilities was created within the WFA in May when he became Chief of the Priorities and Allocations Branches. He remained there until he resigned his government position on September 2 of this year.

Since his resignation Mr. Arnold made an extensive tour of canning plants throughout the county visiting the major canneries in California, Indiana, Ohio Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

TO BE CHAPLAIN

The Rev. Francis Myers, formerly of Glen Rock, a graduate of Gettysburg college and seminary, has been commissioned as a chaplain in the Navy with the rank of lieutenant, junior grade. He is now stationed at Bainbridge, Md. He formerly taught in the high school at Emmitsburg.

Brothers In U. S. Service

Pvt. John W. Denisar, Jr., 21, left, and his brother, Pfc. Dale Denisar, 20, who recently concluded leaves with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Denisar, Aspers. John has reported to Ft. Meade, Md., after concluding training at Camp Croft, N. C. Dale received a leg wound while fighting on Bougainville March 11 and has returned to the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., after a 35-day leave spent at his home.

COUNTIANS IN FRANCE HELP TO FEED GAS LINES

With American Forces in France (By Mail)—Millions of gallons of gasoline which made possible the lightning thrusts of American armored columns into northern France and east towards Germany, are stored and delivered by the soldiers who operate U. S. Army Quartermaster gasoline depots located throughout the liberated territory—and among those men are eight from Adams county.

Those men are Pfc. Francis B. Arendt, Gettysburg R. 3; Pvt. Ellsworth Sponseller, Gettysburg R. 5; Pfc. Glenn F. Mauss, Biglerville R. 1; Pfc. Gerald L. Strickler, East Berlin; Cpl. Donald G. Dolley, Fairfield R. 1; Pvt. Clair J. Bowling, Fairfield R. 2; Pvt. Arthur J. Cool, Littlestown R. 2, and Pvt. John H. Zinn, Hanover R. 3.

Soon after the Normandy beachhead was firmly established, the depot crews set up large fuel-dispensing points. Army engineers laid pipelines from the beaches to the depots. Gasoline, direct from Allied tankers anchored off the beaches, poured into the storage tanks.

The gasoline does not lie idle in the tanks, however. As quickly as it flows in from the beaches and the ports, it is piped into tanker vehicles and into five-gallon cans to be rushed off to the fighting front.

"According to the rule book," said a depot executive officer, Capt. William N. Aquilani, of Norristown, "my men are able to fill 3,200 cans a day, but the count has risen and they're still out to break records!"

Gas-line tap attendants can fill a 2,000 gallon tanker truck in 10 minutes. Smaller 750-gallon trucks back up to the big tanks and drive away, full, in four and a half minutes.

RECEIVES HIGH WAR CITATION

An Eighth AAF Composite Station, England (By Mail)—Sgt. Rodney A. Post, of McSherrystown, is a member of a Bombardment group which, with its Division, has been cited by President Roosevelt for a bombing attack on targets in Germany, January 11, 1944.

Sergeant Post is now entitled to wear the Presidential Citation Badge, a blue ribbon with a gold border over the right pocket of the blouse.

The group which is commanded by Col. Howard Moore, of Llano, Texas, and has been commended by Lieut. Gen. James H. Doolittle, Commanding General of the Eighth Air Force, and Lieut. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, former Commander of the Eighth, for outstanding performance of duty in the winter of 1943-44 when its planes led 80 per cent of the Eighth's bombing missions.

Sgt. Post, who is a refueling operator at the B-17 Flying Fortress station, has been in England 18 months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Post, of 371 North street, McSherrystown, and was a bus driver before entering the service.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Charles F. Hoffman, Harney; James W. Barnitz, New Oxford, and Mrs. Harold H. Fowler, East Broadway, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. Emma E. Small, McSherrystown; Mrs. Howard Schwartz, Littlestown R. 1; Mrs. Glenn S. Bishop and infant son, Steinwehr avenue, and Mrs. Eugene M. Currens and infant daughter, Lois Elaine, Arendtsville.

139 PINTS OF BLOOD GIVEN HERE FRIDAY

One hundred and one countians who held appointments at the Red Cross Blood Donor station failed to appear last Friday and held the total number of pints received to 139 although membership in the Gallon Club was boosted to 12 with the addition of seven new members.

Those who received the Gallon Club membership cards and insignia Friday were: George Bushman, Gettysburg; Mrs. Ernest Brindle, Biglerville; Hunter Harness, Gettysburg; Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Gettysburg; Mrs. Edgar W. Weaner, Gettysburg R. 4; Francis Knox, Jr., Gettysburg, and Glenn Kennedy, Aspers.

Two persons, Redford H. Lippy, the Blood Donor Service chairman, and Mrs. Madelyn King, McKnightstown, started their second gallons with their ninth donations. Both joined the Gallon Club in June.

There were 21 donors who gave their first pint Friday; 24 for their second pint; 12 who got silver buttons for their third pints; 18 for the fourth pint; 11 for the fifth; 28 for the sixth, and 16 for the seventh.

Friday's donations brought to 2,449 the total number of pints received here since the monthly visits were begun in January, 1943.

The local Blood Donor Service committee renewed Saturday the appeal for new donors pointing out that national Red Cross is urging increased blood donations to meet the high demands for plasma on the battlefields of Europe and the Pacific.

The next Donor Day in Gettysburg will be Friday, November 3.

The list of Friday's donors in addition to those giving their eighth and ninth pints follow:

Twins Born Sunday To Capt., Mrs. Allison

Twin sons were born Sunday to Capt. and Mrs. William B. Allison at the West Chester, Pa., hospital. Capt. Allison, a veteran of Marine action in the Pacific, is the son of Superintendent William H. Allison of the National cemetery and Mrs. Allison. The twins' mother, is the former Miss Jane Killifer, daughter of William Killifer, former big league player with the Phillies and Chicago Cubs.

West Chester is Mrs. Allison's home. Captain Allison is stationed at Marine headquarters in Washington, D. C.

HERE AND THERE

The arrest, conviction and sentence of the two ringleaders of a band of counterfeiters in 1876 led to a conspiracy to steal the corpse of Abraham Lincoln, frustration of which was attributed to the alertness of a detective and the United States Secret Service.

The Lincoln National Life Foundation furnishes the details of the plot and how it was smashed.

* * *

The counterfeiters' expert engraver was one Benjamin Boyd, in Fulton, Ill. The owner and operator of the printing press that printed the bogus money was one Doctor Driggs who was traced to a freight house at Clinton, Illinois. Driggs soon moved his press and the Secret Service agents planned to arrest the ringleaders, although operating in different towns, at the same time.

Captain Patrick D. Tyrell and John McDonald arranged to arrest Boyd at Fulton and Chief Elmer Washburn was directed to apprehend Driggs at Centralia to where he had been traced. Boyd was nabbed in his workshop in a deserted warehouse on the river front. Driggs was picked up in a secret room in the top story of a building in Centralia. Both men were convicted and sentenced. Boyd was sent to Joliet penitentiary to serve his term.

* * *

When Terrance Mullens and Jack Hughes, salesmen of the bogus money, ran short of funds they decided to try to get their engraver released. They set up stand in Lincoln, Ill., a town named after the martyred President which he is said to have christened with a watermelon. The two salesmen conceived the idea of stealing Lincoln's corpse and holding it for ransom for the release of Boyd.

Bold and brazen as they were Mullens and Hughes later decided to demand $200,000 in cash in addition to Boyd's release for the corpse. They planned to steal the body and bury it in the sand dunes of Indiana, between two trees where the wind would so blow the sand that traces of their own presence there would be obscured, while they remained in a nearby woods.

* * *

But Mullens and Hughes were suspected of being implicated in the counterfeiting plot and Lewis S. Swengles, a detective, was ordered to shadow the pair. He did such an excellent job that they soon made him their confident and revealed enough of their corpse-stealing plot to invite him to assist them. He claimed to have had experience in snatching bodies.

The night of November 7, 1876, the day of Rutherford B. Hayes election, was set as the date for the theft. Swengles had kept Captain Tyrell fully informed. Hence, when the conspirators and their confidant boarded a Chicago train for Springfield, Tyrell, McDonald and a force of detectives were also aboard. Outside of Springfield the Secret Service men were left off in the freight yards. Mullens, Hughes and Swengles proceeded into the station.

* * *

Mullens was to secure the tools to break into the crypt. Hughes was to make a survey at the tomb. Swengles was to provide the vehicle to transport the body.

An interesting detail about the arrangements called for the wrapping of the tools in an old newspaper which the conspirators felt sure those discovering the empty crypt would preserve as evidence. A part of the front page of the paper was ingeniously torn off through the title and date. This was to be sent to Boyd in the penitentiary so that he might prove he was in touch with the kidnappers, and with the payment of the ransom money could produce the body.

* * *

At the tomb, Swengles was to stand guard outside while Mullens and Hughes cut into the crypt. This would enable Swengles to signal the Secret Service men at the proper time to nab the conspirators in the act. However, at the last moment Swengles was directed to hold a lamp inside the crypt so that Mullens and Hughes could both work.

It was not until the marble sarcophagus had been mutilated, the end and part of the top removed, and the casket containing the body had been partly pulled from the stone receptacle that Swengles was free to signal. He was sent for the vehicle but instead signalled the detectives.

As soon as Swengles left the tomb, Mullens and Hughes hid in some nearby bushes to await his return. They had just reached their hiding place when they saw the detectives rush around the monument and enter the tomb. Of course, the officers found no grave robbers and the conspirators escaped. Several days later they were arrested in Chicago and returned to Springfield for trial.

However, the law at that time provided no penalty for an attempt to steal a dead body so a charge of burglary was entered against them and upon their conviction were sent to prison for a year.

* * *

It is of interest to note that the Pinkerton detective agency which warned Lincoln of the Baltimore plot to assassinate him on the way to his inauguration, and which became invaluable to the government during the Civil War, concluded their services to the martyred Lincoln by frustrating the plans of those who would steal his corpse.

Governor Martin has decreed that Pennsylvanians will observe Thanksgiving Day on November 23, the fourth Thursday of the month.

Confusion reigns in the minds of many who follow their calendars. Some calendars have November 30, the fifth Thursday and last day of the month, designated as Turkey Day. Others have November 23 bracketed as the official holiday.

Governor Martin announced that he will follow Congressional action which designates the fourth Thursday of November this year and next year as the official Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Mary E. Kitzmiller, of 31 4th street, sister of Sergeant James W. Tate now serving in France, contributes the following poem she composed:

Beneath the soil of foreign lands,
Beneath the sun and blazing sands,
Beneath the ocean, wide and deep
Now lie our sons; they are asleep.

No sound of bursting shell or gun
Will meet them with the coming sun.
Only the peace of sacred ground
Will guard and wrap them gently round.

No greater love was theirs to give,
That freedom of the world shall live,
No greater trust is ours to keep
Than keeping faith with those who sleep.

Mrs. Kitzmiller is employed in the disbursement division of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

In his recent speech to the House of Commons Prime Minister Churchill had this to say on Hitler's prowess:

"I have always hated comparing Napoleon with Hitler, as it seems an insult to the great Emperor and warrior to connect him in any way with the squalid caucas boss and butcher, but there is one respect in which I must draw a parallel. Both of these men were temperamentally unable to give up the tiniest scrap of any territory to which the high-water mark of their hectic fortunes carried them.

"Thus, after Leipzig in 1813, Napoleon left all his garrisons on the Rhine and 40,000 men in Hamburg. He refused to withdraw many other vitally important elements of his armies and had to begin his 1814 campaign with raw levies and a few seasoned troops brought in a hurry from Spain. Similarly Hitler had successfully scattered German armies all over Europe and by obstinating at every point from Stalingrad to Tunis down to the present moment has stripped himself of the power to concentrate his main strength for the final struggle. * * *

"When I hear that after Hitler escaped his bomb on July 20 he described his survival as providential, I think from a purely military point of view we can agree with him: but certainly it would be most unfortunate if the Allies were to be deprived in the closing phases of the struggle of that form of warlike genius by which Corporal Shickelgruber has so notably contributed to our victory."

Second Shipment Of Furs Is Announced

Mrs. Effa Chapman, executive assistant at the local chapter office of the American Red Cross, announced today the fourth shipment of furs from the county to the Fur Industry's Vest Project in New York city.

The furs are made into vests for merchant seamen of the Allied Merchant Marine fleets and are furnished free of charge. Mrs. Chapman said that the fur collection is continuing and she urged countians to bring to the chapter office on Baltimore street, old furs of any kind which could be used in the project.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

F. V. Topper, Sr., Main street, McSherrystown, who recently underwent two operations at St. Joseph's hospital, Lancaster, returned home last Thursday. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Claudine Topper, assistant supervisor of nurses at St. Joseph's hospital. Mr. Topper's condition is satisfactory.

CONFIRM PENN TILE COMPANY DISTRIBUTION

The report of the auditor in the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of real estate and personal property of the Penn Tile Works, Aspers, was confirmed absolutely in an opinion handed down Saturday by President Judge W. C. Sheely. The exceptions of the Commonwealth to the auditor's order of distribution were overruled.

A report, submitted by the auditor after the real estate and personal property had been sold under a writ of fieri facias, held that the funds realized should be distributed, (1) to costs; (2) taxes due the United States; (3) unemployment compensation contributions due the Commonwealth, and (4) labor claims.

In a summary of the background of the case, Judge Sheely said: "Since the claim of the United States exhausted the fund, there was no distribution to the lien of the Commonwealth or to labor claims. The Commonwealth filed exceptions to the report of the auditor contending that it is entitled to priority over the claim of the United States or, at least, to equal priority with that claim. The notice of the federal tax lien was filed with the prothonotary on July 21, 1943, and was based on an assessment returned to the collector on March 10, 1943. The liens of the Commonwealth were filed on January 28, 1944, and March 15, 1944."

Quotes Federal Statute

Judge Sheely continued: "Under section 3466 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, * * * priority of payment is given to the United States, and the claim of the United States would be entitled to first position in order of distribution. * * *

"The personal property fund, which was distributed to the lien of the United States, after payment of a proportionate share of the cost, amounted to $381.02. Claims for wages earned within six months of the commencement of the proceeding and not in excess of $250 for each claimant, were allowed in the sum of $757.18, but the auditor held that they must be postponed in favor of the lien of the United States.

Second Opinion

"Under the provision of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation law these claims would take priority over the claim of the Commonwealth and, if allowed, would reduce the fund for distribution to $123.84. The lien of the United States, however, amounts to $1,216. Thus, it would be impossible to place the claim of the Commonwealth on a par with the claim of the United States.

The court concluded its opinion as follows: "We conclude that the auditor was correct in allowing the claim of the United States as a priority claim and since this claim exhausted the fund for distribution, there was no balance for subsequent claims. The fact that the employer may have been entitled to a credit of 90% of the federal tax had he paid the state tax has no application where the distribution is involuntary. Here the taxpayer has made no payments to the state fund.

In a second opinion concerning the damage suit in an action of trespass by Charles F. McCaffrey and Michael Walsh verses Samuel E. Dowell, the court decreed that a rule for judgment of non pros was discharged and the defendant is allowed 15 days in which to file an affidavit of defense.

Rev. Brenneman In Chaplains' Corps

The Rev. Marshall E. Brenneman, of Gettysburg, who is director of Camp Nawakwa for the last four years, was sworn in as a member of the Navy Chaplains Corps at Washington, D. C., and was given orders to report for an eight weeks training course at Williamsburg, Virginia, Monday.

Lt. (jg) Brenneman, who is a graduate of Albright college in the class of 1934 and the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary in 1939, was associate director at Nawakwa for four years before being named to the directorship. He had been a camper at the Lutheran leadership training camp for five years before being given the staff positions.

His successor as camp director has not been named.

Receives Second Oak Leaf Cluster

A second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal has been awarded Sgt. Francis A. Rider, 241 Baltimore street, Gettysburg, waist gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress, for "meritorious achievement" on bombing attacks over enemy Europe."

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Sgt. Rider, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen P. Rider, is a veteran of eighteen combat missions. A graduate of Gettysburg high school, class of 1941, he was an aircraft mechanic at Olmstead Field at Middletown, Pa., before entering the army February 1, 1943.

Killed

Private William J. Grimes, 20, of Fairfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grimes, who now reside in Thurmont, who was killed in action in Italy last September 13. Private Grimes was in service two years. His widow, the former Miss Helen Marshall, and infant daughter, Judy, reside in Fairfield.

LOCAL FLIERS DESTROY THREE GERMAN PLANES

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England (By Mail) — Nazi fighter planes falling in flames and mortally wounded B-17 Flying Fortresses spinning earthward was the climax of a bitterly fought air battle in the skies over Germany observed by 1st Lt. Harvey W. Dickert, 22-year-old pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dickert, of 70 Stevens street, Gettysburg, during an Eighth Air Force bombing attack on the enemy's synthetic oil plants.

"I saw a lot of Luftwaffe fighters shot down, several in flames, and with no parachutes coming out," reported the young pilot. "Our gunners, who accounted for three Nazi planes as they came through our formation, reported three Forts spinning down and another falling in a blaze of fire."

The unexpected Luftwaffe fighter attack, launched after a lull of several weeks, was broken up by P-51 Mustangs which came roaring to the assistance of the embattled bombers. At least 171 Nazi planes were destroyed by the Eighth Air Force on that day.

A veteran of numerous bombing attacks against strategic targets deep in Germany and military installations behind the front lines in support of Allied ground forces, Lieutenant Dickert is a member of the 3rd Bombardment division, cited by the President for its now historic England-to-Africa shuttle bombing of the Messerschmitt plants in Regensburg, Germany.

First Lieutenant Raymond W. Spahr, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Spahr, Gettysburg, is navigator aboard the plane, called "Mason and Dixon."

Firest Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Keilholtz, formerly of Emmitsburg, is the co-pilot.

COUNTY YOUTH HURT IN ACTION

Sgt. Joseph Mark McDermitt, 26, was wounded in action in France and received the Purple Heart he notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDermitt, New Cumberland, and wife, Mrs. Janet McDermitt, New Cumberland, Thursday. The McDermitts resided along the Taneytown road until moving to New Cumberland a few years ago.

The sergeant did not disclose further details but said he was feeling fine and rapidly recovering.

He attended Gettysburg high school and was employed by a York plumbing firm before he enlisted in February, 1941.

Sgt. McDermitt trained at Indiantown Gap, Louisiana, Florida and Camp Pickett, Va., before going overseas in January, 1944, with an ordnance unit.

A brother, Pvt. Patrick Dale McDermitt, 21, graduated from New Cumberland high school and is a former employe of the New Cumberland Army Depot. He entered service in January, 1943, and trained at Miami Beach, Fla.; Scott Field, Ill.; Madison, Wis., and in Nebraska. He is a radio operator on a bomber and is now en route to an overseas base.

South Penn Circuit Admits Shippensburg

At the fall meeting of the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic conference in Carlisle last Wednesday evening arrangements were made to the re-admission of Shippensburg as a member next year in the football conference.

A maximum of 50 cents admission for basketball games was set. Student tickets will be 30 cents. Both prices include tax.

Aattending the meeting from Gettysburg were President Guile W. Lefever, Melvin Dry, Fred Haehnlen, Robert Sheads and Fred Troxell.

DR. S. K. STEVENS IS SPEAKER FOR HISTORICAL UNIT

Dr. Sylvester K. Stevens, Pennsylvania State historian from Harrisburg, was the main speaker at the first fall meeting of the Adams County Historical society Tuesday evening in the court house.

In his talk Doctor Stevens praised the local group for the work it has done in the last several years. "You are deserving of real commendation," he said, "for securing the rooms in the court house basement and the beginning of your collection of museum items.

"You will find this to be true. As soon as you get a place to keep things you will enjoy your work more. However, you probably will also find it true that you will soon outgrow even these quarters."

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, society president, presided and announced a number of gifts to the organization. William L. Meals, Esq., presented a collection of Memorial Day programs, a number of directories of Gettysburg churches, several old court calendars and also, in memory of his mother, a History of St. James Lutheran church, by the Rev. Joseph B. Baker, former pastor of the church.

Receive Historic Gifts

Mrs. John H. Pape also presented several items taken from an old house torn down on one of her properties near York Springs. They included a carpenter's antique wooden brace and bit, several old door locks and a pair of narrow spectacles, found behind the plastering on one of the walls.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg gave the society a photograph of the remains of a bridge on the old Thaddeus Stevens railroad to Caledonia.

Doctor Fortenbaugh also announced that the group had obtained, through the efforts of Dr. Henry Stewart, a copy of the book, "A Medical History of the Revolution." The volume was compiled under the direction of the Army Medical corps post at the Carlisle Barracks.

Offer Library Use

The president said that seminary students have requested permission to use the Historical society's library and that permission had been given for such use. He said also that the society would "be glad" to allow the use of its library to county school children for any of their school work concerning local history. Any students desiring to use the society material may work in the rooms in the courthouse basement any time during regular business hours at the court house. Doctor Fortenbaugh announced. The key to the room may be secured upon proper identification at the Red Cross office on Baltimore street.

In his talk, Doctor Stevens spoke of the relationship between the historical societies and the schools. "It is a good thing the state has required the teaching of Pennsylvania history in the schools," he said. "However it is unfortunate that there is an almost inevitable practice of all publishers to prepare textbooks for a subject after a law which requires its instruction has been passed."

"This makes a hurried job and almost always produces poor books. However, there are still very few books about Pennsylvania history that are good books. You cannot write a truly good work because of the depth and richness of the local history of the state. Such local history is an essential part of the state story and yet it cannot all be included in any one volume."

"One of the best ways to teach and learn the history of Pennsylvania," Doctor Stevens said, "is to study it as it relates to the local community. Study the famous historical undertakings and happenings in the state, but then see how they apply to local events. It is the job of the historical societies to aid in this work."

About 20 members of the county group were present. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, November 7.

Truck Driver's Ankle Is Crushed

Edward Watson, 42, Hanover, formerly of this county and recently employed as a truck driver by Mrs. Florence Reynolds, of Gettysburg, had his right ankle crushed on Sunday night when the truck he was driving crashed into the rear of a truck and trailer said to have been parked on the highway without lights, near Wayne, Pa.

Reports of the accident stated that the driver of the parked vehicle was asleep when the crash occurred. Mrs. Reynolds said that her truck was considerably damaged but that the cargo of furniture being hauled from Gettysburg to New York was "only slightly damaged."

State police investigated the accident and are reported to have filed charges against the driver of the parked machine. Mr. Watson was taken to the Bryn-Mawr hospital where he was admitted as a patient.

ENTERS BEAUTY SCHOOL

BOARD ADJUSTS SCHOOL PLANS

Meeting in special session Monday night at the office of County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh, the Adams county board of school directors discussed and approved a number of resolutions regarding the suspension of school for school-age workers for farm work; the suspension of school because of the nine-day period missed during the polio ban; and the vacation periods throughout the school year.

The text of the resolutions will not be announced until later in the week when a letter will be mailed by Superintendent Slaybaugh to all county teachers and school secretaries. Included in the letter will be instructions concerning the make-up of the school registers for the first month of school.

The resolutions were adopted by the board in order to simplify the accounting of tuition payments and to adjust the school year to losses in school days because of the working time of the pupils and the polio ban.

Vacation periods were fixed for October 26 and 27, the dates of the annual teacher institute; the Thursday and Friday of the Thanksgiving week-end; the last week in December and Good Friday.

The county board also recommended that local boards grant all teachers permission to attend the afternoon sessions of the nineteenth annual convention of the Southern Convention district of the Pennsylvania State Education Association to be held October 20 at the Carlisle high school, Carlisle. G. W. Lefever, principal of Gettysburg high school, is the president of the Southern Convention district. Other county teachers who are officers are Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent, president of the county superintendents' department; and William S. Whitely, principal of the Arendtsville vocational school, president of the commercial round table group.

ARNOLD JOINS KNOUSE FIRM

M. E. Knouse, president of the Knouse corporation, Peach Glen, announced that Ralph E. Arnold, formerly of Biglerville, and more recently of Washington, will soon assume the position of vice president in charge of production and purchases for the Knouse firm.

Mr. Arnold came to Adams county in August 1929 from Elgin, Ill., to join the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, remaining with that concern until August, 1941, when he resigned as vice president, director and purchasing agent. He joined the War Production staff in January, 1942, as a consultant on canned foods in the Food Division. In May he became administrator of Canning Machinery Preference Rating Order, P-115. In November of that year Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Section of the Food Division of the WPB and remained in that capacity until the War Food Administration was created, which eliminated the Food Division of the WPB.

Resigns U. S. Post

WFA was created in January, 1943, and Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Division of the Food Distribution Administration and remained in that position until the Office of Materials and Facilities was created within the WFA in May when he became Chief of the Priorities and Allocations Branches. He remained there until he resigned his government position on September 2 of this year.

Since his resignation Mr. Arnold made an extensive tour of canning plants throughout the country visiting the major canneries in California, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

TO BE CHAPLAIN

The Rev. Francis Myers, formerly of Glen Rock, a graduate of Gettysburg college and seminary, has been commissioned as a chaplain in the Navy with the rank of lieutenant, junior grade. He is now stationed at Bainbridge, Md. He formerly taught in the high school at Emmitsburg.

Brothers In U. S. Service

Pvt. John W. Denisar, Jr., 21, left, and his brother, Pfc. Dale Denisar, 20, who recently concluded leaves with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Denisar, Aspers. John has reported to Ft. Meade, Md., after concluding training at Camp Croft, N. C. Dale received a leg wound while fighting on Bougainville March 11 and has returned to the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., after a 35-day leave spent at his home.

COUNTIANS IN FRANCE HELP TO FEED GAS LINES

With American Forces in France (By Mail)—Millions of gallons of gasoline which made possible the lightning thrusts of American armored columns into northern France and east towards Germany, are stored and delivered by the soldiers who operate U. S. Army Quartermaster gasoline depots located throughout the liberated territory—and among those men are eight from Adams county.

Those men are Pfc. Francis B. Arendt, Gettysburg R. 3; Pvt. Ellsworth Sponseller, Gettysburg R. 5; Pfc. Glenn F. Mauss, Biglerville R. 1; Pfc. Gerald L. Strickler, East Berlin; Cpl. Donald G. Dolley, Fairfield R. 1; Pvt. Clair J. Bowling, Fairfield R. 2; Pvt. Arthur J. Cool, Littlestown R. 2, and Pvt. John H. Zinn, Hanover R. 3.

Soon after the Normandy beachhead was firmly established, the depot crews set up large fuel-dispensing points. Army engineers laid pipelines from the beaches to the depots. Gasoline, direct from Allied tankers anchored off the beaches, poured into the storage tanks.

The gasoline does not lie idle in the tanks, however. As quickly as it flows in from the beaches and the ports, it is piped into tanker vehicles and into five-gallon cans to be rushed off to the fighting front.

"According to the rule book," said a depot executive officer, Capt. William N. Aquilani, of Norristown, "my men are able to fill 3,200 cans a day, but the count has risen and they're still out to break records!"

Gas-line tap attendants can fill a 2,000 gallon tanker truck in 10 minutes. Smaller 750-gallon trucks back up to the big tanks and drive away, full, in four and a half minutes.

RECEIVES HIGH WAR CITATION

An Eighth AAF Composite Station, England (By Mail)—Sgt. Rodney A. Poist, of McSherrystown, is a member of a Bombardment group which, with its Division, has been cited by President Roosevelt for a bombing attack on targets in Germany, January 11, 1944.

Sergeant Poist is now entitled to wear the Presidential Citation Badge, a blue ribbon with a gold border, over the right pocket of the blouse.

This group, which is commanded by Col. Howard Moore, of Ilano, Texas, also has been commended by Lieut. Gen. James H. Doolittle, Commanding General of the Eighth Air Force, and Lieut. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, former Commander of the Eighth, for outstanding performance of duty in the winter of 1943-44, when its planes led 80 per cent of the Eighth's bombing missions.

Sgt. Poist, who is a refueling operator at this B-17 Flying Fortress station, has been in England 18 months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Poist, of 371 North street, McSherrystown, and was a bus driver before entering the service.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Charles F. Hoffman, Harney; James W. Barnitz, New Oxford, and Mrs. Harold H. Fowler, East Broadway, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. Emma E. Small, McSherrystown; Mrs. Howard Schwartz, Littlestown R. 1; Mrs. Glenn S. Bishop and infant son, Steinwehr avenue, and Mrs. Eugene M. Currens and infant daughter, Lois Elaine, Arendtsville.

139 PINTS OF BLOOD GIVEN HERE FRIDAY

One hundred and one countians who held appointments at the Red Cross Blood Donor station failed to attuear last Friday and held the total number of pints received to 139 although membership in the Gallon Club was boosted to 12 with the addition of seven new members.

Those who received the Gallon Club membership cards and insignia Friday were: George Bushman, Gettysburg; Mrs. Ernest Brindle, Biglerville; Hunter Harness, Gettysburg; Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Gettysburg; Mrs. Edgar W. Weaner, Gettysburg R. 4; Francis Knox, Jr., Gettysburg, and Glenn Kennedy, Aspers.

Two persons, Radford H. Lippy, the Blood Donor Service chairman, and Mrs. Madelyn King, McKnightstown, started their second gallons with their ninth donations. Both joined the Gallon Club in June.

There were 21 donors who gave their first pint Friday; 24 for their second pint; 12 who got silver buttons for their third pints; 18 for the fourth pint; 11 for the fifth; 28 for the sixth, and 16 for the seventh.

Friday's donations brought to 2,449 the total number of pints received here since the monthly visits were begun in January, 1943.

The local Blood Donor Service committee renewed Saturday the appeal for new donors pointing out that national Red Cross is urging increased blood donations to meet the high demands for plasma on the battlefields of Europe and the Pacific.

The next Donor Day in Gettysburg will be Friday, November 3.

The list of Friday's donors in addition to those giving their eighth and ninth pints follow:

Twins Born Sunday To Capt., Mrs. Allison

Twin sons were born Sunday to Capt. and Mrs. William B. Allison at the West Chester, Pa., hospital. Capt. Allison, a veteran of Marine action in the Pacific, is the son of Superintendent William H. Allison of the National cemetery and Mrs. Allison. The twins' mother, is the former Miss Jane Killifer, daughter of William Killifer, former big league player with the Phillies and Chicago Cubs.

West Chester is Mrs. Allison's home. Captain Allison is stationed at Marine headquarters in Washington, D. C.

HERE AND THERE

The arrest, conviction and sentence of the two ringleaders of a band of counterfeiters in 1876 led to a conspiracy to steal the corpse of Abraham Lincoln, frustration of which was attributed to the alertness of a detective and the United States Secret Service.

The Lincoln National Life Foundation furnishes the details of the plot and how it was smashed.

* * *

The counterfeiters' expert engraver was one Benjamin Boyd, in Fulton, Ill. The owner and operator of the printing press that printed the bogus money was one Doctor Driggs who was traced to a freight house at Clinton, Illinois. Driggs soon moved his press and the Secret Service agents planned to arrest the ringleaders, although operating in different towns, at the same time.

Captain Patrick D. Tyrell and John McDonald arranged to arrest Boyd at Fulton and Chief Elmer Washburn was directed to apprehend Driggs at Centralia to where he had been traced. Boyd was nabbed in his workshop in a deserted warehouse on the river front. Driggs was picked up in a secret room in the top story of a building in Centralia. Both men were convicted and sentenced. Boyd was sent to Joliet penitentiary to serve his term.

* * *

When Terrance Mullens and Jack Hughes, salesmen of the bogus money, ran short of funds they decided to try to get their engraver released. They set up stand in Lincoln, Ill., a town named after the martyred President which he is said to have christened with a watermelon. The two salesmen conceived the idea of stealing Lincoln's corpse and holding it for ransom for the release of Boyd.

Bold and brazen as they were Mullens and Hughes later decided to demand $200,000 in cash in addition to Boyd's release for the corpse. They planned to steal the body and bury it in the sand dunes of Indiana, between two trees where the wind would so blow the sand that traces of their own presence there would be obscured, while they remained in a nearby woods.

* * *

But Mullens and Hughes were suspected of being implicated in the counterfeiting plot and Lewis S. Swengles, a detective, was ordered to shadow the pair. He did such an excellent job that they soon made him their confident and revealed enough of their corpse-stealing plot to invite him to assist them. He claimed to have had experience in snatching bodies.

The night of November 7, 1876, the day of Rutherford B. Hayes election, was set as the date for the theft. Swengles had kept Captain Tyrell fully informed. Hence, when the conspirators and their confidant boarded a Chicago train for Springfield, Tyrell, McDonald and a force of detectives were also aboard. Outside of Springfield the Secret Service men were left off in the freight yards. Mullens, Hughes and Swengles proceeded into the station.

* * *

Mullens was to secure the totals to break into the crypt. Hughes was to make a survey at the tomb. Swengles was to provide the vehicle to transport the body.

An interesting detail about the arrangements called for the wrapping of the tools in an old newspaper which the conspirators felt sure those discovering the empty crypt would preserve as evidence. A part of the front page of the paper was ingeniously torn off through the title and date. This was to be sent to Boyd in the penitentiary so that he might prove he was in touch with the kidnappers, and with the payment of the ransom money could produce the body.

* * *

At the tomb, Swengles was to stand guard outside while Mullens and Hughes cut into the crypt. This would enable Swengles to signal the Secret Service men at the proper time to nab the conspirators in the act. However, at the last moment Swengles was directed to hold a lamp inside the crypt so that Mullens and Hughes could both work.

It was not until the marble sarcophagus had been mutilated, the end and part of the top removed, and the casket containing the body had been partly pulled from the stone receptacle that Swengles was free to signal. He was sent for the vehicle but instead signalled the detectives.

As soon as Swengles left the tomb, Mullens and Hughes hid in some nearby bushes to await his return. They had just reached their hiding place when they saw the detectives rush around the monument and enter the tomb. Of course, the officers found no grave robbers and the conspirators escaped. Several days later they were arrested in Chicago and returned to Springfield for trial.

However, the law at that time provided no penalty for an attempt to steal a dead body so a charge of burglary was entered against them and upon their conviction were sent to prison for a year.

* * *

It is of interest to note that the Pinkerton detective agency which warned Lincoln of the Baltimore plot to assassinate him on the way to his inauguration, and which became invaluable to the government during the Civil War, concluded their services to the martyred Lincoln by frustrating the plans of those who would steal his corpse.

Governor Martin has decreed that Pennsylvanians will observe Thanksgiving Day on November 23, the fourth Thursday of the month.

Confusion reigns in the minds of many who follow their calendars. Some calendars have November 30, the fifth Thursday and last day of the month, designated as Turkey Day. Others have November 23 bracketed as the official holiday.

Governor Martin announced that he will follow Congressional action which designates the fourth Thursday of November this year and next year as the official Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Mary E. Kitzmiller, of 31 4th street, sister of Sergeant James W. Tate now serving in France, contributes the following poem she composed:

Beneath the soil of foreign lands,
Beneath the sun and blazing sands,
Beneath the ocean, wide and deep
Now lie our sons; they are asleep.

No sound of bursting shell or gun
Will meet them with the coming sun.
Only the peace of sacred ground
Will guard and wrap them gently round.

No greater love was theirs to give,
That freedom of the world shall live,
No greater trust is ours to keep
Than keeping faith with those who sleep.

Mrs. Kitzmiller is employed in the disbursement division of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

In his recent speech to the House of Commons Prime Minister Churchill had this to say on Hitler's prowess:

"I have always hated comparing Napoleon with Hitler, as it seems an insult to the great Emperor and warrior to connect him in any way with the squalid caucas boss and butcher, but there is one respect in which I must draw a parallel. Both of these men were temperamentally unable to give up the tiniest scrap of any territory to which the high-water mark of their hectic fortunes carried them.

"Thus, after Leipzig in 1813, Napoleon left all his garrisons on the Rhine and 40,000 men in Hamburg. He refused to withdraw many other vitally important elements of his armies and had to begin his 1814 campaign with raw levies and a few seasoned troops brought in a hurry from Spain. Similarly Hitler had successfully scattered German armies all over Europe and by obstinating at every point from Stalingrad to Tunis down to the present moment has stripped himself of the power to concentrate his main strength for the final struggle. * * *

"When I hear that after Hitler escaped his bomb on July 20 he described his survival as providential, I think from a purely military point of view we can agree with him; but certainly it would be most unfortunate if the Allies were to be deprived in the closing phases of the struggle of that form of warlike genius by which Corporal Shickelgruber has so notably contributed to our victory."

Second Shipment Of Furs Is Announced

Mrs. Effa Chapman, executive assistant at the local chapter office of the American Red Cross, announced today the fourth shipment of furs from the county to the Fur Industry's Vest Project in New York city.

The furs are made into vests for merchant seamen of the Allied Merchant Marine fleets and are furnished free of charge. Mrs. Chapman said that the fur collection is continuing and she urged countians to bring to the chapter office on Baltimore street, old furs of any kind which could be used in the project.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

F. V. Topper, Sr., Main street, McSherrystown, who recently underwent two operations at St. Joseph's hospital, Lancaster, returned home last Thursday. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Claudine Topper, assistant supervisor of nurses at St. Joseph's hospital. Mr. Topper's condition is satisfactory.

CONFIRM PENN TILE COMPANY DISTRIBUTION

The report of the auditor in the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of real estate and personal property of the Penn Tile Works, Aspers, was confirmed absolutely in an opinion handed down Saturday by President Judge W. C. Sheely. The exceptions of the Commonwealth to the auditor's order of distribution were overruled.

A report, submitted by the auditor after the real estate and personal property had been sold under a writ of fieri facias, held that the funds realized should be distributed, (1) to costs; (2) taxes due the United States; (3) unemployment compensation contributions due the Commonwealth, and (4) labor claims.

In a summary of the background of the case, Judge Sheely said: "Since the claim of the United States exhausted the fund, there was no distribution to the lien of the Commonwealth or to labor claims. The Commonwealth filed exceptions to the report of the auditor contending that it is entitled to priority over the claim of the United States or, at least, to equal priority with that claim. The notice of the federal tax lien was filed with the prothonotary on July 21, 1943, and was based on an assessment returned to the collector on March 10, 1943. The liens of the Commonwealth were filed on January 28, 1944, and March 15, 1944."

Quotes Federal Statute

Judge Sheely continued: "Under section 3466 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, * * * priority of payment is given to the United States, and the claim of the United States would be entitled to first position in order of distribution. * * *

"The personal property fund, which was distributed to the lien of the United States, after payment of a proportionate share of the cost, amounted to $881.02. Claims for wages earned within six months of the commencement of the proceeding and not in excess of $250 for each claimant, were allowed in the sum of $757.18, but the auditor held that they must be postponed in favor of the lien of the United States.

Second Opinion

"Under the provision of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation law these claims would take priority over the claim of the Commonwealth and, if allowed, would reduce the fund for distribution to $123.84. The lien of the United States, however, amounts to $1,216. Thus, it would be impossible to place the claim of the Commonwealth on a par with the claim of the United States.

The court concluded its opinion as follows: "We conclude that the auditor was correct in allowing the claim of the United States as a priority claim and since this claim exhausted the fund for distribution, there was no balance for subsequent claims. The fact that the employer may have been entitled to a credit of 90% of the federal tax had he paid the state tax has no application where the distribution is involuntary. Here the taxpayer has made no payments to the state fund.

In a second opinion concerning the damage suit in an action of trespass by Charles F. McCaffrey and Michael Walsh verses Samuel E. Dowell, the court decreed that a rule for judgment of non pros was discharged and the defendant is allowed 15 days in which to file an affidavit of defense.

Rev. Brenneman In Chaplains' Corps

The Rev. Marshall E. Brenneman, of Gettysburg, who is director of Camp Nawakwa for the last four years, was sworn in as a member of the Navy Chaplains Corps at Washington, D. C., and was given orders to report for an eight weeks training course at Williamsburg, Virginia, Monday.

Lt. (jg) Brenneman, who is a graduate of Albright college in the class of 1934 and the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary in 1939, was associate director at Nawakwa for four years before being named to the directorship. He had been a camper at the Lutheran leadership training camp for five years before being given the staff positions.

His successor as camp director has not been named.

Receives Second Oak Leaf Cluster

A second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal has been awarded Sgt. Francis A. Rider, 241 Baltimore street, Gettysburg, waist gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress, for "meritorious achievement" on bombing attacks over enemy Europe."

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Sgt. Rider, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen P. Rider, is a veteran of eighteen combat missions. A graduate of Gettysburg high school, class of 1941, he was an aircraft mechanic at Olmstead Field at Middletown, Pa., before entering the army February 1, 1943.

Killed

Private William J. Grimes, 20, of Fairfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grimes, who now reside in Thurmont, who was killed in action in Italy last September 13. Private Grimes was in service two years. His widow, the former Miss Helen Marshall, and infant daughter, Judy, reside in Fairfield.

LOCAL FLIERS DESTROY THREE GERMAN PLANES

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England (By Mail) — Nazi fighter planes falling in flames and mortally wounded B-17 Flying Fortresses spinning earthward was the climax of a bitterly fought air battle in the skies over Germany observed by 1st Lt. Harvey W. Dickert, 23-year-old pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dickert, of 70 Stevens street, Gettysburg, during an Eighth Air Force bombing attack on the enemy's synthetic oil plants.

"I saw a lot of Luftwaffe fighters shot down, several in flames, and with no parachutes coming out," reported the young pilot. "Our gunners, who accounted for three Nazi planes as they came through our formation, reported three Forts spinning down and another falling in a blaze of fire."

The unexpected Luftwaffe fighter attack, launched after a lull of several weeks, was broken up by P-51 Mustangs which came roaring to the assistance of the embattled bombers. At least 171 Nazi planes were destroyed by the Eighth Air Force on that day.

A veteran of numerous bombing attacks against strategic targets deep in Germany and military installations behind the front lines in support of Allied ground forces, Lieutenant Dickert is a member of the 3rd Bombardment division, cited by the President for its now historic England-to-Africa shuttle bombing of the Messerschmitt plants in Regensburg, Germany.

First Lieutenant Raymond W. Spahr, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Spahr, Gettysburg, is navigator aboard the plane, called "Mason and Dixon."

Firest Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Keilholtz, formerly of Emmitsburg, is the co-pilot.

COUNTY YOUTH HURT IN ACTION

Sgt. Joseph Mark McDermitt, 26, was wounded in action in France and received the Purple Heart he notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDermitt, New Cumberland, and wife, Mrs. Janet McDermitt, New Cumberland, Thursday. The McDermitts resided along the Taneytown road until moving to New Cumberland a few years ago.

The sergeant did not disclose further details but said he was feeling fine and rapidly recovering.

He attended Gettysburg high school and was employed by a York plumbing firm before he enlisted in February, 1941.

Sgt. McDermitt trained at Indiantown Gap, Louisiana, Florida and Camp Pickett, Va., before going overseas in January, 1944, with an ordnance unit.

A brother, Pvt. Patrick Dale McDermitt, 21, graduated from New Cumberland high school and is a former employe of the New Cumberland Army Depot. He entered service in January, 1943, and trained at Miami Beach, Fla.; Scott Field, Ill.; Madison, Wis., and in Nebraska. He is a radio operator on a bomber and is now en route to an overseas base.

South Penn Circuit Admits Shippensburg

At the fall meeting of the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic conference in Carlisle last Wednesday evening arrangements were made to the re-admission of Shippensburg as a member next year in the football conference.

A maximum of 50 cents admission for basketball games was set. Student tickets will be 30 cents. Both prices include tax.

Aattending the meeting from Gettysburg were President Guile W. Lefever, Melvin Dry, Fred Haehnlen, Robert Sheads and Fred Troxell.

DR. S. K. STEVENS IS SPEAKER FOR HISTORICAL UNIT

Dr. Sylvester K. Stevens, Pennsylvania State historian from Harrisburg, was the main speaker at the first fall meeting of the Adams County Historical society Tuesday evening in the court house.

In his talk Doctor Stevens praised the local group for the work it has done in the last several years. "You are deserving of real commendation," he said, "for securing the rooms in the court house basement and the beginning of your collection of museum items.

"You will find this to be true. As soon as you get a place to keep things you will enjoy your work more. However, you probably will also find it true that you will soon outgrow even these quarters."

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, society president, presided and announced a number of gifts to the organization. William L. Meals, Esq., presented a collection of Memorial Day programs, a number of directories of Gettysburg churches, several old court calendars and also, in memory of his mother, a History of St. James Lutheran church, by the Rev. Joseph B. Baker, former pastor of the church.

Receive Historic Gifts

Mrs. John H. Pape also presented several items taken from an old house torn down on one of her properties near York Springs. They included a carpenter's antique wooden brace and bit, several old door locks and a pair of narrow spectacles, found behind the plastering on one of the walls.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg gave the society a photograph of the remains of a bridge on the old Thaddeus Stevens railroad to Caledonia.

Doctor Fortenbaugh also announced that the group had obtained, through the efforts of Dr. Henry Stewart, a copy of the book, "A Medical History of the Revolution." The volume was compiled under the direction of the Army Medical corps post at the Carlisle Barracks.

Offer Library Use

The president said that seminary students have requested permission to use the Historical society's library and that permission had been given for such use. He said also that the society would "be glad" to allow the use of its library to county school children for any of their school work concerning local history. Any students desiring to use the society material may work in the rooms in the courthouse basement any time during regular business hours at the court house, Doctor Fortenbaugh announced. The key to the room may be secured upon proper identification at the Red Cross office on Baltimore street.

In his talk, Doctor Stevens spoke of the relationship between the historical societies and the schools. "It is a good thing the state has required the teaching of Pennsylvania history in the schools," he said. "However it is unfortunate that there is an almost inevitable practice of all publishers to prepare textbooks for a subject after a law which requires its instruction has been passed."

"This makes a hurried job and almost always produces poor books. However, there are still very few books about Pennsylvania history that are good books. You cannot write a truly good work because of the depth and richness of the local history of the state. Such local history is an essential part of the state story and yet it cannot all be included in any one volume."

"One of the best ways to teach and learn the history of Pennsylvania," Doctor Stevens said, "is to study it as it relates to the local community. Study the famous historical undertakings and happenings in the state, but then see how they apply to local events. It is the job of the historical societies to aid in this work."

About 20 members of the county group were present. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, November 7.

Truck Driver's Ankle Is Crushed

Edward Watson, 42, Hanover, formerly of this county and recently employed as a truck driver by Mrs. Florence Reynolds, of Gettysburg, had his right ankle crushed on Sunday night when the truck he was driving crashed into the rear of a truck and trailer said to have been parked on the highway without lights, near Wayne, Pa.

Reports of the accident stated that the driver of the parked vehicle was asleep when the crash occurred. Mrs. Reynolds said that her truck was considerably damaged but that the cargo of furniture being hauled from Gettysburg to New York was "only slightly damaged."

State police investigated the accident and are reported to have filed charges against the driver of the parked machine. Mr. Watson was taken to the Bryn-Mawr hospital where he was admitted as a patient.

ENTERS BEAUTY SCHOOL

BOARD ADJUSTS SCHOOL PLANS

Meeting in special session Monday night at the office of County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh, the Adams county board of school directors discussed and approved a number of resolutions regarding the suspension of school for school-age workers for farm work; the suspension of school because of the nine-day period missed during the polio ban; and the vacation periods throughout the school year.

The text of the resolutions will not be announced until later in the week when a letter will be mailed by Superintendent Slaybaugh to all county teachers and school secretaries. Included in the letter will be instructions concerning the make-up of the school registers for the first month of school.

The resolutions were adopted by the board in order to simplify the accounting of tuition payments and to adjust the school year to losses in school days because of the working time of the pupils and the polio ban.

Vacation periods were fixed for October 26 and 27, the dates of the annual teacher institute; the Thursday and Friday of the Thanksgiving week-end; the last week in December and Good Friday.

The county board also recommended that local boards grant all teachers permission to attend the afternoon sessions of the nineteenth annual convention of the Southern Convention district of the Pennsylvania State Education Association to be held October 20 at the Carlisle high school, Carlisle. G. W. Lefever, principal of Gettysburg high school, is the president of the Southern Convention district. Other county teachers who are officers are Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent, president of the county superintendents' department; and William S. Whitely, principal of the Arendtsville vocational school, president of the commercial round table group.

ARNOLD JOINS KNOUSE FIRM

M. E. Knouse, president of the Knouse corporation, Peach Glen, announced that Ralph E. Arnold, formerly of Biglerville, and more recently of Washington, will soon assume the position of vice president in charge of production and purchases for the Knouse firm.

Mr. Arnold came to Adams county in August 1929 from Elgin, Ill., to join the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, remaining with that concern until August, 1941, when he resigned as vice president, director and purchasing agent. He joined the War Production staff in January, 1942, as a consultant on canned foods in the Food Division. In May he became administrator of Canning Machinery Preference Rating Order, P-115. In November of that year Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Section of the Food Division of the WPB and remained in that capacity until the War Food Administration was created, which eliminated the Food Division of the WPB.

Resigns U. S. Post

WFA was created in January, 1943, and Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Division of the Food Distribution Administration and remained in that position until the Office of Materials and Facilities was created within the WFA in May when he became Chief of the Priorities and Allocations Branches. He remained there until he resigned his government position on September 2 of this year.

Since his resignation Mr. Arnold made an extensive tour of canning plants throughout the country visiting the major canneries in California, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

TO BE CHAPLAIN

The Rev. Francis Myers, formerly of Glen Rock, a graduate of Gettysburg college and seminary, has been commissioned as a chaplain in the Navy with the rank of lieutenant, junior grade. He is now stationed at Bainbridge, Md. He formerly taught in the high school at Emmitsburg.

Brothers In U. S. Service

Pvt. John W. Denisar, Jr., 21, left, and his brother, Pfc. Dale Denisar, 20, who recently concluded leaves with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Denisar, Aspers. John has reported to Ft. Meade, Md., after concluding training at Camp Croft, N. C. Dale received a leg wound while fighting on Bougainville March 11 and has returned to the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., after a 35-day leave spent at his home.

COUNTIANS IN FRANCE HELP TO FEED GAS LINES

With American Forces in France (By Mail)—Millions of gallons of gasoline which made possible the lightning thrusts of American armored columns into northern France and east towards Germany, are stored and delivered by the soldiers who operate U. S. Army Quartermaster gasoline depots located throughout the liberated territory—and among those men are eight from Adams county.

Those men are Pfc. Francis B. Arendt, Gettysburg R. 3; Pvt. Ellsworth Sponseller, Gettysburg R. 5; Pfc. Glenn F. Mauss, Biglerville R. 1; Pfc. Gerald L. Strickler, East Berlin; Cpl. Donald G. Dolley, Fairfield R. 1; Pvt. Clair J. Bowling, Fairfield R. 2; Pvt. Arthur J. Cool, Littlestown R. 2, and Pvt. John H. Zinn, Hanover R. 3.

Soon after the Normandy beachhead was firmly established, the depot crews set up large fuel-dispensing points. Army engineers laid pipelines from the beaches to the depots. Gasoline, direct from Allied tankers anchored off the beaches, poured into the storage tanks.

The gasoline does not lie idle in the tanks, however. As quickly as it flows in from the beaches and the ports, it is piped into tanker vehicles and into five-gallon cans to be rushed off to the fighting front.

"According to the rule book," said a depot executive officer, Capt. William N. Aquilani, of Norristown, "my men are able to fill 3,200 cans a day, but the count has risen and they're still out to break records!"

Gas-line tap attendants can fill a 2,000 gallon tanker truck in 10 minutes. Smaller 750-gallon trucks back up to the big tanks and drive away, full, in four and a half minutes.

RECEIVES HIGH WAR CITATION

An Eighth AAF Composite Station, England (By Mail)—Sgt. Rodney A. Poist, of McSherrystown, is a member of a Bombardment group which, with its Division, has been cited by President Roosevelt for a bombing attack on targets in Germany, January 11, 1944.

Sergeant Poist is now entitled to wear the Presidential Citation Badge, a blue ribbon with a gold border, over the right pocket of the blouse.

This group, which is commanded by Col. Howard Moore, of Ilano, Texas, also has been commended by Lieut. Gen. James H. Doolittle, Commanding General of the Eighth Air Force, and Lieut. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, former Commander of the Eighth, for outstanding performance of duty in the winter of 1943-44, when its planes led 80 per cent of the Eighth's bombing missions.

Sgt. Poist, who is a refueling operator at this B-17 Flying Fortress station, has been in England 18 months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Poist, of 371 North street, McSherrystown, and was a bus driver before entering the service.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Charles F. Hoffman, Harney; James W. Barnitz, New Oxford, and Mrs. Harold H. Fowler, East Broadway, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. Emma E. Small, McSherrystown; Mrs. Howard Schwartz, Littlestown R. 1; Mrs. Glenn S. Bishop and infant son, Steinwehr avenue, and Mrs. Eugene M. Currens and infant daughter, Lois Elaine, Arendtsville.

139 PINTS OF BLOOD GIVEN HERE FRIDAY

One hundred and one countians who held appointments at the Red Cross Blood Donor station failed to atuear last Friday and held the total number of pints received to 139 although membership in the Gallon Club was boosted to 12 with the addition of seven new members.

Those who received the Gallon Club membership cards and insignia Friday were: George Bushman, Gettysburg; Mrs. Ernest Brindle, Biglerville; Hunter Harness Gettysburg; Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Gettysburg; Mrs. Edgar W. Weaner, Gettysburg R. 4; Francis Knox, Jr., Gettysburg, and Glenn Kennedy, Aspers.

Two persons, Radford H. Lippy, the Blood Donor Service chairman, and Mrs. Madelyn King, McKnightstown, started their second gallons with their ninth donations. Both joined the Gallon Club in June.

There were 21 donors who gave their first pint Friday; 24 for their second pint; 12 who got silver buttons for their third pints; 18 for the fourth pint; 11 for the fifth; 28 for the sixth, and 16 for the seventh.

Friday's donations brought to 2,449 the total number of pints received here since the monthly visits were begun in January, 1943.

The local Blood Donor Service committee renewed Saturday the appeal for new donors pointing out that national Red Cross is urging increased blood donations to meet the high demands for plasma on the battlefields of Europe and the Pacific.

The next Donor Day in Gettysburg will be Friday, November 3.

The list of Friday's donors in addition to those giving their eighth and ninth pints follow:

Twins Born Sunday To Capt., Mrs. Allison

Twin sons were born Sunday to Capt. and Mrs. William B. Allison at the West Chester, Pa., hospital. Capt. Allison, a veteran of Marine action in the Pacific, is the son of Superintendent William H. Allison of the National cemetery and Mrs. Allison. The twins' mother, is the former Miss Jane Killifer, daughter of William Killifer, former big league player with the Phillies and Chicago Cubs.

West Chester is Mrs. Allison's home. Captain Allison is stationed at Marine headquarters in Washington, D. C.

HERE AND THERE

The arrest, conviction and sentence of the two ringleaders of a band of counterfeiters in 1876 led to a conspiracy to steal the corpse of Abraham Lincoln, frustration of which was attributed to the alertness of a detective and the United States Secret Service.

The Lincoln National Life Foundation furnishes the details of the plot and how it was smashed.

* * *

The counterfeiters' expert engraver was one Benjamin Boyd, in Fulton, Ill. The owner and operator of the printing press that printed the bogus money was one Doctor Driggs who was traced to a freight house at Clinton, Illinois. Driggs soon moved his press and the Secret Service agents planned to arrest the ringleaders, although operating in different towns, at the same time.

Captain Patrick D. Tyrell and John McDonald arranged to arrest Boyd at Fulton and Chief Elmer Washburn was directed to apprehend Driggs at Centralia to where he had been traced. Boyd was nabbed in his workshop in a deserted warehouse on the river front. Driggs was picked up in a secret room in the top story of a building in Centralia. Both men were convicted and sentenced. Boyd was sent to Joliet penitentiary to serve his term.

* * *

When Terrance Mullens and Jack Hughes, salesmen of the bogus money, ran short of funds they decided to try to get their engraver released. They set up stand in Lincoln, Ill., a town named after the martyred President which he is said to have christened with a watermelon. The two salesmen conceived the idea of stealing Lincoln's corpse and holding it for ransom for the release of Boyd.

Bold and brazen as they were Mullens and Hughes later decided to demand $200,000 in cash in addition to Boyd's release for the corpse. They planned to steal the body and bury it in the sand dunes of Indiana, between two trees where the wind would so blow the sand that traces of their own presence there would be obscured, while they remained in a nearby woods.

* * *

But Mullens and Hughes were suspected of being implicated in the counterfeiting plot and Lewis S. Swengles, a detective, was ordered to shadow the pair. He did such an excellent job that they soon made him their confident and revealed enough of their corpse-stealing plot to invite him to assist them. He claimed to have had experience in snatching bodies.

The night of November 7, 1876, the day of Rutherford B. Hayes election, was set as the date for the theft. Swengles had kept Captain Tyrell fully informed. Hence, when the conspirators and their confidant boarded a Chicago train for Springfield, Tyrell, McDonald and a force of detectives were also aboard. Outside of Springfield the Secret Service men were left off in the freight yards. Mullens, Hughes and Swengles proceeded into the station.

* * *

Mullens was to secure the totals to break into the crypt. Hughes was to make a survey at the tomb. Swengles was to provide the vehicle to transport the body.

An interesting detail about the arrangements called for the wrapping of the tools in an old newspaper which the conspirators felt sure those discovering the empty crypt would preserve as evidence. A part of the front page of the paper was ingeniously torn off through the title and date. This was to be sent to Boyd in the penitentiary so that he might prove he was in touch with the kidnappers, and with the payment of the ransom money could produce the body.

* * *

At the tomb, Swengles was to stand guard outside while Mullens and Hughes cut into the crypt. This would enable Swengles to signal the Secret Service men at the proper time to nab the conspirators in the act. However, at the last moment Swengles was directed to hold a lamp inside the crypt so that Mullens and Hughes could both work.

It was not until the marble sarcophagus had been mutilated, the end and part of the top removed, and the casket containing the body had been partly pulled from the stone receptacle that Swengles was free to signal. He was sent for the vehicle but instead signalled the detectives.

As soon as Swengles left the tomb, Mullens and Hughes hid in some nearby bushes to await his return. They had just reached their hiding place when they saw the detectives rush around the monument and enter the tomb. Of course, the officers found no grave robbers and the conspirators escaped. Several days later they were arrested in Chicago and returned to Springfield for trial.

However, the law at that time provided no penalty for an attempt to steal a dead body so a charge of burglary was entered against them and upon their conviction were sent to prison for a year.

* * *

It is of interest to note that the Pinkerton detective agency which warned Lincoln of the Baltimore plot to assassinate him on the way to his inauguration, and which became invaluable to the government during the Civil War, concluded their services to the martyred Lincoln by frustrating the plans of those who would steal his corpse.

Governor Martin has decreed that Pennsylvanians will observe Thanksgiving Day on November 23, the fourth Thursday of the month.

Confusion reigns in the minds of many who follow their calendars. Some calendars have November 30, the fifth Thursday and last day of the month, designated as Turkey Day. Others have November 23 bracketed as the official holiday.

Governor Martin announced that he will follow Congressional action which designates the fourth Thursday of November this year and next year as the official Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Mary E. Kitzmiller, of 31 4th street, sister of Sergeant James W. Tate now serving in France, contributes the following poem she composed:

Beneath the soil of foreign lands,
Beneath the sun and blazing sands,
Beneath the ocean, wide and deep
Now lie our sons; they are asleep.

No sound of bursting shell or gun
Will meet them with the coming sun.
Only the peace of sacred ground
Will guard and wrap them gently round.

No greater love was theirs to give,
That freedom of the world shall live,
No greater trust is ours to keep
Than keeping faith with those who sleep.

Mrs. Kitzmiller is employed in the disbursement division of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

In his recent speech to the House of Commons Prime Minister Churchill had this to say on Hitler's prowess:

"I have always hated comparing Napoleon with Hitler, as it seems an insult to the great Emperor and warrior to connect him in any way with the squalid caucas boss and butcher, but there is one respect in which I must draw a parallel. Both of these men were temperamentally unable to give up the tiniest scrap of any territory to which the high-water mark of their hectic fortunes carried them.

"Thus, after Leipzig in 1813, Napoleon left all his garrisons on the Rhine and 40,000 men in Hamburg. He refused to withdraw many other vitally important elements of his armies and had to begin his 1814 campaign with raw levies and a few seasoned troops brought in a hurry from Spain. Similarly Hitler had successfully scattered German armies all over Europe and by obstinating at every point from Stalingrad to Tunis down to the present moment has stripped himself of the power to concentrate his main strength for the final struggle. * * *

"When I hear that after Hitler escaped his bomb on July 20 he described his survival as providential, I think from a purely military point of view we can agree with him; but certainly it would be most unfortunate if the Allies were to be deprived in the closing phases of the struggle of that form of warlike genius by which Corporal Shickelgruber has so notably contributed to our victory."

Second Shipment Of Furs Is Announced

Mrs. Effa Chapman, executive assistant at the local chapter office of the American Red Cross, announced today the fourth shipment of furs from the county to the Fur Industry's Vest Project in New York city.

The furs are made into vests for merchant seamen of the Allied Merchant Marine fleets and are furnished free of charge. Mrs. Chapman said that the fur collection is continuing and she urged countians to bring to the chapter office on Baltimore street, old furs of any kind which could be used in the project.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

F. V. Topper, Sr., Main street, McSherrystown, who recently underwent two operations at St. Joseph's hospital, Lancaster, returned home last Thursday. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Claudine Topper, assistant supervisor of nurses at St. Joseph's hospital. Mr. Topper's condition is satisfactory.

CONFIRM PENN TILE COMPANY DISTRIBUTION

The report of the auditor in the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of real estate and personal property of the Penn Tile Works, Aspers, was confirmed absolutely in an opinion handed down Saturday by President Judge W. C. Sheely. The exceptions of the Commonwealth to the auditor's order of distribution were overruled.

A report, submitted by the auditor after the real estate and personal property had been sold under a writ of fieri facias, held that the funds realized should be distributed, (1) to costs; (2) taxes due the United States; (3) unemployment compensation contributions due the Commonwealth, and (4) labor claims.

In a summary of the background of the case, Judge Sheely said: "Since the claim of the United States exhausted the fund, there was no distribution to the lien of the Commonwealth or to labor claims. The Commonwealth filed exceptions to the report of the auditor contending that it is entitled to priority over the claim of the United States or, at least, to equal priority with that claim. The notice of the federal tax lien was filed with the prothonotary on July 21, 1943, and was based on an assessment returned to the collector on March 10, 1943. The liens of the Commonwealth were filed on January 28, 1944, and March 15, 1944."

Quotes Federal Statute

Judge Sheely continued: "Under section 3466 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, * * * priority of payment is given to the United States, and the claim of the United States would be entitled to first position in order of distribution. * * *

"The personal property fund, which was distributed to the lien of the United States, after payment of a proportionate share of the cost, amounted to $881.02. Claims for wages earned within six months of the commencement of the proceeding and not in excess of $250 for each claimant, were allowed in the sum of $757.18, but the auditor held that they must be postponed in favor of the lien of the United States.

Second Opinion

"Under the provision of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation law these claims would take priority over the claim of the Commonwealth and, if allowed, would reduce the fund for distribution to $123.84. The lien of the United States, however, amounts to $1,216. Thus, it would be impossible to place the claim of the Commonwealth on a par with the claim of the United States.

The court concluded its opinion as follows: "We conclude that the auditor was correct in allowing the claim of the United States as a priority claim and since this claim exhausted the fund for distribution, there was no balance for subsequent claims. The fact that the employer may have been entitled to a credit of 90% of the federal tax had he paid the state tax has no application where the distribution is involuntary. Here the taxpayer has made no payments to the state fund.

In a second opinion concerning the damage suit in an action of trespass by Charles F. McCaffrey and Michael Walsh verses Samuel E. Dowell, the court decreed that a rule for judgment of non pros was discharged and the defendant is allowed 15 days in which to file an affidavit of defense.

Rev. Brenneman In Chaplains' Corps

The Rev. Marshall E. Brenneman, of Gettysburg, who is director of Camp Nawakwa for the last four years, was sworn in as a member of the Navy Chaplains Corps at Washington, D. C., and was given orders to report for an eight weeks training course at Williamsburg, Virginia, Monday.

Lt. (jg) Brenneman, who is a graduate of Albright college in the class of 1934 and the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary in 1939, was associate director at Nawakwa for four years before being named to the directorship. He had been a camper at the Lutheran leadership training camp for five years before being given the staff positions.

His successor as camp director has not been named.

Receives Second Oak Leaf Cluster

A second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal has been awarded Sgt. Francis A. Rider, 241 Baltimore street, Gettysburg, waist gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress, for "meritorious achievement" on bombing attacks over enemy Europe."

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Sgt. Rider, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen P. Rider, is a veteran of eighteen combat missions. A graduate of Gettysburg high school, class of 1941, he was an aircraft mechanic at Olmstead Field at Middletown, Pa., before entering the army February 1, 1943.

Killed

Private William J. Grimes, 20, of Fairfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grimes, who now reside in Thurmont, who was killed in action in Italy last September 13. Private Grimes was in service two years. His widow, the former Miss Helen Marshall, and infant daughter, Judy, reside in Fairfield.

LOCAL FLIERS DESTROY THREE GERMAN PLANES

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England (By Mail) — Nazi fighter planes falling in flames and mortally wounded B-17 Flying Fortresses spinning earthward was the climax of a bitterly fought air battle in the skies over Germany observed by 1st Lt. Harvey W. Dickert, 23-year-old pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dickert, of 70 Stevens street, Gettysburg, during an Eighth Air Force bombing attack on the enemy's synthetic oil plants.

"I saw a lot of Luftwaffe fighters shot down, several in flames, and with no parachutes coming out," reported the young pilot. "Our gunners, who accounted for three Nazi planes as they came through our formation, reported three Forts spinning down and another falling in a blaze of fire."

The unexpected Luftwaffe fighter attack, launched after a lull of several weeks, was broken up by P-51 Mustangs which came roaring to the assistance of the embattled bombers. At least 171 Nazi planes were destroyed by the Eighth Air Force on that day.

A veteran of numerous bombing attacks against strategic targets deep in Germany and military installations behind the front lines in support of Allied ground forces, Lieutenant Dickert is a member of the 3rd Bombardment division, cited by the President for its now historic England-to-Africa shuttle bombing of the Messerschmitt plants in Regensburg, Germany.

First Lieutenant Raymond W. Spahr, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Spahr, Gettysburg, is navigator aboard the plane, called "Mason and Dixon."

Firest Lieutenant Vernon G. Keilholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Keilholtz, formerly of Emmitsburg, is the co-pilot.

COUNTY YOUTH HURT IN ACTION

Sgt. Joseph Mark McDermitt, 26, was wounded in action in France and received the Purple Heart he notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDermitt, New Cumberland, and wife, Mrs. Janet McDermitt, New Cumberland, Thursday. The McDermitts resided along the Taneytown road until moving to New Cumberland a few years ago.

The sergeant did not disclose further details but said he was feeling fine and rapidly recovering.

He attended Gettysburg high school and was employed by a York plumbing firm before he enlisted in February, 1941.

Sgt. McDermitt trained at Indiantown Gap, Louisiana, Florida and Camp Pickett, Va., before going overseas in January, 1944, with an ordnance unit.

A brother, Pvt. Patrick Dale McDermitt, 21, graduated from New Cumberland high school and is a former employe of the New Cumberland Army Depot. He entered service in January, 1943, and trained at Miami Beach, Fla.; Scott Field, Ill.; Madison, Wis., and in Nebraska. He is a radio operator on a bomber and is now en route to an overseas base.

South Penn Circuit Admits Shippensburg

At the fall meeting of the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic conference in Carlisle last Wednesday evening arrangements were made to the re-admission of Shippensburg as a member next year in the football conference.

A maximum of 50 cents admission for basketball games was set. Student tickets will be 30 cents. Both prices include tax.

Attending the meeting from Gettysburg were President Guile W. Lefever, Melvin Dry, Fred Haehnlen, Robert Sheads and Fred Troxell.

DR. S. K. STEVENS IS SPEAKER FOR HISTORICAL UNIT

Dr. Sylvester K. Stevens, Pennsylvania State historian from Harrisburg, was the main speaker at the first fall meeting of the Adams County Historical society Tuesday evening in the court house.

In his talk Doctor Stevens praised the local group for the work it has done in the last several years. "You are deserving of real commendation," he said, "for securing the rooms in the court house basement and the beginning of your collection of museum items.

"You will find this to be true. As soon as you get a place to keep things you will enjoy your work more. However, you probably will also find it true that you will soon outgrow even these quarters."

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, society president, presided and announced a number of gifts to the organization. William L. Meals, Esq., presented a collection of Memorial Day programs, a number of directories of Gettysburg churches, several old court calendars and also, in memory of his mother, a History of St. James Lutheran church, by the Rev. Joseph B. Baker, former pastor of the church.

Receive Historic Gifts

Mrs. John H. Pape also presented several items taken from an old house torn down on one of her properties near York Springs. They included a carpenter's antique wooden brace and bit, several old door locks and a pair of narrow spectacles, found behind the plastering on one of the walls.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg gave the society a photograph of the remains of a bridge on the old Thaddeus Stevens railroad to Caledonia.

Doctor Fortenbaugh also announced that the group had obtained, through the efforts of Dr. Henry Stewart, a copy of the book, "A Medical History of the Revolution." The volume was compiled under the direction of the Army Medical corps post at the Carlisle Barracks.

Offer Library Use

The president said that seminary students have requested permission to use the Historical society's library and that permission had been given for such use. He said also that the society would "be glad" to allow the use of its library to county school children for any of their school work concerning local history. Any students desiring to use the society material may work in the rooms in the courthouse basement any time during regular business hours at the court house, Doctor Fortenbaugh announced. The key to the room may be secured upon proper identification at the Red Cross office on Baltimore street.

In his talk, Doctor Stevens spoke of the relationship between the historical societies and the schools. "It is a good thing the state has required the teaching of Pennsylvania history in the schools," he said. "However it is unfortunate that there is an almost inevitable practice of all publishers to prepare textbooks for a subject after a law which requires its instruction has been passed."

"This makes a hurried job and almost always produces poor books. However, there are still very few books about Pennsylvania history that are good books. You cannot write a truly good work because of the depth and richness of the local history of the state. Such local history is an essential part of the state story and yet it cannot all be included in any one volume."

"One of the best ways to teach and learn the history of Pennsylvania," Doctor Stevens said, "is to study it as it relates to the local community. Study the famous historical undertakings and happenings in the state, but then see how they apply to local events. It is the job of the historical societies to aid in this work."

About 20 members of the county group were present. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, November 7.

Truck Driver's Ankle Is Crushed

Edward Watson, 42, Hanover, formerly of this county and recently employed as a truck driver by Mrs. Florence Reynolds, of Gettysburg, had his right ankle crushed on Sunday night when the truck he was driving crashed into the rear of a truck and trailer said to have been parked on the highway without lights, near Wayne, Pa.

Reports of the accident stated that the driver of the parked vehicle was asleep when the crash occurred. Mrs. Reynolds said that her truck was considerably damaged but that the cargo of furniture being hauled from Gettysburg to New York was "only slightly damaged."

State police investigated the accident and are reported to have filed charges against the driver of the parked machine. Mr. Watson was taken to the Bryn-Mawr hospital where he was admitted as a patient.

ENTERS BEAUTY SCHOOL

MARTIN - KANE NUPTIALS HELD TUES. MORNING

The marriage of Miss Ruby Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Kane, Biglerville R. D., to Dr. George W. Martin, son of Brigadier General and Mrs. Joseph I. Martin, Rockford, Ill., was solemnized at a nuptial high mass at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning at St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley.

The Rev. Daniel J. Crowley, rector of the church, officiated. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of cream white brocaded satin with a regal neckline and sweeping court train. Seed pearls trimmed the bodice of the gown. Heirloom hand-made Belgian lace which has been in the family of the maid-of-honor for over 100 years, formed the wedding veil. The fine net, lavishly embroidered, was arranged in cap style with a short cascade in the center of the back. The lace extended over the court train on either side of the cascade.

Maid of Honor

Gardenias and stephanotis were used in the bridal bouquet.

Miss Glendon Buckly, Baltimore, as maid of honor and only attendant, wore a gown of ice blue taffeta and net with a small hat of ostrich feathers and matching velvet ribbon bows. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and carnations, interspersed with sprays of blue delphinium.

Prof. Dominick Greco, instructor in biology at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, served as best man.

Music of Carlo Rossini was played by Mrs. D. Frederick Slegal. Miss Margaret Mary Tuel, Baltimore, sang "Ave Maria" and a hymn to the Blessed Mother during the ceremony.

The alter was decorated with ferns, palms and white chrysanthemums. The bride's mother wore a gown of silk crepe in grape shade with black hat and accessories and a corsage of delicately shaded orchid.

Reside in Washington

The bridegroom's mother wore black crepe with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

MRS. MARY HAKE, 95, SUCCUMBS AT HOME TUES.

Mrs. Mary J. Hake, 95, one of Gettysburg's oldest residents and one of the few here who had a personal recollection of events connected with the battle of Gettysburg, died on Tuesday, at 8:07 p. m. at her home, 230 Springs avenue. Infirmities of age caused death.

Mrs. Hake had been confined to bed for the greater part of the time since June 13, 1943, when she was taken ill. She observed her ninety-fifth birthday anniversary last November 16 with members of her family.

Mrs. Hake recalled the battle here from an incident at the farm near McKnightstown where she lived with her parents, the late George and Annie Trostle Biesecker. Some Confederate soldiers, believed to have been a part of Stuart's cavalry, stopped at the Biesecker home and took the horses and most of the foodstuffs.

While the Confederates were at the Biesecker farm, the sound of cannon shot at the opening of the battle here were heard and the enemy horsemen mounted and rode off toward Gettysburg at top-speed, she recalled.

Funeral Thursday

Mrs. Hake's husband, the late W. A. Hake, died in 1891. He was a Civil war veteran. The couple had nine children, three of whom survive. They are W. H. Hake, Springs avenue; J. Nevin Hake, Indianapolis, Ind.; and Mrs. Mary Van Dyke, Cranberry, N. J. Two sisters, Mrs. Emma Rebert, South street, and Mrs. Milton R. Biesecker, Delaware, Ohio, a grandson and two great grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Hake lived in Adams county all of her life, moving to Gettysburg from a farm near McKnightstown after her husband's death. She was a member of the Reformed church here and the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Funeral services Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Bender funeral home with her pastor, the Rev. H. S. Fox, officiating. Interment in the National cemetery where her husband is buried.

LEWIS TOPPER DIES SUDDENLY

J. Lewis Topper, 72, died suddenly at his home near Emmitsburg Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock. He had been in ill health for two years.

The deceased was a son of the late Jacob L. and Christine (Krise) Topper and farmed near Emmitsburg most of his life. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, the Holy Name Society and the Emerald society.

Surviving are his widow, the former Margaret E. Florence; five children, Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Alton Roberts, Baltimore; Stewart J., Baltimore; Pvt. Curtis, Ft. Belvoir, Va., and Pfc. James, somewhere in Germany; 12 grandchildren; four brothers and sisters, Mrs. Christine Baker, John, Mrs. William Troxell and Maurice A., all of Emmitsburg.

There are two daughters by the first marriage, Miss Frances Barnitz, Pittsbugh, and Mrs. M. D. DeTar, Gettysburg; and two brothers, John and Harry Barnitz, both of Philadelphia.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Barnitz home with the Rev. Earl N. Rowe, New Oxford Methodist pastor, officiating. Interment was made in the New Oxford cemetery.

The pallbearers were H. A. Jones, L. W. Grove, John E. C. Miller, G. M. Spangler, William A. Sheely and William Snyder.

SGT. KLUNK AWARDED DFC

S. Sgt. Edward F. Klunk, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lloyd Klunk, Hanover R. 4, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. It has been announced by the Twelfth Air Force headquarters in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

Sgt. Klunk received the award for his bravery and heroism in an attack on enemy shipping in the Gulf of Tunis on April 25, 1943. As his B-25 formation approached an enemy convoy in the harbor, the Germans opened up with an intense flak barrage and Sgt. Klunk was wounded in the back. The citation reads in part:

"Despite his wound and dazed condition, he remained at his post and dropped his bombs, resulting in the sinking of a merchant vessel and a Siebel Ferry and damage to other boats."

After leaving the target, the bombers took a course that led over the heavy flak defenses around Tunis. The formation was subjected to an unusually intense flak barrage. Sgt. Klunk's plane was riddled and badly damaged, two crew members were seriously wounded and a fire broke out inside the plane. The citation continues:

"Disregarding his own wound, Sgt. Klunk assisted in extinguishing the fire, rendered first aid to the wounded men and carefully braced them in preparation for a crash landing." The landing was made successfully without further injury to the crew.

Banks May Now Cash War Bonds

Although the government does not want war bonds cashed a new ruling makes bonds cashable by banks beginning today, a Treasury Department announcement said.

"The new system was organized solely as a convenience for those who of sheer necessity must cash bonds. It is intended to make possible for them to hold their bonds longer because their money will be at once available upon the actual occurrence of any necessity," the treasury report stated.

By the ruling the bonds become as negotiable as a government check and the money is available after the required 60-days' holding period is up.

A treasury official said, "The plan is another reason for holding one's bonds to the last minute and for putting all of one's savings into bonds. The bonds henceforth are the most patriotic and safest way to hold interest earning money for any future need.

"The government does not want bonds cashed. Those who cash theirs, except in extreme emergency, are unnecessarily hampering the war effort."

Lieutenant Garvin Gets Army Promotion

Wright Field, Ohio—Promotion of Henry W. Garvin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Garvin, 20 Reynolds street, Gettysburg, from second to first lieutenant was announced today at headquarters of the Air Technical Service Command here.

Lieutenant Garvin is assigned to ATSC's Procurement Division. His work is concerned with inspection of aircraft produced for the Army Air forces.

Entering the service after graduating from Lehigh university as a mechanical engineer in 1943, Lieut. Garvin was selected to attend AAF officer candidate school. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in October 1943 and has been assigned to Wright Field since that time.

Lieutenant Garvin is a member of American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and is affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

SGT. GILLAND IS KILLED IN ACTION SEPTEMBER 17

S. Sgt. Charles J. Gilland, 23-year-old son of Mrs. Lewis E. McClain, Fairfield, R. 1, was killed in action in France on September 17, his mother was notified in a war department telegram which she received Sunday evening.

Sergeant Gilland was assigned to the infantry and served under General Patton.

He had gone overseas about the middle of July, going first to England but continuing to France within a month. The last letter his mother received was written August 16 in France.

Gilland, son of the late Arthur B. Gilland, who died a number of years ago, was inducted into the Army July 1, 1942, and trained at Camp Forest, Tenn.; Camp Phillips, Kansas and in Arizona.

Worked At Waynesboro

Before entering service he was employed by the Landis Tool Company at Waynesboro. He attended Grayson's school in Hamiltonban township for eight years.

A brother, Maurice I. Gilland, died in Hawaii before the outbreak of the war. He was serving in the army at the time.

News reports from France on the day that Gilland was killed stated that Patton's Third Army was fighting along the Morselle river in Eastern France, hammering eastward into the Vosges from Nancy and northward behind the fortress city of Metz after throwing back repeated German counterattacks.

LT. DICKERT IS AWARDED DFC AS PILOT OF FORT

First Lt. Harvey W. Dickert, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dickert of East Stevens street, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross "for extraordinary achievement while serving as pilot on many high altitude heavy bombardment missions over Germany and German occupied continental Europe during a period ending September 11."

Lieutenant Dickert is the pilot of the B-17 Flying Fortress "Mason and Dixon" on which 1st Lt. Raymond W. Spahr, 168 York street, and 1st Lt. Vernon G. Keilholtz, Emmitsburg, are crew members.

The citation accompanying the DFC stated: "Under the duress of heavy fighting attacks, anti-aircraft fire, and often under adverse weather conditions, Lt. Dickert, by his superior airmanship, contributed to the success of all of these operations. The untiring effort, skill and determination under stress of combat displayed by Lieutenant Dickert are in keeping with the highest traditions of the Army Air Force of the United States."

Lts. Dickert and Spahr were classmates at Gettysburg high school in the class of 1940. Lt. Keilholtz is a graduate of the Emmitsburg high school in the same year.

SHEELY NAMED DISASTER UNIT CO-ORDINATOR

Judge W. C. Sheely, present chairman of the Adams county Council of Defense, was named disaster co-ordinator for the county at a meeting of the county commissioners Wednesday.

The Emergency Disaster committee recently was organized in Pennsylvania under the direction of Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, executive director of the State Council of Defense, in an effort to coordinate the efforts of the new group, the Red Cross, Civilian Defense, and the executive officials of counties and municipalities in cases of emergency.

Under an executive order of Governor Edward Martin in the organization of the Emergency Disaster group, county and municipal officials were requested to appoint disaster coordinators for their respective jurisdictions. The order also requested that the present Civilian Defense setup be followed as closely as possible.

Explains Set-up

The new committee was organized to take care of any natural disasters such as windstorms, tornados, floods and fires caused by factors other than war.

In a letter from Doctor Hutchison to the Adams county commissioners the proposed set-up was explained as follows:

"This Disaster Plan also contemplates that each county maintain a control center, which can and will be activated as a center of command immediately upon the occurrence of disaster in your community or upon request of the State Control Center, for the purpose of rendering aid when disaster strikes somewhere else. This Control Center should be capable of accommodating a panel composed of those who will represent Red Cross, police, fire departments, the various branches of Civilian Defense, the medical emergency officer, and any others who will finally be represented there under the chairmanship of your co-ordinator."

PUPILS, WOMEN TO GET PRIZES IN BOND DRIVE

An innovation will be introduced in the forthcoming Sixth War Bond Drive, Mrs. Henry T. Bream, chairman of the Women's Division of the Adams county War Finance Committee, announced Thursday.

"With the cooperation of Chairman Mares Sherman, of the Retail Division of the Finance Committee, and with the cooperation of the merchants, fraternal organizations and service clubs of the town and county, prizes in war bonds and war stamps will be awarded to the school children and women selling the greatest number of bonds during the next drive," Mrs. Bream explained.

"Mr. Sherman and his committee together with the Women's Division will accept volunteer gifts of war bonds and war stamps from any patriotic merchant, fraternal group or club of the town and county to be given to the school children and women who sell the largest number of bonds during the next bond drive. The gifts will be purely voluntary and may be made either to Mr. Sherman or to myself. Each merchant donating a gift of a bond or a number of war stamps will be publicly acknowledged. The list of those donating will be published in The Gettysburg Times and their names will be posted in our headquarters in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg during the several weeks of the drive.

Special Ceremony

"At the conclusion of the drive the awards will be presented at a special ceremony, details of which will be arranged and announced later," Mrs. Bream explained.

The purpose of the gift idea, it was further stated, is to encourage the volunteer school pupils and women bond salesmen and recompense them in some degree for their efforts during the forthcoming drive.

Donors are urged to notify Mr. Sherman or Mrs. Bream at their earliest convenience of the amount and nature of their gifts.

HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

A memorial service for S. Sgt. Charles James Gilland, 23, son of Mrs. Lewis McClain, Fairfield R. 1, who was killed in action in France September 17, will be held at Wesley Chapel, Fountaindale, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services will be in charge of the pastor, the Rev. James W. Dendler.

Sgt. Gilland was born in Fairfield and graduated from Grayson's school, Liberty township. He was inducted July 1, 1940, and went overseas with an infantry outfit last June. He was a member of General Patton's army and had received medals for being an expert infantryman.

In a letter received by his mother, Sgt. Gilland revealed he had been in many towns in France which had been bombed and that his outfit had captured a number of German prisoners.

A brother, Pvt Maurice Gilland, enlisted in the army June 29, 1939, and died June 4, 1940 in Hawaii.

MARTIN - KANE NUPTIALS HELD TUES. MORNING

The marriage of Miss Ruby Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Kane, Biglerville R. D., to Dr. George W. Martin, son of Brigadier General and Mrs. Joseph I. Martin, Rockford, Ill., was solemnized at a nuptial high mass at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning at St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley. The Rev. Daniel J. Crowley, rector of the church, officiated. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of cream white brocaded satin with a regal neckline and sweeping court train. Seed pearls trimmed the bodice of the gown. Heirloom handmade Belgian lace which has been in the family of the maid-of-honor for over 100 years, formed the wedding veil. The fine net, lavishly embroidered, was arranged in cap style with a short cascade in the center of the back. The lace extended over the court train on either side of the cascade.

Maid of Honor

Gardenias and stephanotis were used in the bridal bouquet.

Miss Glendon Buckly, Baltimore, as maid of honor and only attendant, wore a gown of ice blue taffeta and net with a small hat of ostrich feathers and matching velvet ribbon bows. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and carnations, interspersed with sprays of blue delphinium.

Prof. Dominick Greco, instructor in biology at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, served as best man.

Music of Carlo Rossini was played by Mrs. D. Frederick Slegal. Miss Margaret Mary Tuel, Baltimore, sang "Ave Maria" and a hymn to the Blessed Mother during the ceremony.

MRS. MARY HAKE, 95, SUCCUMBS AT HOME TUES.

Mrs. Mary J. Hake, 95, one of Gettysburg's oldest residents and one of the few here who had a personal recollection of events connected with the battle of Gettysburg, died on Tuesday, at 8:07 p. m. at her home, 230 Springs avenue. Infirmities of age caused death.

Mrs. Hake had been confined to bed for the greater part of the time since June 13, 1943, when she was taken ill. She observed her ninety-fifth birthday anniversary last November 16 with members of her family.

Mrs. Hake recalled the battle here from an incident at the farm near McKnightstown where she lived with her parents, the late George and Annie Trostle Biesecker. Some Confederate soldiers, believed to have been a part of Stuart's cavalry, stopped at the Biesecker home and took the horses and most of the foodstuffs.

While the Confederates were at the Biesecker farm, the sound of cannon shot at the opening of the battle here were heard and the enemy horsemen mounted and rode off toward Gettysburg at top-speed, she recalled.

Funeral Thursday

SGT. KLUNK AWARDED DFC

S. Sgt. Edward F. Klunk, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lloyd Klunk, Hanover R. 4, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, it has been announced by the Twelfth Air Force headquarters in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

Sgt. Klunk received the award for his bravery and heroism in an attack on enemy shipping in the Gulf of Tunis on April 25, 1943. As his B-25 formation approached an enemy convoy in the harbor, the Germans opened up with an intense flak barrage and Sgt. Klunk was wounded in the back. The citation reads in part:

"Despite his wound and dazed condition, he remained at his post and dropped his bombs, resulting in the sinking of a merchant vessel and a Siebel Ferry and damage to other boats."

After leaving the target, the bombers took a course that led over the heavy flak defenses around Tunis. The formation was subjected to an unusually intense flak barrage. Sgt. Klunk's plane was riddled and badly damaged, two crew members were seriously wounded and a fire broke out inside the plane. The citation continues:

"Disregarding his own wound, Sgt. Klunk assisted in extinguishing the fire, rendered first aid to the wounded men and carefully braced them in preparation for a crash landing." The landing was made successfully without further injury to the crew.

Banks May Now Cash War Bonds

Although the government does not want war bonds cashed a new ruling makes bonds cashable by banks beginning today, a Treasury Department announcement said.

"The new system was organized solely as a convenience for those who of sheer necessity must cash bonds. It is intended to make possible for them to hold their bonds longer because their money will be at once available upon the actual occurrence of any necessity," the treasury report stated.

By the ruling the bonds become as negotiable as a government check and the money is available after the required 60-days' holding period is up.

A treasuary official said, "The plan is another reason for holding one's bonds to the last minute and for putting all of one's savings into bonds. The bonds henceforth are the most patriotic and safest way to hold interest earning money for any future need.

"The government does not want bonds cashed. Those who cash theirs, except in extreme emergency, are unnecessarily hampering the war effort."

Lieutenant Garvin Gets Army Promotion

Wright Field, Ohio—Promotion of Henry W. Garvin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Garvin, 20 Reynolds street, Gettysburg, from second to first lieutenant was announced today at headquarters of the Air Technical Service Command here.

SHEELY NAMED DISASTER UNIT CO-ORDINATOR

Judge W. C. Sheely, present chairman of the Adams county Council of Defense, was named disaster coordinator for the county at a meeting of the county commissioners Wednesday.

The Emergency Disaster committee recently was organized in Pennsylvania under the direction of Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, executive director of the State Council of Defense, in an effort to coordinate the efforts of the new group, the Red Cross, Civilian Defense, and the executive officials of counties and municipalities in cases of emergency.

Under an executive order of Governor Edward Martin in the organization of the Emergency Disaster group, county and municipal officials were requested to appoint disaster coordinators for their respective jurisdictions. The order also requested that the present Civilian Defense setup be followed as closely as possible.

Explains Set-up

The new committee was organized to take care of any natural disasters such as windstorms, tornados, floods and fires caused by factors other than war.

In a letter from Doctor Hutchison to the Adams county commissioners the proposed set-up was explained as follows:

"This Disaster Plan also contemplates that each county maintain a control center, which can and will be activated as a center of command immediately upon the occurrence of disaster in your community or upon request of the State Control Center, for the purpose of rendering aid when disaster strikes somewhere else. This Control Center should be capable of accommodating a panel composed of those who will represent Red Cross, police, fire departments, the various branches of Civilian Defense, the medical emergency officer, and any others who will finally be represented there under the chairmanship of your coordinator."

PUPILS, WOMEN TO GET PRIZES IN BOND DRIVE

An innovation will be introduced in the forthcoming Sixth War Bond Drive, Mrs. Henry T. Bream, chairman of the Women's Division of the Adams county War Finance Committee, announced Thursday.

"With the cooperation of Chairman Mares Sherman, of the Retail Division of the Finance Committee, and with the cooperation of the merchants, fraternal organizations and service clubs of the town and county, prizes in war bonds and war stamps will be awarded to the school children and women selling the greatest number of bonds during the next drive," Mrs. Bream explained.

"Mr. Sherman and his committee together with the Women's Division will accept volunteer gifts of war bonds and war stamps from any patriotic merchant, fraternal group or club of the town and county to be given to the school children and women who sell the largest number of bonds during the next bond drive. The gifts will be purely voluntary and may be made either to Mr. Sherman or to myself. Each merchant donating a gift of a bond or a number of war stamps will be publicly acknowledged. The list of those donating will be published in The Gettysburg Times and their names will be posted in our headquarters in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg during the several weeks of the drive.

Special Ceremony

"At the conclusion of the drive the awards will be presented at a special ceremony, details of which will be arranged and announced later," Mrs. Bream explained.

The purpose of the gift idea, it was further stated, is to encourage the volunteer school pupils and women bond salesmen and recompense them in some degree for their efforts during the forthcoming drive.

Donors are urged to notify Mr. Sherman or Mrs. Bream at their earliest convenience of the amount and nature of their gifts.

HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

A memorial service for S. Sgt. Charles James Gilland, 23, son of Mrs. Lewis McClain, Fairfield R. 1, who was killed in action in France September 17, will be held at Wesley Chapel, Fountaindale, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services will be in charge of the pastor, the Rev. James W. Dendler.

Sgt. Gilland was born in Fairfield and graduated from Grayson's school, Liberty township. He was inducted July 1, 1940, and went overseas with an infantry outfit last June. He was a member of General Patton's army and had received medals for being an expert infantryman.

In a letter received by his mother, Sgt. Gilland revealed he had been in many towns in France which had been bombed and that his outfit had captured a number of German prisoners.

A brother, Pvt. Maurice Gilland, enlisted in the army June 29, 1939, and died June 4, 1940 in Hawaii.

MRS. MARY HAKE, 95, SUCCUMBS AT HOME TUES.

Mrs. Mary J. Hake, 95, one of Gettysburg's oldest residents and one of the few here who had a personal recollection of events connected with the battle of Gettysburg, died on Tuesday, at 8:07 p. m. at her home, 230 Springs avenue. Infirmities of age caused death.

Mrs. Hake had been confined to bed for the greater part of the time since June 13, 1943, when she was taken ill. She observed her ninety-fifth birthday anniversary last November 16 with members of her family.

Mrs. Hake recalled the battle here from an incident at the farm near McKnightstown where she lived with her parents, the late George and Annie Trostle Biesecker. Some Confederate soldiers, believed to have been a part of Stuart's cavalry, stopped at the Biesecker home and took the horses and most of the foodstuffs.

While the Confederates were at the Biesecker farm, the sound of cannon shot at the opening of the battle here were heard and the enemy horsemen mounted and rode off toward Gettysburg at top-speed, she recalled.

Funeral Thursday

SGT. KLUNK AWARDED DFC

S. Sgt. Edward F. Klunk, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lloyd Klunk, Hanover R. 4, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, it has been announced by the Twelfth Air Force headquarters in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

Sgt. Klunk received the award for his bravery and heroism in an attack on enemy shipping in the Gulf of Tunis on April 25, 1943. As his B-25 formation approached an enemy convoy in the harbor, the Germans opened up with an intense flak barrage and Sgt. Klunk was wounded in the back. The citation reads in part:

"Despite his wound and dazed condition, he remained at his post and dropped his bombs, resulting in the sinking of a merchant vessel and a Siebel Ferry and damage to other boats."

After leaving the target, the bombers took a course that led over the heavy flak defenses around Tunis. The formation was subjected to an unusually intense flak barrage. Sgt. Klunk's plane was riddled and badly damaged, two crew members were seriously wounded and a fire broke out inside the plane. The citation continues:

"Disregarding his own wound, Sgt. Klunk assisted in extinguishing the fire, rendered first aid to the wounded men and carefully braced them in preparation for a crash landing." The landing was made successfully without further injury to the crew.

Banks May Now Cash War Bonds

Although the government does not want war bonds cashed a new ruling makes bonds cashable by banks beginning today, a Treasury Department announcment said.

"The new system was organized solely as a convenience for those who of sheer necessity must cash bonds. It is intended to make possible for them to hold their bonds longer because their money will be at once available upon the actual occurrence of any necessity," the treasury report stated.

By the ruling the bonds become as negotiable as a government check and the money is available after the required 60-days' holding period is up.

A treasuary official said: "The plan is another reason for holding one's bonds to the last minute and for putting all of one's savings into bonds. The bonds henceforth are the most patriotic and safest way to hold interest earning money for any future need.

"The government does not want bonds cashed. Those who cash theirs, except in extreme emergency, are unnecessarily hampering the war effort."

Lieutenant Garvin Gets Army Promotion

Wright Field, Ohio—Promotion of Henry W. Garvin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Garvin, 20 Reynolds street, Gettysburg, from second to first lieutenant was announced today at headquarters of the Air Technical Service Command here.

SHEELY NAMED DISASTER UNIT CO-ORDINATOR

Judge W. C. Sheely, present chairman of the Adams county Council of Defense, was named disaster coordinator for the county at a meeting of the county commissioners Wednesday.

The Emergency Disaster committee recently was organized in Pennsylvania under the direction of Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, executive director of the State Council of Defense, in an effort to coordinate the efforts of the new group, the Red Cross, Civilian Defense, and the executive officials of counties and municipalities in cases of emergency.

Under an executive order of Governor Edward Martin in the organization of the Emergency Disaster group, county and municipal officials were requested to appoint disaster coordinators for their respective jurisdictions. The order also requested that the present Civilian Defense setup be followed as closely as possible.

Explains Set-up

The new committee was organized to take care of any natural disasters such as windstorms, tornados, floods and fires caused by factors other than war.

In a letter from Doctor Hutchison to the Adams county commissioners the proposed set-up was explained as follows:

"This Disaster Plan also contemplates that each county maintain a control center, which can and will be activated as a center of command immediately upon the occurrence of disaster in your community or upon request of the State Control Center, for the purpose of rendering aid when disaster strikes somewhere else. This Control Center should be capable of accommodating a panel composed of those who will represent Red Cross, police, fire departments, the various branches of Civilian Defense, the medical emergency officer, and any others who will finally be represented there under the chairmanship of your coordinator."

PUPILS, WOMEN TO GET PRIZES IN BOND DRIVE

An innovation will be introduced in the forthcoming Sixth War Bond Drive, Mrs. Henry T. Bream, chairman of the Women's Division of the Adams county War Finance Committee announced Thursday.

"With the cooperation of Chairman Mares Sherman, of the Retail Division of the Finance Committee, and with the cooperation of the merchants, fraternal organizations and service clubs of the town and county, prizes in war bonds and war stamps will be awarded to the school children and women selling the greatest number of bonds during the next drive," Mrs. Bream explained.

"Mr. Sherman and his committee together with the Women's Division will accept volunteer gifts of war bonds and war stamps from any patriotic merchant, fraternal group or club of the town and county to be given to the school children and women who sell the largest number of bonds during the next bond drive. The gifts will be purely voluntary and may be made either to Mr. Sherman or to myself. Each merchant donating a gift of a bond or a number of war stamps will be publicly acknowledged. The list of those donating will be published in The Gettysburg Times and their names will be posted in our headquarters in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg during the several weeks of the drive.

Special Ceremony

"At the conclusion of the drive the awards will be presented at a special ceremony, details of which will be arranged and announced later," Mrs. Bream explained.

The purpose of the gift idea, it was further stated, is to encourage the volunteer school pupils and women bond salesmen and recompense them in some degree for their efforts during the forthcoming drive.

Donors are urged to notify Mr. Sherman or Mrs. Bream at their earliest convenience of the amount and nature of their gifts.

HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

A memorial service for S. Sgt. Charles James Gilland, 23, son of Mrs. Lewis McClain, Fairfield R. 1, who was killed in action in France September 17, will be held at Wesley Chapel, Fountaindale, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services will be in charge of the pastor, the Rev. James W. Dendler.

Sgt. Gilland was born in Fairfield and graduated from Grayson's school, Liberty township. He was inducted July 1, 1940, and went overseas with an infantry outfit last June. He was a member of General Patton's army and had received medals for being an expert infantryman.

In a letter received by his mother, Sgt. Gilland revealed he had been in many towns in France which had been bombed and that his outfit had captured a number of German prisoners.

A brother, Pvt. Maurice Gilland, enlisted in the army June 29, 1939, and died June 4, 1940 in Hawaii.

SEPTEMBER ENDS DROUGHT

Bringing to an end the summer drought during which most of Adams county lacked eight inches of rainfall, while September saw showers that amounted to .43 inches more than the month's normal rainfall, records of Dr. Henry Stewart, local official weather observer, disclosed.

Although last month's rains were slightly more bounteous than normal, the year's rainfall shortage here remains at well over seven inches. During June, July and August the precipitation here amounted to an average of a third to half normal rainfall and the months of May and April were only slightly above normal with rainfall.

The showers last month totaled 4.02 inches with the heaviest rains of the month occurring on September 13 when 2.19 inches were measured in a 24-hour period. Rain fell on 13 days.

Last month also brought relief from 100-degree heat experienced here in August. September's high was 93 degrees on the fourth day of the month. On two other days the maximum temperature reading reached 90 degrees. The lowest reading of the month was on the 24th when the mercury dropped to 45 degrees. The month's average temperature was 68.2 degrees, exactly 2.7 degrees above normal September temperatures.

There were only 14 clear days last month. Eight were recorded as partly cloudy and the eight others as cloudy.

Democratic Caravan Visits In Gettysburg

Four Democratic candidates for offices in the general election in November were in Gettysburg Monday to greet party members as the political caravan drove through this part of the state

THARP FREED BY COURT ON TREE CHARGE

Ernest F. Tharp, Gettysburg R. 5, charged with two counts of willfully and maliciously destroying trees on another person's property was dismissed in a decision rendered Wednesday evening by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Tharp had been accused by a neighbor, P. A. Gebhart, of Mt. Pleasant township, who said in the first count that Tharp did "unlawfully enter through or over" his Gebmart's land in Mt Pleasant township and damaged "a number of pine or cedar trees by driving over them with a tractor or other vehicle."

The second count read that Tharp "did cut or fell seven oaks and one hickory" tree on Gebhart's land and "therefore being in the possession of the said Ernest Tharp who has refused to surrender or deliver the said trees to the owner thereof after due proof of ownership had been made."

Testimony at the hearing before Justice Basehore September 29 was given by two former hired hands from the Tharp farm who admitted that they had cut the trees although acting against Tharp's instructions. The action had been brought by Gebhart against Tharp on the grounds that the hired men were agents of Tharp.

In giving his decision, Justice Basehore said, "according to the testimony given at the hearing September 29, the prosecutor, Gebhart, should have brought charges against the two former employes who cut the trees as there was no testimony to show that Tharp had willfully or maliciously directed the cutting of Gebhart's trees. If the trees were willfully and maliciously cut it was indicated that the employes had so cut them."

Baby Beef Falls Dead

A prize baby beef being trained by Ruth Hikes, Gardners R. D., for the coming state farm show, fell dead Wednesday after it had become excited and tore loose from the rear of a tractor.

Miss Hikes and her father, Elmer Hikes, and brother were teaching the animal to be led when it broke from a rope and lunged toward Mr. Hikes who sustained a puncture wound of his left hand in a fall against the tractor. The animal started to run away when it dropped over dead.

An examination led to the belief a burst blood vessel caused death.

Miss Hikes is a member of the York Springs Baby Beef club.

PAST GRANDS WELCOME HEAD OF STATE LODGE

More than one hundred members and guests of the Adams County Past Grands' association attended the meeting in the Odd Fellows' home here Tuesday evening when George B. Horn, Chambersburg, grand master of the lodge in Pennsylvania, was the guest of honor and principal speaker.

Grand Master Horn, who was introduced by Past Grand Harold H. Reuning of the local lodge, was accompanied here by Grand Marshal William Mentzer of Waynesboro.

In his address Grand Master Horn reviewed problems confronting grand officers and urged a system of continuing grand officers in successive posts from term to term. He reported on visits he has made to lodges in many parts of the state. He said there are about 6,000 Odd Fellows from Pennsylvania serving in the armed forces and urged civilian members to "keep faith with our brothers in uniform." He also praised the local lodge for its lodge home.

142nd Meeting

President Edward Hawk, Littlestown, presided at the meeting, the organization's 142nd. The address of welcome was given by P. E. Snyder of Gettysburg and was responded to by George M. Neely of Fairfield. The group sang "America" with Miss Alice Snyder at the piano and the invocation was given by Frank Dougherty.

The roll call of lodges showed this attendance: Fairfield, 10; Gettysburg, 26; Littlestown, 21; York Springs, 18; Chambersburg, one; Waynesboro, one; members of the Rebekash assembly, 21, and visitors, six.

To Meet in Littlestown

PILOT SPENDS LEAVE HERE

First Lt. William D. Martin, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, is spending a 24-day leave with Mrs. Martin at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. R. Whitaker, Rainworth Lodge, Gettysburg R. 3, having returned last week to the United States after six months service in England and Europe with the Eighth Army Air Force.

Lieutenant Martin, who was pilot of a "Mustang" pursuit plane based with a fighter group, has credited to him seven enemy planes destroyed and three damaged. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters and in addition he wears three campaign ribbons, including the Pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon with battle star and the African-Italian theater of operations ribbon with battle star. He completed more than 65 fighter, escort, strafing and general missions before returning to the states.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Martin, of Fort Smith, are expected to arrive in Gettysburg this week for a visit. At the conclusion of his leave Lieutenant Martin will report to the Army Air Forces reassignment center at Miami Beach, Florida. His wife expects to accompany him to Miami Beach.

Countians Guests Of P. H. Glatfelter Co.

D. E. Hess, Soil Conservation Service farm forester here, and a number of farmers and woodland owners who have been cutting pulpwood, were among the 130 persons entertained Tuesday at a luncheon meeting by the P. H. Glatfelter company at Spring Grove at the Spring Grove school auditorium. Paul Koenig of the Glatfelter company was chairman of the meeting and P. H. Glatfelter, president of the company, brought greetings.

The principal speaker was K. S. Trowbridge of the American Pulpwood Association of New York. He discussed the handling of pulpwood by the use of mechanized equipment and showed pictures of logging operations in the south.

After the meeting the group was taken to the company's paper mill where demonstrations were given in the use of mechanized tools including the exploding wedge in the handling of pulpwood.

Moose Lodge May Purchase Building

Officers of the Gettysburg lodge of the Loyal Order of the Moose said today that no decision has been reached by the lodge on the proposal for the purchase of the former Peckman and Ott garage building, adjoining the Moose home on York street.

A vote of the lodge members was taken at a meeting last Thursday but a tabulation showed less than 51 per cent of the members had cast ballots so that the result was of no effect. Lodge officers said future action on the matter has not been decided upon.

First GI Vote From Overseas

Another Adams countian is heard from on foreign shores as Cpl. R. Delroy Keller, 22, Main street, McKnightstown, casts the first Adams county overseas vote in the Panama Coast Artillery Command. At the wheel of a jeep, Cpl. Keller happily waves the ballot which gives him his franchise as a fighting citizen Normal mail censorship was waived to insure secret choice. It represented a triple initiation: Corporal Keller's first vote, his first participation in a presidential election, and his first absentee ballot. An automotive dispatcher in a headquarters organization, Corporal Keller has served with the Coast Artillery forces in Panama for 20 months. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Keller, reside at the McKnightstown address.

RESUME NIGHT FARM SESSIONS

Night classes for farmers in the Gettysburg section of the county were opened Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the agricultural work shop at Gettysburg high school. It was announced by Elmer H. Schriver, vocational "ag" instructor at the school.

Mr. Schriver will instruct the class in the repair, operation and construction of farm machinery. The course, which will run for at least 20 weeks with three-hour sessions each Tuesday and Thursday evening, is open to all farmers in this area who are interested.

The shop equipment and paint for repair work are being made available by the high school in the state-federal sponsored project. Only the new parts to be used in machine repair work will be furnished by the farmers themselves who may bring pieces of farm machinery and equipment to the workshop for repair.

Similar classes on various agricultural subjects were conducted by Mr. Schriver during the last several winters at the local high school with good attendance. Hundreds of pieces of farm machinery have been built, re-built or repaired. Other courses covered dairy and poultry raisers problems, farm management practices and other related topics

NAME CONCERT GROUP LEADER

Mrs. F. K. Schwartz, Carlisle street, was elected chairman of the Gettysburg Concert Association membership drive at a meeting of the association's executive committee held at Hotel Gettysburg, last Wednesday evening.

The association's objective is 600 memberships for the series of three concerts to be rendered during the winter season under the direction of the Columbia Concerts, Inc.

Selection of the artists for the respective concerts will be made at the conclusion of the drive.

The membership drive will open today at a dinner meeting for the cancassers to be held at Hotel Gettysburg.

At this meeting materials will be distributed to the drive workers who will begin their canvass the following morning. The drive will continue throughout the next week.

The Gettysburg Concert association was organized five years ago and a creditable series was presented each year with the exception of last year when the association discontinued activities. Demand for the concert series this winter was sufficiently general to warrant the decision of the association to put on a membership drive at this time in anticipation of conducting the series of three concerts this winter.

The concerts will be held in Brua Chapel.

CARLISLE LACES MAROON ELEVEN BY 26-0 COUNT

A completely outclassed Gettysburg high school eleven dropped its second game of the season here last Friday evening to Carlisle high in the opening game of the Southern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate conference to the tune of a 26-0 score before a crowd of approximately 1,600 fans.

The visitors broke through for a pair of touchdowns in the second period after threatening several times in the first quarter.

Stopped on the last play of the first period on the 1-foot line, Carlisle came back after the Maroons punted out to the 28 to score. McCoy and Lyter pounded out a first down on the 16 and Lyter went through the line from the 7-yard mark to tally. McCoy place kicked the extra point.

The visitors marched 49 yards for their next score rolling up three straight first downs on some nice running by Lyter and McCoy to reach the 5. The Maroons braced for two plays but Lyter finally bucked over from the 1-foot mark. McCoy's extra point try was wide.

Lyter Runs 52

Gettysburg received the second half kickoff but was soon forced to punt to the visitors' 48. On the first play Lyter shot off right tackle and raced through the entire Maroon team to scamper 52 yards for his third touchdown. He added the extra point on a line plunge.

Streams of Carlisle substitutes began to take the field but Coach Hendrickson's lads were still to score again.

A recovered fumble by Owens on the Maroon 38-yard stripe on the final play of the third period set the stage for the rally. Sparked by Cypress, Carlisle gained a first down on the 27. He picked up nine yards around left end and then shot straight through the center of the line to go the remaining 18 yards for a score. Cypress' placement for the extra point struck an upright.

The Maroons were outcharged and outplayed the entire game. Blocking left much to be desired while the tackling was far from that expected.

Halt/Drive

Coach Dry's outfit put up perhaps their best brand of ball in the first period, twice staving off potential scoring drives by the invaders. Rasmussen recovered a Carlisle fumble on the Maroons' 19 to halt a slashing drive midway in the first period. In the fading minutes of the period the Maroons put up a gallant goal line stand to take the ball on the 1-foot mark after the Green and White had rolled up three straight first downs to reach the 7.

First downs found Carlisle leading 12 to 4, with the Maroons gaining three in the final period against an almost complete second string group.

Gettysburg threw eight passes, completing three while another was intercepted. Carlisle was not credited with a pass attempt, the lone try being smothered before the passer could get off his throw.

Three Kept Out

The Dry-men were forced to play without the services of Dick Epley, Harry Sanders and Joe Hess who are laid up with injuries.

Probably the best defensive work was done by Fred Haehnlen while Moyer and Haehnlen picked up most of the yardage gained from scrimmage.

Saturday Is Last Day To Register

Chief Clerk to the County Commissioners Clarence Smith announced Thursday that the commissioners' office at the court house will be open Friday and Saturday for voter registration from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening.

Those two days will be the last registration periods before the general election November 7, and no registrations can be made after the commissioners' office closes Saturday evening.

Registrations continued at a high level at the court house this week with a total of 103 new cards being signed up to Wednesday afternoon. In new registrations the Republicans continued to lead, listing 51 against 22 Democrats. Three of the registrations were by non-partisans.

GALLON CLUB ADDS PAIR OF NEW MEMBERS

Two new Gallon Club members—Borough Councilman Fred A. Hummelbaugh and Glenn Kennedy of Aspers—were among the first donors last Friday afternoon as the twentieth Red Cross Blood Donor Day in Gettysburg got underway. Appointments began at noon and the local Blood Donor Service staff hoped to have at least 160 pints ready for processing into plasma when the station in the College Lutheran church basement closes at 4:30 p. m.

More than a score of local women, many of them members of Red Cross service groups, were on hand to help at the donor station Friday afternoon.

Lt. F. Wayne Jarvis, a Navy doctor, was in charge of the blood receiving unit that came here from Harrisburg. Red Cross nurses accompanied the unit.

Local Helpers

Red Cross staff assistants serving at the donor station Friday included Mrs. Earl Bowen, chairman of the staff assistants; Mrs. P. J. McGlynn, Mrs. Samuel H. Reed, and Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas. Mrs. George W. Boehner was in charge of awards in the dining room and recorded the donation of each volunteer.

Local trained nurses assisting were Mrs. Barton Foth, Mrs. George T. Raffensperger and Mrs. John Kratzert. Red Cross Nurses' aides included Mrs. F. C. Mason, Mrs. Henry Moser, Miss Nancy Irle and Miss Esther Kenyon.

Women of the Moose helping serve in the dining room were Mrs. Charles Evans, Mrs. Madge Myers, Mrs. John Goodermuth, Mrs. George Boyd, Mrs. Ida Dunkinson, Mrs. Annie Sumbury and Mrs. Marie Goodermuth.

Methodist women were in charge in the kitchen. The group included Mrs. Milton Remmel, Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. C. O. Schweizer and Mrs. Florence Grinder. Mrs. R. S. Saby and Mrs. John Kaltreider directed the canteen groups.

SEPTEMBER ENDS DROUGHT

Bringing to an end the summer drought during which most of Adams county lacked eight inches of rainfall, while September saw showers that amounted to 43 inches more than the month's normal rainfall, records of Dr. Henry Stewart, local official weather observer, disclosed.

Although last month's rains were slightly more bounteous than normal, the year's rainfall shortage here remains at well over seven inches. During June, July and August the precipitation here amounted to an average of a third to half normal rainfall and the months of May and April were only slightly above normal with rainfall.

The showers last month totaled 4.02 inches with the heaviest rains of the month occurring on September 13 when 2.19 inches were measured in a 24-hour period. Rain fell on 13 days.

Last month also brought relief from 100-degree heat experienced here in August. September's high was 93 degrees on the fourth day of the month. On two other days the maximum temperature reading reached 90 degrees. The lowest reading of the month was on the 24th when the mercury dropped to 45 degrees. The month's average temperature was 68.3 degrees, exactly 2.7 degrees above normal September temperatures.

There were only 14 clear days last month. Eight were recorded as partly cloudy and the eight others as cloudy.

Democratic Caravan Visits In Gettysburg

Four Democratic candidates for offices in the general election in November were in Gettysburg Monday to greet party members as the political caravan drove through this part of the state.

The candidates here included Francis J. Myers, congressman and candidate for the United States senate; State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner, candidate for auditor general; Ramsay Black, former third assistant postmaster general of the United States and candidate for state treasurer; and J. W. Gitt, York newspaper publisher, a candidate for congressman from the York-Adams-Franklin district.

County Democratic Chairman Carl W. Kane was unable to be present at the caravan meeting because he was called to Harrisburg for Federal petit jury duty today.

Three Of Family Have Scarlet Fever

Two more cases of scarlet fever have developed in the home of Melvin Miller, Biglerville R. 1, Butler township, which was placed under scarlet fever quarantine September 23.

The mother, Mrs. Melvin Miller, aged 32 years, now is ill and her seven-year-old son, Robert. They are confined to bed as is William, aged 10 years, who was the first to be stricken by the disease.

Decorated

Pvt. Floyd J. Miller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Miller, Carlisle street, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for "displaying exemplary conduct in action against the enemy in France."

THARP FREED BY COURT ON TREE CHARGE

Ernest F. Tharp, Gettysburg R. 5, charged with two counts of willfully and maliciously destroying trees on another person's property was dismissed in a decision rendered Wednesday evening by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Tharp had been accused by a neighbor, P. A. Gebhart, of Mt. Pleasant township, who said in the first count that Tharp did "unlawfully enter through or over" his (Gebmart's) land in Mt. Pleasant township and damaged "a number of pine or cedar trees by driving over them with a tractor or other vehicle."

The second count read that Tharp "did cut or fell seven oaks and one hickory" tree on Gebhart's land and "therefore being in the possession of the said Ernest Tharp who has refused to surrender or deliver the said trees to the owner thereof after due proof of ownership had been made."

Testimony at the hearing before Justice Basehore September 29 was given by two former hired hands from the Tharp farm who admitted that they had cut the trees although acting against Tharp's instructions. The action had been brought by Gebhart against Tharp on the grounds that the hired men were agents of Tharp.

In giving his decision, Justice Basehore said, "according to the testimony given at the hearing September 29, the prosecutor, Gebhart, should have brought charges against the two former employes who cut the trees as there was no testimony to show that Tharp had willfully or maliciously directed the cutting of Gebhart's trees. If the trees were willfully and maliciously cut it was indicated that the employes had so cut them."

Soldier Wounded For Second Time

Pvt. Richard H. Rosensteel, 31, was slightly wounded in action in France September 18, for the second time, a war department telegram informed his wife, Mrs. Pauline Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, Thursday.

Private Rosensteel was wounded the first time the latter part of July and his wife received word from the war department in early August that he was convalescing in a hospital in England. No further word was given in the telegram today.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, Private Rosensteel went overseas in April of this year. He was then a member of the Seventy-ninth division. He entered the Army August 25, 1943.

His wife is the former Miss Pauline McCleaf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McCleaf, Emmitsburg.

Soroptimist Head Is Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Basehoar, 113 East King street, Littestown, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Florence A. Basehoar, to Harry C. Shriver, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Simpson Shriver, West King street, Littlestown. Miss Basehoar for the past several years has been associated with her father in business in Littlestown.

Mr. Shriver, for several years, has been living in Washington, D. C., and is now employed as an attorney in the office of the general counsel of the War Shipping Administration.

The wedding will take place in the near future.

Miss Basehoar is the newly-installed president of the Soroptimist club of Gettysburg.

GIVEN SCA POST

Miss Phyllis C. Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Schwartz, Carlisle street, was elected secretary of the Student Christian Association of Gettysburg college at a recent business session. Miss Dorothy J. Keeney, East Broadway, is the president.

Woman Seriously Injured In Crash

Mrs. Annie Hertz, 47, New Oxford R. D. 2, was admitted as a patient to the Hanover hospital suffering with a broken left wrist and laceration of the scalp.

Mrs. Hertz was a passenger in the automobile operated by her son, George R. Hertz, which figured in an accident at Main street and Oxford road in McSherrystown Thursday afternoon. Police said the Hertz car and a Snyder Bakery company truck, Hanover, collided and the truck was spun around and thrown against the parked auto of Francis E. Smith. The truck was operated by George C. Bowersox, Hanover.

Damage to the Hertz car was estimated at $75, and the Smith auto at $50, and to the truck at $125.

Mrs. Hertz's son, Norman, 18, has been a patient in the Hanover hospital since September 18, suffering from injuries received when he was struck by a truck. His condition is improving. The youth was a patient in the Warner hospital, Gettysburg, for a month this summer, having suffered a fracture of the skull and a broken left leg in a fall from a truck near Gettysburg on May 17.

College Graduate Wins Bronze Medal

Capt. William Boyson, a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1941, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his "excellent work" as a communications officer in an armored division in Patton's army in France.

Captain Boyson is the son of Col. and Mrs. William A. Boyson and resided here as a child. His father now is serving in the armed forces outside the United States. A brother, Lt. Robert Boyson, is an aviation officer with the Marines, and a second brother, John, is a student at Gettysburg college. Word of the awarding of the medal came to John.

Captain Boyson's mother is house mother at the Delta Gamma sorority house at the college. The captain's wife, the former Marjorie Amspacher, also a Gettysburg alumna, resides in Altoona.

High Student Fractures Leg

After receiving medical attention at the Warner hospital he was discharged.

Baby Beef Falls Dead

A prize baby beef being trained by Ruth Hikes, Gardners R. D., for the coming state farm show, fell dead Wednesday after it had become excited and tore loose from the rear of a tractor.

Miss Hikes and her father, Elmer Hikes, and brother were teaching the animal to be led when it broke from a rope and lunged toward Mr. Hikes who sustained a puncture wound of his left hand in a fall against the tractor. The animal started to run away when it dropped over dead.

An examination led to the belief a burst blood vessel caused death.

Miss Hikes is a member of the York Springs Baby Beef club.

PAST GRANDS WELCOME HEAD OF STATE LODGE

More than one hundred members and guests of the Adams County Past Grands' association attended the meeting in the Odd Fellows' home here Tuesday evening when George B. Horn, Chambersburg, grand master of the lodge in Pennsylvania, was the guest of honor and principal speaker.

Grand Master Horn, who was introduced by Past Grand Harold H. Reuning of the local lodge, was accompanied here by Grand Marshal William Mentzer of Waynesboro.

In his address Grand Master Horn reviewed problems confronting grand officers and urged a system of continuing grand officers in successive posts from term to term. He reported on visits he has made to lodges in many parts of the state. He said there are about 6,000 Odd Fellows from Pennsylvania serving in the armed forces and urged civilian members to "keep faith with our brothers in uniform." He also praised the local lodge for its lodge home.

142nd Meeting

President Edward Hawk, Littlestown, presided at the meeting, the organization's 142nd. The address of welcome was given by P. E. Snyder of Gettysburg and was responded to by George M. Neely of Fairfield. The group sang "America" with Miss Alice Snyder at the piano and the invocation was given by Frank Dougherty.

The roll call of lodges showed this attendance: Fairfield, 10; Gettysburg, 26; Littlestown, 21; York Springs, 18; Chambersburg, one; Waynesboro, one; members of the Rebekash assembly, 21, and visitors, six.

To Meet in Littlestown

The entertainment program included instrumental selections by eight members of the Gettysburg Guitar club. This local quartet sang "My Anchor Holds" and "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken"; Donald Myers, the Rev. H. S. Fox, Paul Snyder and William Swisher. There was a piano duet by Miss Snyder and the Rev. Mr. Fox.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." The lodgemen repeated the Lord's prayer in unison. Refreshments were served after the program. The past grands' meeting followed a brief regular meeting of the local lodge.

The next meeting of the association will be held with Sylvania lodge, No. 613, at Littlestown on November 13.

2 Are Fined For Code Violations

Two drivers were charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore early Sunday morning with making improper passes on Buford avenue and the Lincoln highway west of Gettysburg.

Carl H. Roemer, Andover R. 2, Ohio, was charged with making a bad pass while driving a truck on Buford avenue, in the borough, while the second information was laid against Thomas P. Ayars, Bridgeton, New Jersey, for a code violation in Cumberland township. Both men posted bail in the amount of a fine and costs for a hearing this morning at 9 o'clock but neither appeared before Justice Basehore. Officers from the local sub-station of the state motor police made the arrests.

Hold Reception For Sisters Of Mercy

The St. Francis Xavier Mother's club held a reception last Thursday evening in the school hall for the Sisters of Mercy.

Featured on the program were musical selections under the direction of Mrs. Martin Slade. Eighth grade pupils participated in group singing while the following eighth grade students of Mrs. Slade rendered special numbers: Jackie Weaver, Patricia Bushey, Marian and Joan Robinson, Terry Weitzel, Richard Codori and Jean Miller.

Mrs. George Groft presided at the tea table. In the receiving line with the Sisters of Mercy were Mrs. Edgar Hamilton, club president and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy, club vice president.

A number of gifts were presented to the Sisters.

RURAL SCHOOL IS CLOSED BY NEW POLIO CASE

With the diagnosis Monday evening of the third case of infantile paralysis to appear in two days, Pike school in Huntington township was ordered closed for a week and county and Littlestown borough health authorities worked out details of police control measures in that town where two cases appeared over the week-end.

The new victim is Roland C. Chronister, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chronister, Gardners R. 1, Huntington township. The boy was admitted first to the Hanover hospital last Friday and Monday was moved to the Harrisburg hospital where final diagnosis was made Monday evening.

His case is described as not serious and his physician, Dr. William Flickinger, York Springs, said Tuesday the boy's condition is "very good." The home has been placed under quarantine by William I. Shields, county health officer.

Confined To Borough

Pike's school has been closed until next Monday by order of Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director. The school building is to be cleaned thoroughly.

Doctor Crist and Mr. Shields met Monday evening with Littlestown authorities and restricted persons 18 years of age and under to the limits of the borough. No persons under that age limit may leave the town until next Monday when restrictions go off and the schools will reopen if no new cases appear. Church and Sunday school attendance by all age groups will be permitted there next Sunday, however.

The public grade and high schools and the parochial schools in Littlestown were closed Monday as a polio control measure.

LIST WORKERS FOR CONCERTS

Volunteer Gettysburg workers to sell memberships in the Gettysburg Concert Association were announced Thursday.

These workers, together with those from the county, announced on Wednesday, the board of directors and the members of the executive committee of the association will attend the dinner meeting this evening at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock. The dinner will launch the membership drive.

Thomas, Mrs. Paul Kinsey, Mrs. Richard Bragdon, Mrs. Raymond Sheely, Mrs. J. P. Rhoads, Mrs. Thomas L. Cline, Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, Mrs. Dorsey Hoyt, Mrs. Luther Sachs, Mrs. Wilbur Plank, Mrs. C. T. Ziegler, Miss Sarah Jane Maust, Mrs. Helen Baker King, Mrs. John Harkins, Mrs. Louella Little, Miss Mary Stock, Mrs. C. Harold Johnson, Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh, Mrs. Harold Pegg, Mrs. Edgar Hamilton, Miss Ellen Beard, Mrs. Robert Deardorff, Mrs. A. H. Barr, and Mrs. J. W. Elliott.

Miss Lena Hartzell, Mrs. Earl Ziegler, Miss Evelyn Shealer, Miss Dorothy Rosensteel, Miss Maude Whiteleather, Miss Roberta Bittinger, Miss Phyllis Schwartz, Miss Betty Britcher, Miss Ruth Miller, Miss Lee Specht, Miss Margaret Buoy, Miss Mildred Miller, Miss Jane Nicely, Miss Anita Waters, Miss Joan Kerin, Miss Grace Saltzer, Miss Margery Enes, Miss Ruth Slifer, Miss Helen Stitt, James Singer, Russell Reithmiller, Milton E. Raup, Harold Whetstone and Miss Mary Ramer.

Police Charge Driver In Two-Car Accident

Approximately $650 damage was done to two cars which collided Saturday evening on the New Oxford-Hanover road just south of the Bethlehem quarries, state police from the local sub-station reported today.

Police said a car driven by Andrew F. Smith, High street, New Oxford, struck the left side of a car driven by Cyril E. Rummel, New Oxford, and forced it off the road and into a tree. Both drivers were injured, neither seriously, although Rummel was treated for a bruised knee and cut head by Dr. Wilbur Miller, of New Oxford.

A charge of driving to the left of the center of the road has been filed against Smith before Justice of the Peace Gerald Orndorff, New Oxford, the state police said.

More Students To Aid In Farm Work

Prof. L. V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville schools, announced Monday that Biglervelle high school and the seventh and eighth grade classes would suspend classes for the remainder of the week following today's session in order to allow students to assist in farm work.

He pointed out that any student employed on work which is not completed until the end of the week may remain out of school next week until the work is completed.

RECREATION CENTER TO BE SET UP AT 'Y'

The operation of a recreational center at the Gettysburg YWCA on Saturday evenings for young people of the community is listed as the chief project of the Girls' work committee of the "Y" which is making plans for fall and winter activities, it was disclosed Thursday by Mrs. A. R. Wentz, president of the YWCA.

The recreational center or "Hang Out" as it probably will be called is expected to be in operation within a few weeks and will be open to boys and girls alike from Gettysburg and this vicinity.

Mrs. John Lenhart, former Girl Reserve secretary, has agreed to give part time service with the Girls' Work committee, which with the help of the Girl Reserve clubs at the "Y," will be in charge of the "Hang Out." The committee is also planning a Halloween party.

New Director

Already approved by the "Y" board of directors, details of the recreation center plan may be laid before the directors at their October meeting to be held next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the association building, center square.

Mrs. Wentz also announced today that Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler has accepted a position on the "Y" board of directors to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Jr. Mrs. Buehler also will take Mrs. McPherson's place as chairman of the board's finance committee which includes Mrs. Howard Fox, Mrs. Wilbur Plank, Mrs. John Pape; Miss Margaret Myers, Mrs. Frank Kramer, Mrs. John Kaltreider, Mrs. Charles S. Black, Mrs. Paul Thomas, Mrs. Marie Ziegler, Mrs. George Zerfing, Miss Verna Kitzmiller, Mrs. G. N. Waters, Miss Etta King, all of Gettysburg; Mrs. Marshall Longanecker, Arendtsville; Mrs. J. Hoke Slaybaugh, Biglerville; Mrs. Ira Henderson, Fairfield, and Mrs. Robert Neely, also of Fairfield.

PILOT SPENDS LEAVE HERE

First Lt. William D. Martin, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, is spending a 24-day leave with Mrs. Martin at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. R. Whitaker, Rainworth Lodge, Gettysburg R. 3, having returned last week to the United States after six months service in England and Europe with the Eighth Army Air Force.

Lieutenant Martin, who was pilot of a "Mustang" pursuit plane based with a fighter group, has credited to him seven enemy planes destroyed and three damaged. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters and in addition he wears three campaign ribbons, including the Pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon with battle star and the African-Italian theater of operations ribbon with battle star. He completed more than 65 fighter, escort, strafing and general missions before returning to the states.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Martin, of Fort Smith, are expected to arrive in Gettysburg this week for a visit. At the conclusion of his leave Lieutenant Martin will report to the Army Air Forces reassignment center at Miami Beach, Florida. His wife expects to accompany him to Miami Beach.

Countians Guests Of P. H. Glatfelter Co.

D. E. Hess, Soil Conservation Service farm forester here, and a number of farmers and woodland owners who have been cutting pulpwood, were among the 130 persons entertained Tuesday at a luncheon meeting by the P. H. Glatfelter company at Spring Grove at the Spring Grove school auditorium. Paul Koenig of the Glatfelter company was chairman of the meeting and P. H. Glatfelter, president of the company, brought greetings.

The principal speaker was K. S. Trowbridge of the American Pulpwood Association of New York. He discussed the handling of pulpwood by the use of mechanized equipment and showed pictures of logging operations in the south.

After the meeting the group was taken to the company's paper mill where demonstrations were given in the use of mechanized tools including the exploding wedge in the handling of pulpwood.

Moose Lodge May Purchase Building

Officers of the Gettysburg lodge of the Loyal Order of the Moose said today that no decision has been reached by the lodge on the proposal for the purchase of the former Peckman and Ott garage building, adjoining the Moose home on York street.

A vote of the lodge members was taken at a meeting last Thursday but a tabulation showed less than 51 per cent of the members had cast ballots so that the result was of no effect. Lodge officers said future action on the matter has not been decided upon.

First GI Vote From Overseas

Another Adams countian is heard from on foreign shores as Cpl. R. Delroy Keller, 22, Main street, McKnightstown, casts the first Adams county overseas vote in the Panama Coast Artillery Command. At the wheel of a jeep, Cpl. Keller happily waves the ballot which gives him his franchise as a fighting citizen. Normal mail censorship was waived to insure secret choice. It represented a triple initiation: Corporal Keller's first vote, his first participation in a presidential election, and his first absentee ballot. An automotive dispatcher in a headquarters organization, Corporal Keller has served with the Coast Artillery forces in Panama for 20 months. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Keller, reside at the McKnightstown address.

RESUME NIGHT FARM SESSIONS

Night classes for farmers in the Gettysburg section of the county were opened Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the agricultural work shop at Gettysburg high school, it was announced by Elmer H. Schriver, vocational "ag" instructor at the school.

Mr. Schriver will instruct the class in the repair, operation and construction of farm machinery. The course, which will run for at least 20 weeks with three-hour sessions each Tuesday and Thursday evening, is open to all farmers in this area who are interested.

The shop equipment and paint for repair work are being made available by the high school in the state-federal sponsored project. Only the new parts to be used in machine repair work will be furnished by the farmers themselves who may bring pieces of farm machinery and equipment to the workshop for repair.

Similar classes on various agricultural subjects were conducted by Mr. Schriver during the last several winters at the local high school with good attendance. Hundreds of pieces of farm machinery have been built, re-built or repaired. Other courses covered dairy and poultry raisers problems, farm management practices and other related topics.

NAME CONCERT GROUP LEADER

Mrs. F. K. Schwartz, Carlisle street, was elected chairman of the Gettysburg Concert Association membership drive at a meeting of the association's executive committee held at Hotel Gettysburg, last Wednesday evening.

The association's objective is 600 memberships for the series of three concerts to be rendered during the winter season under the direction of the Columbia Concerts, Inc.

Selection of the artists for the respective concerts will be made at the conclusion of the drive.

The membership drive will open today at a dinner meeting for the cancassers to be held at Hotel Gettysburg.

At this meeting materials will be distributed to the drive workers who will begin their canvass the following morning. The drive will continue throughout the next week.

The Gettysburg Concert association was organized five years ago and a creditable series was presented each year with the exception of last year when the association discontinued activities. Demand for the concert series this winter was sufficiently general to warrant the decision of the association to put on a membership drive at this time in anticipation of conducting the series of three concerts this winter.

The concerts will be held in Brua Chapel.

RAILROADER DIES

Pittsburgh, Pa. (AP) — Raymond Swenk, assistant to the general manager of the Pennsylvania railroad's central region died Sunday night in West Penn hospital after an illness of several months. He was with the railroad since 1907.

Miss Doris C. Glenn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Glenn, East Lincoln avenue, has been named as a sports editor for the 1946 Spectrum at Gettysburg college.

CARLISLE LACES MAROON ELEVEN BY 26-0 COUNT

A completely outclassed Gettysburg high school eleven dropped its second game of the season here last Friday evening to Carlisle high in the opening game of the Southern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate conference to the tune of a 26-0 score before a crowd of approximately 1,600 fans.

The visitors broke through for a pair of touchdowns in the second period after threatening several times in the first quarter.

Stopped on the last play of the first period on the 1-foot line, Carlisle came back after the Maroons punted out to the 28 to score. McCoy and Lyter pounded out a first down on the 16 and Lyter went through the line from the 7-yard mark to tally. McCoy place kicked the extra point.

The visitors marched 49 yards for their next score rolling up three straight first downs on some nice running by Lyter and McCoy to reach the 5. The Maroons braced for two plays but Lyter finally bucked over from the 1-foot mark. McCoy's extra point try was wide.

Lyter Runs 52

Gettysburg received the second half kickoff but was soon forced to punt to the visitors' 48. On the first play Lyter shot off right tackle and raced through the entire Maroon team to scamper 52 yards for his third touchdown. He added the extra point on a line plunge.

Streams of Carlisle substitutes began to take the field but Coach Hendrickson's lads were still to score again.

A recovered fumble by Owens on the Maroon 38-yard stripe on the final play of the third period set the stage for the tally. Sparked by Cypress, Carlisle gained a first down on the 27. He picked up nine yards around left end and then shot straight through the center of the line to go the remaining 18 yards for a score. Cypress' placement for the extra point struck an upright.

The Maroons were outcharged and outplayed the entire game. Blocking left much to be desired while the tackling was far from that expected.

Halt Drive

Coach Dry's outfit put up perhaps their best brand of ball in the first period, twice staving off potential scoring drives by the invaders. Rasmussen recovered a Carlisle fumble on the Maroons' 19 to halt a slashing drive midway in the first period. In the fading minutes of the period the Maroons put up a gallant goal line stand to take the ball on the 1-foot mark after the Green and White had rolled up three straight first downs to reach the 7.

First downs found Carlisle leading 12 to 4, with the Maroons gaining three in the final period against an almost complete second string group.

Gettysburg threw eight passes, completing three while another was intercepted. Carlisle was not credited with a pass attempt, the lone try being smothered before the passer could get off his throw.

Three Kept Out

The Dry-men were forced to play without the services of Dick Epley, Harry Sanders and Joe Hess who are laid up with injuries.

Probably the best defensive work was done by Fred Haehnlen while Moyer and Haehnlen picked up most of the yardage gained from scrimmage.

Saturday Is Last Day To Register

Chief Clerk to the County Commissioners Clarence Smith announced Thursday that the commissioners' office at the court house will be open Friday and Saturday for voter registration from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening.

Those two days will be the last registration periods before the general election November 7, and no registrations can be made after the commissioners' office closes Saturday evening.

Registrations continued at a high level at the court house this week with a total of 103 new cards being signed up to Wednesday afternoon. In new registrations the Republicans continued to lead, listing 51 against 22 Democrats. Three of the registrations were by non-partisans.

GALLON CLUB ADDS PAIR OF NEW MEMBERS

Two new Gallon Club members—Borough Councilman Fred A. Hummelbaugh and Glenn Kennedy of Aspers—were among the first donors last Friday afternoon as the twentieth Red Cross Blood Donor Day in Gettysburg got underway. Appointments began at noon and the local Blood Donor Service staff hoped to have at least 160 pints ready for processing into plasma when the station in the College Lutheran church basement closes at 4:30 p. m.

More than a score of local women, many of them members of Red Cross service groups, were on hand to help at the donor station Friday afternoon.

Lt. F. Wayne Jarvis, a Navy doctor, was in charge of the blood receiving unit that came here from Harrisburg. Red Cross nurses accompanied the unit.

Local Helpers

Red Cross staff assistants serving at the donor station Friday included Mrs. Earl Bowen, chairman of the staff assistants; Mrs. P. J. McGlynn, Mrs. Samuel H. Reed, and Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas. Mrs. George W. Boehner was in charge of awards in the dining room and recorded the donation of each volunteer.

Local trained nurses assisting were Mrs. Barton Foth, Mrs. George T. Raffensperger and Mrs. John Kratzert. Red Cross Nurses' aides included Mrs. F. C. Mason, Mrs. Henry Moser, Miss Nancy Irle and Miss Esther Kenyon.

Women of the Moose helping serve in the dining room were Mrs. Charles Evans, Mrs. Madge Myers, Mrs. John Goodermuth, Mrs. George Boyd, Mrs. Ida Dunkinson, Mrs. Annie Sumbury and Mrs. Marie Goodermuth.

Methodist women were in charge in the kitchen. The group included Mrs. Milton Remmel, Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. C. O. Schweizer and Mrs. Florence Grinder. Mrs. R. S. Saby and Mrs. John Kaltreider directed the canteen groups.

SEPTEMBER ENDS DROUGHT

Bringing to an end the summer drought during which most of Adams county lacked eight inches of rainfall, while September saw showers that amounted to 43 inches more than the month's normal rainfall, records of Dr. Henry Stewart, local official weather observer, disclosed.

Although last month's rains were slightly more bounteous than normal, the year's rainfall shortage here remains at well over seven inches. During June, July and August the precipitation here amounted to an average of a third to half normal rainfall and the months of May and April were only slightly above normal with rainfall.

The showers last month totaled 4.02 inches with the heaviest rains of the month occurring on September 13 when 2.19 inches were measured in a 24-hour period. Rain fell on 13 days.

Last month also brought relief from 100-degree heat experienced here in August. September's high was 93 degrees on the fourth day of the month. On two other days the maximum temperature reading reached 90 degrees. The lowest reading of the month was on the 24th when the mercury dropped to 45 degrees. The month's average temperature was 68.3 degrees, exactly 2.7 degrees above normal September temperatures.

There were only 14 clear days last month. Eight were recorded as partly cloudy and the eight others as cloudy.

Democratic Caravan Visits In Gettysburg

Four Democratic candidates for offices in the general election in November were in Gettysburg Monday to greet party members as the political caravan drove through this part of the state.

The candidates here included Francis J. Myers, congressman and candidate for the United States senate; State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner, candidate for auditor general; Ramsay Black, former third assistant postmaster general of the United States and candidate for state treasurer; and J. W. Gitt, York newspaper publisher, a candidate for congressman from the York-Adams-Franklin district.

County Democratic Chairman Carl W. Kane was unable to be present at the caravan meeting because he was called to Harrisburg for Federal petit jury duty today.

Three Of Family Have Scarlet Fever

Two more cases of scarlet fever have developed in the home of Melvin Miller, Biglerville R. 1, Butler township, which was placed under scarlet fever quarantine September 23.

The mother, Mrs. Melvin Miller, aged 32 years, now is ill and her seven-year-old son, Robert. They are confined to bed as is William, aged 10 years, who was the first to be stricken by the disease.

THARP FREED BY COURT ON TREE CHARGE

Ernest F. Tharp, Gettysburg R. 5, charged with two counts of willfully and maliciously destroying trees on another person's property was dismissed in a decision rendered Wednesday evening by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Tharp had been accused by a neighbor, P. A. Gebhart, of Mt. Pleasant township, who said in the first count that Tharp did "unlawfully enter through or over" his (Gebmart's) land in Mt. Pleasant township and damaged "a number of pine or cedar trees by driving over them with a tractor or other vehicle."

The second count read that Tharp "did cut or fell seven oaks and one hickory" tree on Gebhart's land and "therefore being in the possession of the said Ernest Tharp who has refused to surrender or deliver the said trees to the owner thereof after due proof of ownership had been made."

Testimony at the hearing before Justice Basehore September 29 was given by two former hired hands from the Tharp farm who admitted that they had cut the trees although acting against Tharp's instructions. The action had been brought by Gebhart against Tharp on the grounds that the hired men were agents of Tharp.

In giving his decision, Justice Basehore said, "according to the testimony given at the hearing September 29, the prosecutor, Gebhart, should have brought charges against the two former employes who cut the trees as there was no testimony to show that Tharp had willfully or maliciously directed the cutting of Gebhart's trees. If the trees were willfully and maliciously cut it was indicated that the employes had so cut them."

Soldier Wounded For Second Time

Pvt. Richard H. Rosensteel, 31, was slightly wounded in action in France September 18, for the second time, a war department telegram informed his wife, Mrs. Pauline Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, Thursday ing.

Private Rosensteel was wounded the first time the latter part of July and his wife received word from the war department in early August that he was convalescing in a hospital in England. No further word was given in the telegram today.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, Private Rosensteel went overseas in April of this year. He was then a member of the Seventy-ninth division. He entered the Army August 25, 1943.

His wife is the former Miss Pauline McCleaf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McCleaf, Emmitsburg.

Woman Seriously Injured In Crash

Mrs. Annie Hertz, 47, New Oxford R. D. 2, was admitted as a patient to the Hanover hospital suffering with a broken left wrist and laceration of the scalp.

Mrs. Hertz was a passenger in the automobile operated by her son, George R. Hertz, which figured in an accident at Main street and Oxford road in McSherrystown Thursday afternoon. Police said the Hertz car and a Snyder Bakery company truck, Hanover, collided and the truck was spun around and thrown against the parked auto of Francis E. Smith. The truck was operated by George C. Bowersox, Hanover.

Damage to the Hertz car was estimated at $75, and the Smith auto at $50, and to the truck at $125.

Mrs. Hertz's son, Norman, 18, has been a patient in the Hanover hospital since September 18, suffering from injuries received when he was struck by a truck. His condition is improving. The youth was a patient in the Warner hospital, Gettysburg, for a month this summer, having suffered a fracture of the skull and a broken left leg in a fall from a truck near Gettysburg on May 17.

College Graduate Wins Bronze Medal

Capt. William Boyson, a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1941, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his "excellent work" as a communications officer in an armored division in Patton's army in France.

Captain Boyson is the son of Col. and Mrs. William A. Boyson and resided here as a child. His father now is serving in the armed forces outside the United States. A brother, Lt. Robert Boyson, is an aviation officer with the Marines, and a second brother, John, is a student at Gettysburg college. Word of the awarding of the medal came to John.

Captain Boyson's mother is house mother at the Delta Gamma sorority house at the college. The captain's wife, the former Marjorie Amspacher, also a Gettysburg alumna, resides in Altoona.

High Student Fractures Leg

Jimmy Spincer, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Spicer, 167 Seminary avenue, received a fractured left leg while playing football at Gettysburg high school Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

After receiving medical attention at the Warner hospital he was discharged.

Baby Beef Falls Dead

A prize baby beef being trained by Ruth Hikes, Gardners R. D., for the coming state farm show, fell dead Wednesday after it had become excited and tore loose from the rear of a tractor.

Miss Hikes and her father, Elmer Hikes, and brother were teaching the animal to be led when it broke from a rope and lunged toward Mr. Hikes who sustained a puncture wound of his left hand in a fall against the tractor. The animal started to run away when it dropped over dead.

An examination led to the belief a burst blood vessel caused death.

Miss Hikes is a member of the York Springs Baby Beef club.

PAST GRANDS WELCOME HEAD OF STATE LODGE

More than one hundred members and guests of the Adams County Past Grands' association attended the meeting in the Odd Fellows' home here Tuesday evening when George B. Horn, Chambersburg, grand master of the lodge in Pennsylvania, was the guest of honor and principal speaker.

Grand Master Horn, who was introduced by Past Grand Harold H. Reuning of the local lodge, was accompanied here by Grand Marshal William Mentzer of Waynesboro.

In his address Grand Master Horn reviewed problems confronting grand officers and urged a system of continuing grand officers in successive posts from term to term. He reported on visits he has made to lodges in many parts of the state. He said there are about 6,000 Odd Fellows from Pennsylvania serving in the armed forces and urged civilian members to "keep faith with our brothers in uniform." He also praised the local lodge for its lodge home.

142nd Meeting

President Edward Hawk, Littlestown, presided at the meeting, the organization's 142nd. The address of welcome was given by P. E. Snyder of Gettysburg and was responded to by George M. Neely of Fairfield. The group sang "America" with Miss Alice Snyder at the piano and the invocation was given by Frank Dougherty.

The roll call of lodges showed this attendance: Fairfield, 10; Gettysburg, 26; Littlestown, 21; York Springs, 18; Chambersburg, one; Waynesboro, one; members of the Rebekash assembly, 21, and visitors, six.

To Meet in Littlestown

The entertainment program included instrumental selections by eight members of the Gettysburg Guitar club. This local quartet sang "My Anchor Holds" and "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken"; Donald Myers, the Rev. H. S. Fox, Paul Snyder and William Swisher. There was a piano duet by Miss Snyder and the Rev. Mr. Fox.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." The lodgemen repeated the Lord's prayer in unison. Refreshments were served after the program. The past grands' meeting followed a brief regular meeting of the local lodge.

The next meeting of the association will be held with Sylvania lodge, No. 613, at Littlestown on November 13.

2 Are Fined For Code Violations

Two drivers were charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore early Sunday morning with making improper passes on Buford avenue and the Lincoln highway west of Gettysburg.

Carl H. Roemer, Andover R. 2, Ohio, was charged with making a bad pass while driving a truck on Buford avenue, in the borough, while the second information was laid against Thomas P. Ayars, Bridgeton, New Jersey, for a code violation in Cumberland township. Both men posted bail in the amount of a fine and costs for a hearing this morning at 9 o'clock but neither appeared before Justice Basehore. Officers from the local sub-station of the state motor police made the arrests.

Hold Reception For Sisters Of Mercy

The St. Francis Xavier Mother's club held a reception last Thursday evening in the school hall for the Sisters of Mercy.

Featured on the program were musical selections under the direction of Mrs. Martin Slade. Eighth grade pupils participated in group singing while the following eighth grade students of Mrs. Slade rendered special numbers: Jackie Weaver, Patricia Bushey, Marian and Joan Robinson, Terry Weitzel, Richard Codori and Jean Miller.

Mrs. George Groft presided at the tea table. In the receiving line with the Sisters of Mercy were Mrs. Edgar Hamilton, club president and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy, club vice president.

A number of gifts were presented to the Sisters.

RURAL SCHOOL IS CLOSED BY NEW POLIO CASE

With the diagnosis Monday evening of the third case of infantile paralysis to appear in two days, Pike school in Huntington township was ordered closed for a week and county and Littlestown borough health authorities worked out details of police control measures in that town where two cases appeared over the week-end.

The new victim is Roland C. Chronister, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chronister, Gardners R. 1, Huntington township. The boy was admitted first to the Hanover hospital last Friday and Monday was moved to the Harrisburg hospital where final diagnosis was made Monday evening.

His case is described as not serious and his physician, Dr. William Flickinger, York Springs, said Tuesday the boy's condition is "very good." The home has been placed under quarantine by William I. Shields, county health officer.

Confined To Borough

Pike's school has been closed until next Monday by order of Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director. The school building is to be cleaned thoroughly.

Doctor Crist and Mr. Shields met Monday evening with Littlestown authorities and restricted persons 18 years of age and under to the limits of the borough. No persons under that age limit may leave the town until next Monday when restrictions go off and the schools will reopen if no new cases appear. Church and Sunday school attendance by all age groups will be permitted there next Sunday, however.

The public grade and high schools and the parochial schools in Littlestown were closed Monday as a polio control measure.

LIST WORKERS FOR CONCERTS

Volunteer Gettysburg workers to sell memberships in the Gettysburg Concert Association were announced Thursday.

These workers, together with those from the county, announced on Wednesday, the board of directors and the members of the executive committee of the association will attend the dinner meeting this evening at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock. The dinner will launch the membership drive.

Police Charge Driver In Two-Car Accident

Approximately $650 damage was done to two cars which collided Saturday evening on the New Oxford-Hanover road just south of the Bethlehem quarries, state police from the local sub-station reported today.

Police said a car driven by Andrew F. Smith, High street, New Oxford, struck the left side of a car driven by Cyril E. Rummel, New Oxford, and forced it off the road and into a tree. Both drivers were injured, neither seriously, although Rummel was treated for a bruised knee and cut head by Dr. Wilbur Miller, of New Oxford.

A charge of driving to the left of the center of the road has been filed against Smith before Justice of the Peace Gerald Orndorff, New Oxford, the state police said.

More Students To Aid In Farm Work

Prof. L. V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville schools, announced Monday that Biglervelle high school and the seventh and eighth grade classes would suspend classes for the remainder of the week following today's session in order to allow students to assist in farm work.

He pointed out that any student employed on work which is not completed until the end of the week may remain out of school next week until the work is completed.

RECREATION CENTER TO BE SET UP AT 'Y'

The operation of a recreational center at the Gettysburg YWCA on Saturday evenings for young people of the community is listed as the chief project of the Girls' work committee of the "Y" which is making plans for fall and winter activities, it was disclosed Thursday by Mrs. A. R. Wentz, president of the YWCA.

The recreational center or "Hang Out" as it probably will be called is expected to be in operation within a few weeks and will be open to boys and girls alike from Gettysburg and this vicinity.

Mrs. John Lenhart, former Girl Reserve secretary, has agreed to give part time service with the Girls' Work committee, which with the help of the Girl Reserve clubs at the "Y," will be in charge of the "Hang Out." The committee is also planning a Halloween party.

New Director

Already approved by the "Y" board of directors, details of the recreation center plan may be laid before the directors at their October meeting to be held next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the association building, center square.

Mrs. Wentz also announced today that Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler has accepted a position on the "Y" board of directors to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Jr. Mrs. Buehler also will take Mrs. McPherson's place as chairman of the board's finance committee which includes Mrs. Howard Fox, Mrs. Wilbur Plank, Mrs. John Pape; Miss Margaret Myers, Mrs. Frank Kramer, Mrs. John Kaltreider, Mrs. Charles S. Black, Mrs. Paul Thomas, Mrs. Marie Ziegler, Mrs. George Zerfing, Miss Verna Kitzmiller, Mrs. G. N. Waters, Miss Etta King, all of Gettysburg; Mrs. Marshall Longanecker, Arendtsville; Mrs. J. Hoke Slaybaugh, Biglerville; Mrs. Ira Henderson, Fairfield, and Mrs. Robert Neely, also of Fairfield.

PILOT SPENDS LEAVE HERE

First Lt. William D. Martin, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, is spending a 24-day leave with Mrs. Martin at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. R. Whitaker, Rainworth Lodge, Gettysburg R. 3, having returned last week to the United States after six months service in England and Europe with the Eighth Army Air Force.

Lieutenant Martin, who was pilot of a "Mustang" pursuit plane based with a fighter group, has credited to him seven enemy planes destroyed and three damaged. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters and in addition he wears three campaign ribbons, including the Pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon with battle star and the African-Italian theater of operations ribbon with battle star. He completed more than 65 fighter, escort, strafing and general missions before returning to the states.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Martin, of Fort Smith, are expected to arrive in Gettysburg this week for a visit. At the conclusion of his leave Lieutenant Martin will report to the Army Air Forces reassignment center at Miami Beach, Florida. His wife expects to accompany him to Miami Beach.

Countians Guests Of P. H. Glatfelter Co.

D. E. Hess, Soil Conservation Service farm forester here, and a number of farmers and woodland owners who have been cutting pulpwood, were among the 130 persons entertained Tuesday at a luncheon meeting by the P. H. Glatfelter company at Spring Grove at the Spring Grove school auditorium. Paul Koenig of the Glatfelter company was chairman of the meeting and P. H. Glatfelter, president of the company, brought greetings.

The principal speaker was K. S. Trowbridge of the American Pulpwood Association of New York. He discussed the handling of pulpwood by the use of mechanized equfpment and showed pictures of logging operations in the south.

After the meeting the group was taken to the company's paper mill where demonstrations were given in the use of mechanized tools including the exploding wedge in the handling of pulpwood.

Moose Lodge May Purchase Building

Officers of the Gettysburg lodge of the Loyal Order of the Moose said today that no decision has been reached by the lodge on the proposal for the purchase of the former Peckman and Ott garage building, adjoining the Moose home on York street.

A vote of the lodge members was taken at a meeting last Thursday but a tabulation showed less than 51 per cent of the members had cast ballots so that the result was of no effect. Lodge officers said future action on the matter has not been decided upon.

First GI Vote From Overseas

Another Adams countian is heard from on foreign shores as Cpl. R. Delroy Keller, 22, Main street, McKnightstown, casts the first Adams county overseas vote in the Panama Coast Artillery Command. At the wheel of a jeep, Cpl. Keller happily waves the ballot which gives him his franchise as a fighting citizen. Normal mail censorship was waived to insure secret choice. It represented a triple initiation: Corporal Keller's first vote, his first participation in a presidential election, and his first absentee ballot. An automotive dispatcher in a headquarters organization, Corporal Keller has served with the Coast Artillery forces in Panama for 20 months. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Keller, reside at the McKnightstown address.

RESUME NIGHT FARM SESSIONS

Night classes for farmers in the Gettysburg section of the county were opened Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the agricultural work shop at Gettysburg high school, it was announced by Elmer H. Schriver, vocational "ag" instructor at the school.

Mr. Schriver will instruct the class in the repair, operation and construction of farm machinery. The course, which will run for at least 20 weeks with three-hour sessions each Tuesday and Thursday evening, is open to all farmers in this area who are interested.

The shop equipment and paint for repair work are being made available by the high school in the state-federal sponsored project. Only the new parts to be used in machine repair work will be furnished by the farmers themselves who may bring pieces of farm machinery and equipment to the workshop for repair.

Similar classes on various agricultural subjects were conducted by Mr. Schriver during the last several winters at the local high school with good attendance. Hundreds of pieces of farm machinery have been built, re-built or repaired. Other courses covered dairy and poultry raisers problems, farm management practices and other related topics.

NAME CONCERT GROUP LEADER

Mrs. F. K. Schwartz, Carlisle street, was elected chairman of the Gettysburg Concert Association membership drive at a meeting of the association's executive committee held at Hotel Gettysburg, last Wednesday evening.

The association's objective is 600 memberships for the series of three concerts to be rendered during the winter season under the direction of the Columbia Concerts, Inc.

Selection of the artists for the respective concerts will be made at the conclusion of the drive.

The membership drive will open today at a dinner meeting for the cancassers to be held at Hotel Gettysburg.

At this meeting materials will be distributed to the drive workers who will begin their canvass the following morning. The drive will continue throughout the next week.

The Gettysburg Concert association was organized five years ago and a creditable series was presented each year with the exception of last year when the association discontinued activities. Demand for the concert series this winter was sufficiently general to warrant the decision of the association to put on a membership drive at this time in anticipation of conducting the series of three concerts this winter.

The concerts will be held in Brua Chapel.

RAILROADER DIES

Pittsburgh, Pa. (AP) — Raymond Swenk, assistant to the general manager of the Pennsylvania railroad's central region died Sunday night in West Penn hospital after an illness of several months. He was with the railroad since 1907.

Miss Doris C. Glenn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Glenn, East Lincoln avenue, has been named as a sports editor for the 1946 Spectrum at Gettysburg college.

CARLISLE LACES MAROON ELEVEN BY 26-0 COUNT

A completely outclassed Gettysburg high school eleven dropped its second game of the season here last Friday evening to Carlisle high in the opening game of the Southern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate conference to the tune of a 26-0 score before a crowd of approximately 1,600 fans.

The visitors broke through for a pair of touchdowns in the second period after threatening several times in the first quarter.

Stopped on the last play of the first period on the 1-foot line, Carlisle came back after the Maroons punted out to the 28 to score. McCoy and Lyter pounded out a first down on the 16 and Lyter went through the line from the 7-yard mark to tally. McCoy place kicked the extra point.

The visitors marched 49 yards for their next score rolling up three straight first downs on some nice running by Lyter and McCoy to reach the 5. The Maroons braced for two plays but Lyter finally bucked over from the 1-foot mark. McCoy's extra point try was wide.

Lyter Runs 52

Gettysburg received the second half kickoff but was soon forced to punt to the visitors' 48. On the first play Lyter shot off right tackle and raced through the entire Maroon team to scamper 52 yards for his third touchdown. He added the extra point on a line plunge.

Streams of Carlisle substitutes began to take the field but Coach Hendrickson's lads were still to score again.

A recovered fumble by Owens on the Maroon 38-yard stripe on the final play of the third period set the stage for the tally. Sparked by Cypress, Carlisle gained a first down on the 27. He picked up nine yards around left end and then shot straight through the center of the line to go the remaining 18 yards for a score. Cypress' placement for the extra point struck an upright.

The Maroons were outcharged and outplayed the entire game. Blocking left much to be desired while the tackling was far from that expected.

Halt, Drive

Coach Dry's outfit put up perhaps their best brand of ball in the first period, twice staving off potential scoring drives by the invaders. Rasmussen recovered a Carlisle fumble on the Maroons' 19 to halt a slashing drive midway in the first period. In the fading minutes of the period the Maroons put up a gallant goal line stand to take the ball on the 1-foot mark after the Green and White had rolled up three straight first downs to reach the 7.

First downs found Carlisle leading 12 to 4, with the Maroons gaining three in the final period against an almost complete second string group.

Gettysburg threw eight passes, completing three while another was intercepted. Carlisle was not credited with a pass attempt, the lone try being smothered before the passer could get off his throw.

Three Kept Out

The Dry-men were forced to play without the services of Dick Epley, Harry Sanders and Joe Hess who are laid up with injuries.

Probably the best defensive work was done by Fred Haehnlen while Moyer and Haehnlen picked up most of the yardage gained from scrimmage.

Saturday Is Last Day To Register

Chief Clerk to the County Commissioners Clarence Smith announced Thursday that the commissioners' office at the court house will be open Friday and Saturday for voter registration from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening.

Those two days will be the last registration periods before the general election November 7, and no registrations can be made after the commissioners' office closes Saturday evening.

Registrations continued at a high level at the court house this week with a total of 103 new cards being signed up to Wednesday afternoon. In new registrations the Republicans continued to lead, listing 51 against 22 Democrats. Three of the registrations were by non-partisans.
